ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WEAK?

Thousands of Men and Women Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

Nature warns you when the track of health is not clear. Kidney bladder troubles cause many annoying symptoms and great inconvenience both day and night.

Unhealthy kidneys may cause lumbago, rheumatism, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints or muscles, at times have headache or indigestion, at times you may have a slow complexion, puffiness or dark circles under the eyes, sometimes feel as though you had heart trouble, may have plenty of ambition but no strength, get weak and lose flesh.

If such conditions are permitted to continue, serious results may be expected; Kidney Trouble in its very worst form may steal upon you.

Prevalency of Kidney Diseases. Most people do not realize the alarm.

SPECIAL NOTE—You may obtain a sample size bottle of Swamp-Root by enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. ### TOLD HER STORY IN FULL

Impossible to Stop Colored Woman Once She Had Begun to Relate Tale of Trouble.

Adequate proof of the traditional volubility of women was given in a Justice of the peace court the other day. A colored woman was on trial on a charge of provoking assault. After listening impatiently to the testimony of another witness, she took the stand and, turning to Justice Kiefer, declared:

"Now, look here, Judge, let me tell you all the way this here thing happened."

Then began an actual flow of speech. Nothing could stop her. Justice Kiefer pounded and the deputies shuffled, but to no avail. On and on she talked—about everything—passing out and emphasizing her remarks in a more forcible manner. At the end of 15 minutes she ceased. Her breath was exhausted. In the doorway was an astonished group of onlookers from surrounding offices.

"Who thought you had installed a phonograph, son-of-a-bitch, one of them said."

His Efficacious Way.

Judith Spratt of Peoria was telling of the style prevailing at his cousin's house in Kansas City. "Why, darn it, darn it, they sit dinner at six o'clock at night," said he. "And at every place there were six folks and six o'clock."

"Gee!" chuckled his younger brother. "How'd you know which one to use?"

"Ho!" That didn't bother me none. I just grabbed my knife and sailed right in."—Kansas City Star.

Dependent on Circumstances.

"Are you an optimist?"

"I am. When I see a man without an umbrella in a rainstorm I can always say, 'Never mind the weather; he provided I have an umbrella myself.'"

Man's renowned forest has been heavily overcut. The government is now protecting them.

Their Care and Cultivation

CONSIDER THE LILIES

By L. M. BENNINGTON.

The time has come for the annual shipments of Japanese and European lilies to reach America, and some thought must be given by prospective producers to the things that must be done in order to get results from these pretty and valuable plants.

In the first place, the amateur should be reminded—it is not necessary to sell the trained professional—that this big garden has many degrees of climate. In many sections of the land the ground will be frozen before the bulbs can be received, much less planted.

A little forehanding precaution will serve to avoid the trouble that the cold brings. Mature, old bulbs, or any other sort of recognized covering which will protect the ground where the bulbs are to be planted, will act as a reception committee and keep the ground ready to receive the bulbs.

After December 1 it is generally unnecessary to defer the planting until spring, but there are many sections where such delay is not at all necessary.

Among the late imports that are listed among the lily importers are the white lily of Japan, or Lillium Auratum, Virginia Album. It has extremely very large, rounded and deep, bell-shaped, pure white flowers, which assume a sulphur-yellow band through each petal. The Lillium Auratum lily also has immense flowers, and is very tall and free of bloom. The color is creamy white, with a yellow band to afford relief.

The variety listed for this season is so great that it would take a wealth of detail to tell all about the beautiful flowers. And while speaking of lilies, I am reminded of the value of the Chinese type. From a couple of plain little cuttings that were picked up in a dingy little store in New York's Chinatown, a New York woman has a most attractive house ornament.

The sprouts were simply put in a jar of water and placed over the mantle and nature did the rest. The lilies have sprouted and flourished indoors with out the slightest care, save for the occasional renewal of the water, and the long, green shoots give a refreshing relief to the room where they are now persistently adding to their beauty.

THE GARDENER'S NOTEBOOK

Plant anemones in October or November. Place six roots in a six-inch pot, or pull pan, and cover them one inch. They may be kept in a cellar or cold frame protected from frost until spring when they may be placed in the window to bloom.

If sweet peas are wanted during January, February and March, they should be planted about the middle of October; if wanted for Easter, about the first of December. A temperature of from 40 to 45 degrees at night and ten degrees higher in the daytime is considered best. When the plants are in full bloom frost.

Hyacinths for early use may be planted in October and kept in a greenhouse or coldframe or cellar above freezing until it is desired to force them into bloom. Plenty of manure water and as much light as possible will give the foliage and the flower spikes. If after they show above the foliage are shaded from the sun the bulbs will last much longer.

It is important in the pot culture of lilies to have rich, light soil.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

MEADOW MOUSE AND MOLE.

"The Meadow Mouse and the Mole," said Daddy, "had become very good Friends. They both lived near each other in the Field, and they used to visit each other in their Holes under the ground."

"What do you think of the Food this year?" asked Mr. Meadow Mouse, just as if he were staying at a Hotel and wanted things the way he asked for them.

"Well, I think it's pretty good," said Mr. Mole. "The Farmer planted all the things I liked best this year, and so I've had a very good year."

"I heard the other day, while I was taking a Nap in my Hole—"

"Mr. Mole," said Mr. Meadow Mouse, "I don't know if you were Asleep?" asked Mr. Mole.

"Mr. Meadow Mouse laughed in his little, funny, squeaking voice.

"Well, I was. I was pretending to be Asleep. But the truth must be told, I was ready to run away if the Farmer saw me, and I was also listening to every word he was saying."

"What was he saying?" asked Mr. Mole.

"He said," continued Mr. Meadow Mouse, "that he was being very much bothered by the Meadow Mouse Family and the Mole Family."

