Always a Handful.
Statistics show that triplets are much rarer than twins, as the latter often repeat in the same family. This newly available Hoyle's oft-quoted statement that three of a kind beat two pair.

Another Cavity.
"Mamma," said small Bigger, "when sister Nettie had the toothache you took her to the dentist and had her teeth filled, didn't you?" "Yes, Edger," she replied. "Well," continued the small diplomat, "I've got the stomachache, don't you think you'd better take me to the candy store and get it filled?"

Official: Haircut.
The doctor was banking his calls in the hospital and was dressed in an operating gown. Ruth was recovering from an operation, and upon her mother's arrival to visit her she asked if the doctor had seen her that day. "Oh, yes, mother," replied Ruth, "and he came in his car with a suit."

What Well Dressed Women Will Wear

Among the latest efforts of a talented designer, whose products make place for themselves all over this country, appears this handsome afternoon dress. It almost goes without saying that it is of crepe georgette—although it might be of voile or of net. But georgette has become a habit and we have to compel ourselves to think twice in order to consider any other fabric for the light frocks of midsummer.

Even when another material is to be used it borrows something from the merits of georgette and is made up in combination with this lovely fabric. Silk, satin and wool are all used in fort in tribute to the glories of summer. For August they presage its passing with plainer headwear in white and black, in light colored, trimmed felts and in new inspirations of similar character that may come to them. But to midsummer belong the loveliest and most alluring harmonies that are ever translated into headwear, the dreams of artists come true.

Here are two new arrivals in picturesque hats that remind us of picture days. One of them is of black milanes, with a double crown and a wide, downing brim. Just how the outside crown is shaped so smoothly is a secret of the milliner. It is bulky but light, and beautiful with a border of narrow muslin braid about it in the natural color of the straw. The same braid is laid in Greek key design about the upper brim and used for a finish at the brim edge. A border, called a "drop" of milanes, extends about the brim edge. Its name betrays that it is worn turned down, sometimes, veiling the eyes in a way altogether alluring. Small flowers and leaves in linen color, matching the straw braid, are placed in a wreath about the crown, and little bunches of silk-covered grapes, in the colors of the ripened or ripening fruit, are set in the wreath.

A wide milane, in the yellow shade called "sunbeam," is pictured in the graceful shawl with sweeping brimlines that are much wider at the sides than in the front and back. Three flat brims—two loops and one end to a loop—provide all the trimming needed on this unusual design. One is in brown, one in hatter blue, and one in old rose, all of satin ribbon four society is going in for common sense and economy in matters of dress. In order to look the part of devoted patriots, the homemade dress is about to be placed a notch higher than the manufactured dress, and it belongs there.

Midsummer millinery, in dress hats, is the swain's asset of design, for for the season's first final and supreme effect.

A Coat of Ribbon.
A sports coat made of ribbon is quite a novelty. Bayadere striped ribbon is used; that is, ribbon with cross-wise stripes in the ruffle or rasi color, on a pale yellow ground. The strips of ribbon are stitched together, each successive stripe exactly matched to the other, so that the coat appears to have stripes running all the way around in body and sleeve, while collar, pockets and cuffs have a reversed effect. A white silk parasol is trimmed with applied stripes of the ribbon.

and there is a ribbon rufficle to match the coat and parasol, and a band of ribbon adorns a wide-brimmed straw hat.

Development of Wireless.
Experiments have been made in Sweden, with a form of wireless transmission and reception enabling an aviator in flight to have communication with the earth; other experiments have been made with a contrivance which is believed to be able to direct the course of torpedoes from airplanes.

PAIGE

The Most Beautiful Car in America

July 15th—On This Date Paige Prices Will Be Advanced

We have formally announced that the list price of every car in the Paige line will be very substantially increased on July 15th.

We have explained that this step is unavoidable because of the steadily advancing costs of manufacturing materials, labor and all elements entering into the production of a quality product.

In making this advance announcement, we feel that we have done complete justice to the many hundreds of people who have been planning to purchase one of our cars. They now know definitely when the increased prices are scheduled to take effect, and will be guided accordingly.

There is one very important point, though, that we would like to emphasize at this time.

Owing to the scarcity of materials, our production between now and July 15th will necessarily be limited. We are doing all that we possibly can to keep step with public demand, but it is a foregone conclusion that there will not be enough Paiges to go round.

As a last thought in regard to this matter of price, please remember that the Paige has long since demonstrated its independence of all "price fads." American men and women now buy a Paige—not because of the price tag which is attached to it—but because of its well established reputation as a fine mechanical product.

The Penalty for a Good Reputation

When an article has been on the market for years and has given complete satisfaction, when used in thousands of homes it creates for itself a valuable reputation, yet at the same time this good reputation has its penalty.

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound enjoys a splendid reputation, for it has been used for three generations. Its fair name and high repute have created a demand that it is difficult to supply. This demand at a greater profit incentive and substitutes are offered.

Purchasers who know the original cannot be fooled by any "just as good" copy and so it is the original effort of any one who wants a reliable remedy for sore throat, cough, croup, who should get the original, reliable for the relief of cough, croup, croup and whooping cough.
