

WELDING! BRAZING! CUTTING!

Broken machinery repaired, parts of all kinds repaired by Oxy-Acetylene Process.
DETROIT SAW & BRAZING WORKS.

12 West Atwater Street, Detroit, Mich.

Magneto Repairing

STARTING, LIGHTING AND IGNITION
Guaranteed work at prices you'll be paid to pay.
24-hour Out-of-Town Service
DETROIT MAGNETO EXCHANGE

97 West Adams, Detroit.
Members Michigan Garage Owners' Association

USED FORDS

When in the city come and see our fine selection of real good used cars.
Roadster from $100 to $250.00.
Deliveries from $200.00 to $275.00.
Touring Cars 1915, 1914, 1915, from $200.00 to $350.

We have only the best ones.

Don't forget the number.

SCOTT - THE FORD MAN

815 WOODWARD AVENUE, Lower Floor, Detroit, Mich.

Used Cars

WE SELL FOR YOU OR TO YOU

And every time we make a sale we satisfy 2 people, the buyer, the seller and ourselves.

Just drive your car in if you want quick action. We demonstrate, sell and hand you the money.

Now is the Time to Buy

And here is Detroit's Reliable Used Car Auto-Exchange. Any standard make—every car guaranteed.

Detroit Auto Exchange

17 Willis Ave., A Few Steps West of Woodward Ave., Detroit.

We will save you hundreds of dollars on used cars.

See Our New Display Room For USED CARS

THE GREATEST USED CAR SHOW IN DETROIT

$875

Page 42 seven-passenger touring car, in good condition; upholstered in light green cloth, with wood paneling, and leather top; has especially good mechanical order.

$250

1915 Saxon Roadster, five passenger, in good condition; has a full equipment, including a radio, heater, etc.; leather top; has especially good mechanical order.

$475

Studebaker touring 6; 5 passenger, in good condition; leather top; has especially good mechanical order.

$395

Studebaker touring 6; 5 passenger, in good condition; leather top; has especially good mechanical order.

$275

Kent touring, John Deere, in good condition; leather top; has especially good mechanical order.

$495

Cole touring car, Napa leather top; has especially good mechanical order.

$500

Studebaker Coupe, newly painted and overhauled; has a radio, heater, and lighting; absolutely perfect in every way; painted special colors; leather top; has especially good mechanical order.

$300

Studebaker Coupe, one of the most powerful four cylinder cars ever made; well equipped and especially good; leather top; has especially good mechanical order.

$695

Hudson 6-54 touring, five passenger, in good condition; leather top; has especially good mechanical order.

$395

Hudson 6-54 touring, five passenger, in good condition; leather top; has especially good mechanical order.

$275

And Twenty Others
Come Early for Best Selection
Prices From $100 Up.

WETMORE-QUINN CO.

27 JEFFERSON AVE., DETROIT.

Between Brush and Beaubien Sts. Cadillac 366.

P. S.—We are distributors for Paige and Saxon cars—possibly your territory is unoccupied. Write us regarding agency if interested.

IS YOUR DAUGHTER

to be married in June? If so, you surely do not want to wait until the last minute to place your order for those engraved invitations or announcements. Send us your order now and avoid all worry about getting them on time. We maintain one of the most complete engraving plants in the country and you can rest assured the work will be of the highest quality and in good form.

Phone Main 5246.

GREGORY MAYER & THOM CO.

STATIONERY—PRINTING—BLANK BOOKS
LOOSE LEAF DEVICES—OFFICE FURNITURE
CADILLAC SQUARE, DETROIT, MICH.

Happenings of the World Tensely Told

Mexican Revolt

President Wilson will be asked from Mexico unless Villa has been captured or killed. Notification to this effect has been given to the Carranza government through General Scott El Paso and Juarez.

Miss Hugh F. Scott and Frederick Funston met Gen. Alvaro Obregon, in the customhouse in Juarez. The meeting was the formal preliminary to the opening of the International conference with the right of the United States troops to continue the pursuit of Villa and his bandits in Mexico to be settled.

Minister of War Alvaro Obregon said that American troops would be sent to Mexico to assist in the conference with the heads of the United States army. General Obregon stated at Juarez that he will make these representations to Generals Scott and Funston.

Four Mexican prisoners, a doctor and Grandes are reported in a dispatch to Columbus, N. M., to have been killed by American sentries on attempting to escape.

Gen. Agustine Castro, governor of the state of Oaxaca, has been recalled to Mexico City. April 24 a large force of insurgents surrounded the capital and delivered an attack. After terrorizing the rebels were repulsed, leaving 500 dead.

Additional news recommended to the house naval affairs committee at Washington that a building program be adopted which will put the American navy in second place within three years. This recommendation will be formal communication from the admiral containing the report of the navy general board.

Substantial agreement with the Senate on the proposed naval bill was reached by the Senate naval committee on the military bill at Washington. A regular army of 180,000 men plus peacetime strength has practically been agreed upon by the conferees. It provides $230,000,000 more than was strength.

Additional news recommended to the house naval affairs committee at Washington that a building program be adopted which will put the American navy in second place within three years. This recommendation will be formal communication from the admiral containing the report of the navy general board.

Submarine warfare upon commerce was denounced by an array of prominent jurists before the American Society of International Law at Washington.

An envelope containing $5,000 addressed to the "Conscience fund" was received at the treasury department at Washington. No word of explanation accompanied the money.

Secretary Lansing announced at Washington that the United States had sent another note to Great Britain demanding the release of the 35 Aussrians, Germans and Turks taken by the submarine U-boat off the coast of China.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.

The submarine L-5, built for the United States government, was launched at the yards of the Lake Torpedo Boat company at Bridgeport, Conn.

Capt. Max Lyster Loudon, at one time hunted by the federal authorities as a member of German spy, is in a statement to the assistant district attorney at New York outlined the details of a proposed invasion of Canada by a German army recruited in the United States.