"The very idea!" said Mr. Mole. "He should be flattered that we like his things." Yes, and "pious, too! Don't you agree with me, Mr. Mouse?"

"Well, I can't quite say that I do agree with you," said Mr. Meadow Mouse. "But I do agree with you, because I have to have Cakes and Plums in my Hole."

"Now, that's true," said Mr. Mole. "I don't think you should do that?" asked Mr. Meadow Mouse.

"I'm sure I don't know," said Mr. Mole.

"Just then I heard a sound," said Mr. Meadow Mouse.

"What was it, do you suppose?"

"And the sound came clearer and clearer and this was what the Voice said:—"

"I advise you not to stay. You had better Move off."

"He may chop your Heads off with the scythe!"

"Oh, what could that have been?" asked Mr. Meadow Mouse, and the Voice went on:—

"I cannot be seen. For I'm the Fairy Queen."

"Well, if that's so," said Mr. Mole, "I'd better do as she says, and Move off."

"I don't understand you to say," said the Fairy Queen, "that at the principal witness, that upon hearing a noise in the hall you rose quickly, lit a candle and went to the head of the stairs, and you did not see me."

"Must I tell the truth?" stammered the witness, blushing to the roots of his hair.

"The whole truth," was the stern reply.

"I'm sorry," replied the witness, brushing aside his damp, clinging locks and wiping the perspiration from his clammy brow, "my wife was in front of me."

Credit.

A rich nabob, ambitious to be known as a good fellow, gave a feast which cost a thousand dollars a plate.

"What wicked, wanton waste!" exclaimed the world.

Another nabob, thirsting for glory, went to war.

"The brutal, bloody butcher," the world protested.

A third nabob, desiring only to do what was right, bestowed his riches in alms.

"He makes paupers!" sniffed the world.

The second nabob, after being despised by the world and written to the credit of each of the nabobs:—

"He kept his money in circulation."

"We'll Go to the Next Meadow."

"I would I hate to have my Head chopped off."

"So would I," said Mr. Mole. "I'll get my Family, and you get yours together. And we'll go to the next Meadow. There are good Seeds of Grain and other nice things over there. And I believe there are many other Meadows in the Field."

"How do you know?" asked Mr. Meadow Mouse.

"Listen, and you will hear!" replied Mr. Mole.

"And again they heard the Voice:—

"There are Gardens for you to try, in the Meadow just nearby. Better hurry up and go. Before the Farmer starts to Mow."

"Pretty soon Mr. Meadow Mouse and Mr. Mole were off for the next Meadow, and all their Children with them. Mr. Meadow Mouse and Mr. Mole didn't care about Moving, but when they were told that their Heads would be chopped off if they didn't, they hurried away."

"And when they got to the next Meadow, they began to burrow in the ground and dig it up with their little noses. Especially good for such work was Mr. Mole and his children all copied him, and wrote a great help.

"Ah, now we're safe," said Mr. Mole. "Yes, and because of the Fairy Queen," said Mr. Meadow Mouse, "I don't care about Moving, but when they were told that their Heads would be chopped off if they didn't, they hurried away."

Emptying the Cows.

Dick, age four, while paying his first visit to his grandfather's farm, entered the barn and watching the men do the milking, one evening copied him, and wrote a great help.

"What's happened?"

"Cause it rips just a little," answered Dick, "my in-lawer won't let me do it. He says it's not Jim an' Henry empty the cows."

Reason for Interest.

"Tommy," interested in you, said, "said Tommy."

"How's that, my boy?" inquired the startled parent.

"Well, since today she told me to sit down and behave myself, she said she wondered what kind of a father I had."

Phenny Fortune.

"My wife placed a great trick on a gypsy the other day."

The fat plumber was the speaker.

"What did she do?" asked the thin carpenter.

"The gypsy wanted to tell her fortune with some coffee grounds."

"Yes."

"And after she was through my wife asked her if the coffee grounds possessed some peculiar charms for fortune telling."

"What did the gypsy say?"

"She said they did."

"Then what?"

"Then my wife gave her the laugh and refused to pay her."

"Why?"

"Because the sediment in the cup wasn't coffee grounds at all. We use a substitute."—Youngstown Telegram.

Health for Sick Women

For Forty Years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has Been Woman's Most Reliable Medicine

—Here is More Proof.

To women who are suffering from some form of woman's special ills, and have a constant fear of breaking down, the three following letters ought to bring hope:—

North Crandon, Wis.—"When I was 16 years old I got married and at 18 years I gave birth to twins and it left me with very poor health. I could not walk across the floor without having to sit down to rest and I was afraid for the 100 to keep house and to do my work. I went to a doctor and he told me I had a displacement and ulcers, and would have to have an operation. This frightened me so much that I did not know what to do. I had heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I thought I would give it a trial and it made me as well as ever. I never saw a doctor again. I have used the Pinkham remedies."—Mrs. MAYBE AMSON, North Crandon, Wis.

Testimony from Oklahoma.

Lavton, Okla.—"When I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I seemed to be good for nothing. I had had headaches much of the time and was irritable. I had a very young child was born and it did me a wonderful amount of good. I never saw a doctor again. I have used the Pinkham remedies."—Mrs. A. J. McCABE, 500 State St., Lawton, Okla.

From a Grateful Massachusetts Woman.

Roxbury, Mass.—"I was suffering from inflammation and was examined by a physician who found that my trouble was caused by a displacement. My symptoms were bearing down, pains backache, and sluggish liver. I tried several different medicines; then I was asked to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has cured me and I am pleased to be in my usual good health by using it as well as ever. I cannot say enough in praise of the Pinkham remedies."—Mrs. R. M. OSBORN, 1 Haynes Park, Roxbury, Mass.
