

DELIVERY 25 YEARS AGO!

In the United States Official Postal Guide for February, 1916, We Find the Following:

"If patrons so direct, mail intended for them, however addressed, will be delivered in one way or another through general delivery, or through rented box; otherwise, mail will be delivered as addressed. (See Section 696, P. L. and R.) Bulky packages of parcel post or heavy packages of mail other than first class are not eligible to receive service through the general delivery or boxes and who reside within the delivery limits may be delivered by carrier upon request of the addressee. Postmasters are not required to deliver mail through the general delivery, before or after scheduled carrier trips, to persons whose mail is ordinarily delivered by carrier."

It looks to us upon reading the above ruling, that PAIGE may have their mail come to them in either one of three ways by carrier, general delivery, or rent a box the old fashioned way.

We can easily see how a patron in the resident district can have their mail along with mail delivered one each day, and done immediately after the arrival of the morning's mail, but what will be done with the noon mail, and the night mail, at times equal as great in bulk and numbers as the morning's mail?

That Experimental Free Delivery is coming, and that very soon, is an assured fact, but one delay is the careless, uninterested way our people are of not seeing to the correct numbering of their houses. Start out on every street and you will see odd and even numbers following each other on the same side of the street. You will see even numbers on the left side and odd numbers on the right side, with half an eye. No interest seems to be taken by the house owner. On Woodward Avenue, the C. E. Jones real estate office is numbered 115, right across the street is the Peck Hotel numbered 115, just the same. We can't say that we will get free delivery of mail right off, but we will say that if houses are correctly numbered, it will greatly facilitate the action of the Department at Washington.

The postmaster is working to get a modification of the above ruling that will allow box renters to have their noon and night mail put in their boxes and then, those who wish can call and get such mail as they do now. When the service begins, he hopes to have this request granted which will make everybody pleased with the postal service.

Garrick Theatre.

"Molly O."

The announcement for the Garrick Theatre, Detroit, for the coming week, starting Monday night, is a new opera, entitled "Molly O." The book lyrics by Harry B. and Robert B. Smith and music by Carl Woess. The piece is said to be a conspicuous novelty of the light musical field, inasmuch as its principal characters are women. The ultra-fashionable worlds of this country and the continent and in the two acts in which the operetta is written, fit from the gossamer of a Newport summer season to the alluring night life of Vienna. The brothers Smith have concocted a plot which is sure to hold the interest of an audience at all times. The story revolves around a family of the nouveau riche type who possess a daughter of rare beauty and her betrothal to the son of a poor man. Her popularity with the smart folk of the villa colony at Newport, opens the most exclusive doors to her and her household. In the midst of the whirl of entertainment, she falls in love with a young American, but a friend of her blood from Europe importunes for her and is favored by an ambitious mother struggling to make permanent a temporary footing in the highest social circles. The course, there are many hand characters represented by handsome young women, fetching and modestly brave. The advantage of George Marion's stage direction and two picturesque scenes painted by Robert Law and John H. Young will give a delightful completeness to the production.

Taken With Crowd.

"A few nights ago, one of my patrons, a well-known actor, with whom I writes M. T. Davis, merchant, Beaumont, Va. 'About midnight he came to my store as a buyer of Poley's Honey and Tar Compound. Before morning, the child was entirely recovered. I have many such letters have been written. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

MISS MITCHELL JOINS VON POTTEGEN FORCE

The following from the Detroit Saturday Night, speaks well of a Birmingham girl, who is published in the newspaper. Carrie Elizabeth Mitchell, formerly on the editorial staff of the Detroit Free Press, and more recently engaged in advertising agency work in this city, has joined the copy staff of Carl S. Von Pottegen, advertising counsel. Miss Mitchell will specialize in the handling of local accounts, in which she has had extensive experience. She will be in charge of a department devoted especially to the handling of the business, working in collaboration with G. Murphy who has achieved wide success in this field. On national accounts where the woman's viewpoint is especially important, she will be of special value. Her keen judgment and presence will also be of exceptional value.

Fleetwood "Six-33" $1050 For B. Detroit

Do These Facts Mean Anything To You?

1. During the month of March—which was distinctly a winter month in most sections of the country—the American people bought 1200 Paige "Fairfields" and paid for them one million, five hundred and fifty-four thousand dollars.
2. At the time this advertisement is written, every single dealer in the Paige sales organization has attempted to increase his regular allotment of cars.
3. Many Paige distributors have already sold their entire April allotments of the Fairfield "Six-46," and are now taking special allotments as fast as we can supply them.

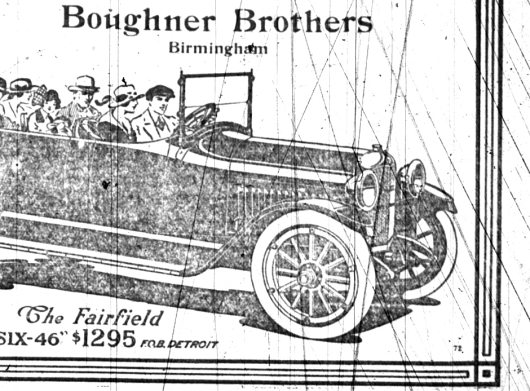

Just read these three paragraphs over again—and discover for yourself the real significance of such overwhelming demand for one motor car.

We don't suggest that you merely "follow the crowd." We don't suggest that you be influenced by any other consideration than your own personal preference.

But we do maintain that there must be an intelligent reason for such nation-wide indorsement of the Paige Fairfield "Six-46." If you want you to discover that reason.

A visit to the Paige dealer will, undoubtedly, put you on the right track. But don't delay too long, please. See this car while "immediate deliveries" are still possible.
