One of the best ever Ladies' Literary entertainments was given Tuesday evening at the first Presbyterian Church, in honor of George Washington. Mrs. Brown, the president, presided in her usual business way. All members answered roll-call with a quotation from some noted lady. Music, both vocal and instrumental, was furnished. Mrs. F. C. Crawford gave a reading that was well received. Prof. Clarence Villet woke up, aroused, and enthused every one present with a regular Washingtonian, patriotic, grandstand, and soul stirring address. We are not patriotic enough. Our flag does not stir our people as it should. Why? He told his hearers why and we most heartily agree. He thought United States patriotism was at a low ebb when the President of this great nation must go from city to city to arouse our people on patriotism and love of country. He thought every one should have a love of country, patriotism in his heart, and a love of vote one year of his school life to a military training in order to be "prepared" to defend his country against any invasion that possibly may come to us. We know the Professor is right. It is monthly meeting of the Ladies' Literary make a record that the ladies may well be proud to remember.

ARM OF THE LAW

BABY AND AIDS STAY

Crowd Wins Parole

Kansas City, Mo.—A pair of baby hands reached out and saved the arm of the law just before it thrust Arthur Beeson into the penitentiary for three years. The hands belonged to Baby Beeson, aged eighteen months, who sat upon his mother's lap during the trial of his father.

One Look at BRIDE ENOUGH

Riley Had Corresponded, but Fled When He Saw Nevada Woman Get Off Train.

Kansas City.—When Timothy Riley, farmer, got one look at his bride-to-be, the romance was "busted." Riley drove his brand new farm wagon up in front of the Union station, hitched the team and then stood guard at the exit door.

He wore a red rament, by which sign the bride-to-be was to know him, all the love-making having been done by mail. The bride, who was to have come from Nevada, was to wear a Palm Beach suit.

A few moments later a Palm Beach suit, garnished with numerous bows and buttons, here in sight. Riley got one look, snatched the carnation from his buttonhole and fled. The bride-to-be appeared to be fully twenty years older than he, which probably was the excuse for his hasty flight.

Leg Burned as He Slept.

Antion, Wis.—Harry Borkers fell asleep in a chair near the stove in the Martin livery. One leg was so near the fire that it became ignited as he slept. It was partly consumed before he awoke, but he was unable to get up at water and extinguished the flame. The leg was of wood.

Rivers' Sources Differ.

The springs of the Missouri, which proceed southeast to the Gulf of Mexico, and those of the Columbia, which flow northwestward, are not far apart, while those of some of the tributaries of the Amazon, flowing north and the La Plata, flowing south, are clear continents.
