

HUSBANDS OBJECT TO OPERATION

Wife Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Des Moines, Iowa.—"Four years ago I was very sick and my life was nearly spent. The doctors stated that I would never get well without an operation and that without it I would live one year. My husband objected to my operation and got me some of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and commenced to get better and am now well, am stout and able to do my own housework. I can recommend the Vegetable Compound to any woman who is sick and run down as a wonderful strength and health restorer. My husband says I would have been in my grave ere this if it had not been for your Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. BLANCH JEFFERSON, 303 Lyon St., Des Moines, Iowa.

Before submitting to a surgical operation it is wise to try to build up the female system and cure its derangements with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; it has saved many women from surgical operations.

The Anticlimax.

The revival meeting was tense in its interest, and the evangelist was waxing eloquent. He arraigned the laxness of the church people and present-day evils in general, and everyone was to be attracted to the growing uneasiness of two lads on the front seat.

With the question, "What's the matter?" pronounced in tones of thunder, the preacher roared his wrath.

The two boys had risen and were hearing the preacher's question, wheeled and said: "Aw, got the noesied."—The Christian Herald.

300 Hitters

"You can't get no base hits with your bat on your shoulder."

That's what Lord Byron told Larry Doyle when that "son of a gun" protested loudly and long as the umpire waved him out on a third strike that cut the plate.

Whether you're standing in the batter's box or behind a counter, or sitting at a desk, working at a machine—"you can't get no base hits with your bat on your shoulder." You have to swing at the good ones and hit 'em on the nose.

And it's the ones that go SAFE that count. The

PONY'S GREAT EDUCATOR FOR CHILDREN

ENCOURAGING BOYS TO STAY ON FARM.

No doubt as long as there are children there will be a demand for the fine Shetland pony. The children's eyes appreciate the Shetland for its sturdy qualities as well as for its beauty and diminutiveness, but the children take to it largely because of its attractiveness.

And a Shetland certainly is a shapely creature, and with other strong points of beauty. Its eyes, its white face, its tawny mane and general tail, as well as its stature set it apart from the common herd. No wonder a child falls in love at first sight with such a pet, and no wonder that attachment grows with extended acquaintance. For as a rule, a Shetland child falls in love at first sight with such a pet, and no wonder that attachment grows with extended acquaintance. For as a rule, a Shetland child falls in love at first sight with such a pet, and no wonder that attachment grows with extended acquaintance.

An experienced importer and breeder bears this witness concerning the character of the pony in its native lair. "The Shetland is the most remarkable of all ponies for his good temper. No doubt his environment has much to do with it, but the association tends to aid in the general development of the child. Practicing Beauty and Bonnie.

With the Shetland the small child can sit astride, and with confidence and courage here at, aimed serving well in later horsemanhood—later in life, too, perhaps. A splendid opportunity for the child, since being ridden a pony at the tender age of four, one of various illustrations coming under my observation that a person who early becomes familiar with the pony is more likely to continue his interest in the animal.

SIRE IS IMPORTANT IN THE DAIRY HERD

Bull May Transmit His Qualities to Each of His Calves—Essential Qualifications.

The title saying, "the bull is half the herd" is not a mere truism. The bull either increases or decreases the milking qualities of his stock; in other words, the bull either makes the herd profitable or unprofitable. The bull is more important than the cow, each cow can influence one calf each season. The bull can transmit his qualities, good or bad, to each of his calves.

NOTICE TREES THAT ARE SMALL BEARERS

Highly Desirable That Grower Should Become Familiar With All Trees In Orchard.

Notice the fruit trees carefully. See that tree bears heavily, ripens on time and matures a high-grade of fruit. Notice the trees that are shy bearers, the tender trees susceptible to disease and insect injury.

MOWING MACHINES FOR PEAS

By Using Harrow on Land It Can Easily Be Put in Good Condition for the Mower.

Harrows should be used in mowing peas they must be cut with a mower. Mowing machines run between the rows, and a harrow on the land it can easily be put in good condition for the mower. In cutting peas on rough land it is better to use the driver, the mower and the stock.

Exercise Is Necessary.

Exercise is a necessity for the proper growth of pigs. Keep the pigs growing every minute; any check in growth cuts the profits short.
