

THAT CHANGE WOMAN'S LIFE

Mrs. Godden Tells How It May be Passed in Safety and Comfort.

Fremont, O.—"I was passing through the critical period of life, being forty-four years of age, and I had all the symptoms incident to that stage—headaches, nervousness, and was in a general rundown condition, so it was hard for me to do my work. Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me as the best remedy for my condition, which I surely proved to be. I feel better and stronger in every way since taking it, and the annoying symptoms have disappeared. —Mrs. M. Godden, 926 N.
Pleasant St., Fremont, Ohio.

Such annoying symptoms as headaches, nervousness, backache, headache, irritability and "the blues," may be speedily overcome by the use of restored to normal conditions by this famous root, and herb remedy Lydia E.
Finkham's Vegetable Compound. If any complications prevent themselves write the Finkham Medicine Co., Lyons, Mass., for suggestions how to overcome them. The result of forty years experience in all your services and your letter held in strict confidence.

INCREASE IN WESTERN CANADA LAND VALUES

But Forty and Fifty Bushels of Wheat to the Acre.

During the past year there has been a greater demand for farm lands in Western Canada than for a number of years past. The demand for good farm lands improved or unimproved, and at an increase from ten to fifteen dollars an acre more than the same lands could be had for a couple of years ago.

The rise in the price of every kind of produce grown on these Western lands, in some cases to double and in others to triple the price prevailing before 1914, has attracted many atten-tracting in ever-increasing proportions the men who are anxious to invest their money, and apply their energies in the production of wheat for which the market is still some distance ahead.
The ailed nations are calling with voices which grow louder and more anxious as the months roll on, and the demand for the war still seems distant.
Beef, and more especially bacon, are required in ever greater quantities, and the price of all these things has soared, until it is not a question of what shall we produce, but how much can we produce. Even should this world calamity be brought to a close in six months from now, it will be years before normal pre-war prices prevail, and meantime self-interest if not patriotism is turning the minds of thousands back to the land. The inevitable consequence has been the rise in values of land, especially wheat land.

The Calgary Herald, commenting on these conditions says:
"From inquiries made from leading dealers in farming and ranching property, and from the information gathered in other ways, it is not a question of the value of all land—wheat land, mixed farming properties, and even good grazing land—has risen in the last two years so per cent. Wheat lands in some districts have practically doubled in price. One dealer in farm lands recently sold three sections for $20 an acre, one extra good quarter went as high as $90, and another brought $100. These are, of course, large prices, but that they will be equated after ten or twelve years is a feature about this rush to the land from which the most solid hope can be drawn for the success of the movement. The proper tillage of land, to produce large crops in a climate like ours is not understood, and practiced as it never was in the early days of the province. It would seem that with the increasing land under cultivation, the seasons are changing and the rainfall becoming greater and more regular.

"Crops are being harvested, especially in Southern Alberta, which would have seemed impossible to the old-time farmer, with his old-fashioned ideas of breaking and seeding. And at the same time, wheat is being raised for wheat and which possibly may be increased during the coming season, the return to the practical skilled agricultural man who is surprised to find "What matters $10 or even $20 an acre extra on wheat land when a return as high as $90 bushels an acre may be taken from every acre sown?" With hogs bringing $20 a head pounds; beef on the hoof at $12, and mutton $18, white wool under the comb being so high, the return from handling and sale brings 65 cents a pound (and these values cannot fall to any great extent for some years) the demand for land will continue and values increase in a corresponding degree.

"There has never been in the history of Canada a time so favorable for the farmer as the present; self-interest, the inspiration of patriotic feeling, the aid freely extended by the government, and the prices for the products of certain agricultural implements free, all these tend to still further raise the price of Alberta land."—A.P.

Many Attend Farm Schools.
A total of 368 Michigan agriculturalists attended the farm extension schools conducted during the winter months in many parts of the state under the auspices of the Michigan Agricultural college, according to a report on the results of the winter's work that has just been completed by the extension department.

Much of the instructional work in these schools consisted of lectures on such subjects as farm crops, soils, hort-about 7 feet high. This corn is not a pure type but is variable as to color, size and flintiness. It is, however, the earliest yellow dent corn available now in quantity. The fact that large-and later corn grows on the same soil as this early yellow dent indicates that this corn is an early type.

C. Barry White Dent.—This is a flint dent growing on sandy soil in Delaware and of about the same size and earliness as B, but the corn is white and uniform in color.
D. Medium White Dent.—This is larger and somewhat later than C, and of about the size and earliness of A.
It is uniform as to color but not as uniform as to type as C, some ears having kernels that are quite flinty while on other ears they are not at all flinty.
E. Mixed Early and Medium Yellow Dent.—A number of ears in Delaware contain mixtures of medium and early yellow dents. In most cases the pre-valing type is the medium dent with 10-50 per cent of early and flinty dent mixed with the larger corn. In some cases this mixture is mechanical dyed after husking, but in many cases the two types grow (or feed) in the same field. A considerable number of ears should make ear corn in southern Michigan and in northern Ohio in a favorable season, but it probably is especially suitable for catfallow corn.

