Roman Sandal. Usually the Case.

The sandal worn by the ancient Greeks and Romans consisted, in fact, of a sole kept in place by a strap that passed over the foot and fastened about the ankle. The sandal was not a shoe in the modern sense of the word; the real shoe is much later than the Greek and Roman time.

Who wrote that article on how to support a family of six on ten dollars a week? I, a friend asked Woggles, the editor of the Ladies' Household Friend. "Bingham, one of our best men," said Woggles, without a smile; "my pay him five thousand a year." Louisville Courier-Journal.
