Endorse Wilson; Sebuku Germany.
If Lloyd George should go before the English people for an endorsement of his conduct of Great Britain's portion in the world war, and should be repudiated by an adverse vote, what would Germany think of it? Would not the morale of the German people now broken be quickly mended? President Wilson is now before the American people asking for an endorsement of his work in the support of the great war. We would be giving comfort to Germany by an adverse vote this fall. The administration is asking that Henry Ford be sent to the senate, and that John W. Bailey be chosen Governor of Michigan.

It sounds a little out of tune with the order of things to hear republicans harp on the righteous use of $176,000 for a primary campaign fund, while the people are urged to save and buy Thrift Stamps.