M. A. C. Plans Special Four-Day Training School For Conservation.
East Lansing, Mich.—A special training school for the teaching of women in the arts of food conservation will be conducted here from June 24 to June 28 and from July 1 to July 4—but with food conservation has become the usual thing in every patriotic home in the land, more than common interest attaches to plans for the "drill" for the fair sex at the M. A. C.
Special schools and camps without number have been established to fit men for their wartime duties, but for the coming season perhaps the only ones that have been provided for women.
The "air schools" for the women will be conducted in two sections. The first of these, which will be opened at M. A. C. on June 24 and will continue until June 28, will be for women who have had at least two years of college training in domestic science, and for the women who are acting as country and district home economics agents.
The second school, which will be started on July 1 and will be in session until the morning of July 4, will be for every woman in the state who enrolls at all.

Most of the four days' sessions will be devoted by the instructors, who will be members of the home economics faculty of the college, to demonstrations of canning and to discussion of phases of the food problem which are common to most common concerns and give the strictest economy in dining has become necessary.
The short courses for housewives, housekeepers or either for men and women will, however, be but one of the features of the summer term on the campus. Country clergymen and pastors will convene on June 27 for their annual conference and study of rural problems; boys' and girls' club leaders will come together for five days July 6 to July 10; 600 young men of the army will be coached in cast engine work; and in addition there will be the customary summer course for students by the scientific department, domestic science, veterinary, engineering and other departments.

Bees Are Hit Hard.
Heavy casualties were suffered by Michigan bees as a result of the severity of the past winter, according to a report given out by R. F. Kinding of M. A. C., state inspector of apiculture.
At least 80,000 of Michigan's 200,000 colonies were either frozen or starved, and experienced beekeepers, old and not, were not among the heavy losers. Extensive roughing of the bees in their colonies means that something like 2,500,000 bees have succumbed in Michigan since last fall. An energetic campaign for the organization of beekeepers into associations for the promotion of the honey-producing industry is in progress, under the direction of the state inspector.

Many Cities Engaged in Gardening.
Some conception of the way in which the cities of the state have taken to the gardening idea can be gained from the report of the boys' and girls' club department of M. A. C. on development in this field. At the present time, the report brings out that there are 80 Michigan cities, towns and villages in which organized garden work is in progress, while the number of boys and girls who are assisting is now close to the 50,000 mark. The report refers only to the work in communities responding with the Michigan section of the United States department of agriculture and does not take into account a considerable number which are going ahead with gardening on their own hook.

Portable Smokehouse.
The German haushaus has her own smokehouse which she uses in connection with the domestic stove. It is practically a large sheet-iron can, with a neck at the bottom of suitable width to fit the hole in the stove. Into it is inserted into two compartments. A partition is placed on one side which connects at the top with a perforated sheet-iron or tin. The neck of the smokehouse is at the bottom with a solid plate and the bottom of the chamber is at the top of the neck.
The smoke passes up through the connecting pipe, up the neck passage, down through the perforated plate into the smoke chamber, and thence down the neck into the chimney.
Any dirt or cinders are not recepted by the perforated plate.
The apparatus is used on the kitchen stove, with a small, stove, and is made of any suitable smoke-producing material that is at hand.—Popular Scientist Monthly.

A Word of Precaution.

JUST wherein lies the reason for the use of vegetable preparations for infants and children?

Why are any but vegetable preparations unsafe for infants and children?
Why are Syrups, Cordials and Drops condemned by all Physicians and most laymen?

Why has the Government placed a ban on all preparations containing, among other poisonous drugs, Opium in its variously prepared forms and pleasing tastes, and under its innumerable names?

These are questions that every Mother will do well to inquire about.
Any Physician will recommend the keeping of Fletcher's Castoria in the house for the common ailments of infants and children.

Letters from Prominent Druggists addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

E. J. Briggs & Co., of Providence, R. I., say: "We have sold Fletcher's Castoria in our three stores for the past twenty years and consider it the best preparation on the market." Manus Drugg Co., of St. Paul, Minn., says: "We are not in the habit of recommending proprietary medicines, but we never hesitate to say a good word for Fletcher's. It is a medical success." Hegeman & Co., of New York City, N. Y., says: "We can say for your Castoria that it is one of the best selling preparations on our stores.
That is conclusive evidence that it is satisfactory to the user." W. H. Chapman, of Montreal, Que., says: "I have sold Fletcher's Castoria for many years and have yet to hear of one word other than praise for the product. I look upon your preparation as one of the few so-called patent medicines having merit and unobtainably recommend it as a safe household remedy."

The Care of Your Horse's Hooves. It is of the greatest importance to keep the hooves of a horse in good condition. It is essential to the health and comfort of the animal, and it is also essential to the success of the driver. The best way to keep the hooves in good condition is to keep them clean and dry, and to trim them regularly. The best time to trim the hooves is when the horse is at rest, and the best place to trim them is in a well-ventilated stall. The best way to trim the hooves is to use a sharp hoof knife, and to trim them carefully and thoroughly. The best way to keep the hooves in good condition is to use a good hoof dressing, and to apply it regularly. The best way to keep the hooves in good condition is to keep them in good condition.
