Political Announcement.

THE JUDGESHIP.

Judge Rockwell is now a candidate for Circuit Judge. Not by any act of mine shall the campaign against him take the course it did last fall. We have been personal friends and hope to remain so.

The fact that I have held the office 21 years is a legitimate matter for me by his friends. So also the voters are entitled to the following statement of facts as to his candidacy.

There are five Republican lawyers here who have become of sufficient age and experience to be considered in connection with the office, and who have friends who would be pleased to see them occupy it, viz.: Messrs. Rockwell, Moore, Covert, Doty and Stockwell, though Justice Stockwell might prefer to contest with Mr. Fredenburgh for Judge of Probate. The others all have an good a knowledge of the law as Judge Rockwell and are as well qualified otherwise, but are not so skilled in politics.

All except Judge Rockwell generously were willing I should have the nomination without a contest and signed my petition. Some of the Democrat lawyers offered to urge their party to make no nomination. While I think I could easily do the work for the full term of six years, I have voluntarily promised, if elected, to resign on or before July 1, 1920, thus giving me 2½ years of the term and leaving each of the above a chance at the other 3½ years. I have now made and do now make that promise as binding as language can make it. I would write the resignation now if it could be made legal in advance of taking the office.

I do this for two reasons.

1. It is but fair for the above named lawyers. It leaves them to contest with each other at the August Primary of 1920, and upon equal terms.

2. I will then be 70 years old and do not wish either to hold Court or to practice law after that time. Everyone well acquainted with me knows the above promise will be kept, and it seems eminently fair to Judge Rockwell. His term as Judge of Probate would expire December 31, 1920, and if he wins from his competitors he would take the office of Circuit Judge the next day, January 1, 1921. No other lawyer of his age who has lived in this county has received so great honors and emoluments of office. He is but 48.

Why then does he refuse me the privilege of rounding out my service by two years additional and leave me to "browse for a living" while he takes his course of two offices? The answer is easy. He not only will have 2½ years salary but will have avoided competing in 1920. For if he wins now he has shut out all others for six years, probably for 12 years. And he will win unless my friends around the county vote March 7.

I am alone without the patronage, while the patronage of the Probate office is very great from the appointment of administrators, appraisers and commissioners, and the award of Probate printing. Then Judge Rockwell has at the head of the most powerful political combination in the county. Besides himself there are M. Frederick Probate Clerk, his former partner as associate; Pol ing Attorney Gillespie; his cousin, Floyd Blakeslee, Assistant Prosecuting Attorney; and another cousin, James E. Blakeslee, as Circuit Court Commissioner, and now proposes to annex a Circuit Judgeship if we give but two offices in the line of a lawyer's work for all the other members of the bar; the Register of Deeds, Circuit Court Commissioner and Justice of the Peace's office.

If there are any Republicans who intend to punish me for my political action in 1912, allow me to say you will punish some of your friends more. All the above named lawyers were very active supporters of President Taft. Senator Covert was then Chairman of the County Committee and Frank D. Ty was the Secretary. Mr. Moore had charge of speeches under the State Central Committee. They are entitled to this consideration and opportunity as is Judge Rockwell. I am proposing, if elected, and binding myself to give them the same.
