Charles M. Cross

For Sheriff at Primaries Aug. 27, 1918

Looking Backward

Under my administration of the office of Sheriff for the past nine months we have:

1. Handled over 2,000 cases and collected thousands of dollars in fines and costs for the county.

2. Assisted in solving many old crimes, including three murder cases.

3. Organized a systematic system of patrol of county roads by Deputy-Sheriffs, to check violations of motor vehicle law.

Looking Forward

If nominated and elected Sheriff of Oakland county, it will be my ambition:

First—To secure the office by a clean campaign, based upon my past record.

Second—To enter upon the duties of the office unhampered by any pre-election promises and uncontrolled by any faction or organization.

Third—To honestly and impartially continue to enforce the laws of this State and discharge the duties of the office without fear and without prejudice.

Upon this statement I respectfully solicit your support at the Primary Election.

CHARLES M. CROSS,
SHERIFF.

J. Watterson, of Highland Park, Mrs. Adam Gray and daughter pleaded guilty recently in Justice Jossie are spending a week at Battle Virgil Lockrow's court to a charge of Creek where they will visit with speeding and paid $10 fine and $3.95 Sergeant-Major J. P. Gray, of Camp costs. Custer.

ARE YOU 21?

All male persons, citizens of the United States, and all male persons residing in the United States, who have, since the 5th day of June, 1918, and on or before the day set for registration by the President's proclamation, attained the age of 21 years, must register.

Those in this district must register at the office of the Mellen-Wright Lumber company, on Saturday, Aug. 24. Do not fail, as you will be classed as a slacker, and all kinds of trouble will chase you.

The Man Who Should Be Senator.

At the approaching primary election, Michigan is to select party candidates for a United States senatorship. The voters of the state in going about this business ought to give their first consideration and their last consideration to the question of fitness. They should ask who among those that aspire is most likely to become a constructive factor in the upper house through development of the qualities of statesmanship?

Considering the matter from this viewpoint of efficiency and service, it seems to The Free Press that the most promising of all the candidates in the field, indeed the only promising candidate in the field, is Truman H. Newberry, aspirant for the Republican nomination and at present serving his country in the navy of the United States with the rank of commander.

Mr. Newberry has the temperament and the experience which make the foundations of good senatorial service. He has a varied and sound knowledge of practical business. He possesses clear conceptions of the big economic issues and problems of the country. He has intelligent ideas on the theory of American government. He recognizes and respects the place of party and party alignment and party tradition in our political system.

Mr. Newberry also knows something about Washington, and the demands and ramifications of official life there, for he spent some years of public service in the national capital, first as assistant secretary of the navy and later as secretary of the navy. This experience alone would make him valuable in the upper house of congress at the present moment. Mr. Newberry will not be a spectacular senator if he is selected by the people of Michigan to represent them. He will lack visionary fads. He never has lifted out a peace ship. On the contrary, he was one of the organizers of the Michigan State Naval brigade, he served in the United States fleet throughout the Spanish-American war, as he and his two sons are serving in the present war, and he has been a persistent believer in national preparedness. He is an orthodox, thorough-going American.

Nor will Mr. Newberry be a specialist in fantastic figures of speech and extravagant rhetoric. Michigan need never expect to hear that he has been responsible for any wierd oratorical display.

But Mr. Newberry will, if given the opportunity, make a cheerful, conscientious, business-like, efficient and, we believe, able senator who will command the respect and confidence of his colleagues and have influence with them. He will represent his state honorably and creditably, and he will give his country valuable service.—Detroit Free Press.

ORDINANCE NO. 79.

An ordinance relative to the harboring of or the running at large of dogs in the Village of Birmingham, Michigan, and the licensing thereof, and providing punishment therefor.

The Village of Birmingham ordains:

Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person owning, possessing or harboring any dog to suffer or permit the same to run at large in any street, alley, square, commons, or other public space in the Village of Birmingham, or to keep, have or harbor any dog at any place in the Village of Birmingham, without first having obtained a license therefor from the Village Clerk, and complied with the provisions hereinafter set forth.

Section 2. Upon application filed with the license collector, who shall be the Clerk, giving the full name and residence of the applicant, the President shall cause to be issued by such collector to each applicant, a license, whereby the dog or bitch owned or kept by such applicant shall be permitted to run at large for the term commencing from the date of such license and terminating the first day of May following, excepting as herein otherwise provided.

Section 3. At the time of issuing of such license, the license collector shall deliver to each applicant a check of copper or brass, or other metal containing the number of the license duly stamped or engraved thereon.

For each license said collector shall at the time and before issuing the same, and for each renewal thereof, collect of such applicant and pay into the Village Treasury, two dollars for each dog over six months old, male or female. Provided further, that any person keeping or having in possession dogs for breeding purposes, and the selling and exchanging of such dogs, not less than five in number, may obtain from the Village Clerk of said Village a kennel license for the keeping of dogs, and shall pay for such license, in lieu of all other tax, the sum of five dollars, which license shall not be granted for a period exceeding one year.

All licenses under this ordinance shall expire the first day of May following their issue, and when issued for a period less than one year, the said collector shall collect only a prorata of said license fee, but in no case not less than one-half thereof, and in case the applicant has lost or owned the dog in said Village on the May first previous to such application, such applicant shall pay the full license.

