Our Chautauque course is now on in full blast and this season is the one that surpasses all former efforts in the entertainment line in Birmingham. The Redpath Managers have sent talented entertainers and our people show their appreciation of it by a liberal patronage. We have five days of beautifully billed August 27-28-29-30 and 31. White Hussars in two grand concerts. The Great Reno in magic mystery and illusions. Circus day in Fairyland, Wrestling Gyroscop and How to rail, music and reading, and all handled by first class artists. The first evening entertainment was a lecture by Dr. Charles Y. Baylis, and this is the first real genuine patriotic lecture we've had since the Civil war. He gave our people the correct standing of the national flag toward the whole world. He told why we must help Germany and held his hearers spell-bound for hours. The big tent was packed to capacity. Both afternoon and evening entertainments are to be equally as successful or rather to outdo them.
The season at Lake Orion ends with a Jubilee and Labor Day Barbecue starting September 1, and promises to be a notable affair. The season at this popular resort started Decoration Day and had continued cold and rainy weather until July 20 which interfered with business materially—with nice warm weather, everything changed and the season as a whole broke all records. The bathing beach did three times the business of former years, the boats of the Lake Orion Navigation Company were crowded early and late, many moonlight parties enjoying the trip around the 21 islands. Possibly the most successful place was the mammoth pavilion where thousands of people danced to the music of Logan's orchestra every night. The riding and chessra evenings had a share of profit and the concessionaires did unusually well during the last half of the season which goes to prove that Lake Orion is one of the coming great resorts of this country. The center is so well pleased with the seasons result that he is planning bigger things for the future in buildings, and amusements with special attention to landscape gardening and beautifying Park Island and many other improvements to hotels and cottages on the 21 islands.