The shape and style of said check shall be changed each year on the first day of May thereof.

Section 4. No person owning, possessing or harboring any dog shall permit the same to run at large, or shall keep, have or harbor any dog in any place in the Village of Birmingham, without a substantial collar of leather, or brass, iron, copper, or any other durable material, to which shall be securely fastened the license check above required.

Duplicate checks, in case of loss, may be issued by said collector at the expense of the applicant.

No check shall be issued on the collar of any dog other than those here in provided for, and no person shall remove the collar or check from any dog without the consent of the owner or the party to whom the license is issued.

Section 5. No person shall harbor or keep any dog at any place in the Village of Birmingham which shall, by loud and frequent or habitual barking, yelping or howling, cause serious annoyance to the neighborhood or the people passing to and fro upon the streets. No person shall keep, have or harbor at any place in the Village of Birmingham, any dog that is afflicted with the rabies, or one that has been bitten by any animal known to have been afflicted with the rabies, and it shall be the duty of any person owning or harboring a dog showing symptoms of rabies, or that have been bitten by any animal known or suspected to have been afflicted with the rabies to notify the police department forthwith.

And in case of dogs impounded or dogs affected with rabies, or that have been bitten by any animal known to have been afflicted with rabies or dogs showing symptoms of rabies, the health officer shall have authority to order such dogs to be immediately killed, or do whatever he thinks is best to be done. Any person allowing any dog habitually to remain or be lodged within his or her house, store building or enclosure or premises, shall be considered as harboring or keeping the same within the meaning of this ordinance.

Section 6. The Commission shall provide a pound in which shall be impounded all dogs that may be found running at large or being kept or harbored at any place in the Village of Birmingham contrary to the provisions of this ordinance, and the chief of police shall be designated as pound keeper and have charge of such pound.

Section 7. It shall be the duty of the chief of police and of every other person who shall be appointed by the President for that purpose, to promptly seize, take up and place in said pound, all the dogs that may be found to be running at large, or being kept or harbored at any place in the Village of Birmingham, contrary to the provisions of this ordinance, and for every dog so impounded, the Chief of Police or party appointed as hereinbefore provided, delivering the same at the pound, shall be entitled to receive from the City Treasurer fifty cents.

Section 8. No such dogs shall be released from the pound unless the owner or person entitled to demand the same shall pay to the pound master, one dollar for each such dog so released. Provided, however, that any owner of an impounded dog who shall exhibit a license, showing the licensing of such dog, and shall pay the pound master fifty cents, and that he duly provided the same with a collar herein required, shall be entitled to have such dog surrendered to him, without payment of any other releasing fee. The pound master shall keep a careful record of all dogs received by him, with a description thereof, and the disposition of same. He shall weekly pay into the treasury all money received by him for the impounding, releasing, or sale of dogs.

Section 9. All dogs not claimed and released within forty-eight hours after being impounded, shall be killed, or if the animal is worthy and valuable, the same shall be sold by the pound master at the pound, to the highest bidder, succeeding the said forty eight hours.

Section 10. Any person or persons violating any of the provisions of this ordinance, upon conviction thereof, for each offense, before any Justice of the Peace of said Village, shall be fined a sum of not less than five dollars, and not exceeding twenty-five dollars, and in the imposition of such fine, the court may make a further sentence that in default of the payment of the fine imposed, the offender be confined in the Oakland County jail, or in the Detroit House of Correction, for any period not exceeding sixty days.

Section 11. This Ordinance shall take effect on the 5th day of September, A. D. 1918.

Made and passed by the Commission of the said Village of Birmingham, on the 19th day of August, A. D. 1918.

Signed: D. M. JOHNSTON, President.

THOS. E. HARRIS, Clerk.

Newberry Will Win

He Will Receive More Votes Than the Combined Votes of the Candidates Against Him, Says Paul H. King.

"Truman H. Newberry will be nominated for United States senator in the Republican primary next Tuesday, August 27," said Paul H. King, executive chairman of the Newberry Senatorial Committee to the press of Michigan yesterday.

"Commander Newberry is going to win because the people of Michigan demand a thorough-going American at this time. And when brains, experience and good judgment are coupled with sturdy Americanism, the combination is one which especially appeals to the business man, the farmer, the working man, and, above all, to the voters who have sons or brothers in the service.

"Our campaign has been one of publicity,—frank, straightforward and clean-cut, and it is going to bring success.

"We are going to win and win big. Reports from every part of the state indicate that Commander Newberry will receive more votes than the combined votes of the candidates against him."

An Endorsement of Truman H. Newberry for United States Senator from Men Prominently Identified with the Agricultural Interests of Michigan

BELIEVING as we do that Michigan should elect this fall a United States Senator who is, and has been, interested in and conversant with public affairs; a man of sound judgment, and continuity of purpose; a man whose one hundred per cent patriotism cannot be questioned; and a man who has given sufficient study and thought to the matter of national and international policies to enable him to determine for himself where he stands and what he stands for; and believing that Truman H. Newberry, of Detroit, conforms to this standard, we endorse his candidacy and agree to support him at the primaries and at the election.
