Geo. H. Mitchell, P. M.

Visiting relatives in the Keystone state at Wilkes-Barre, is Miss Marie Sly.

After a winter's stay in Florida, Mrs. Rachel Stone has returned to her Birmingham home.

This week Friday evening the K. of K. gave a "5000" party in their Castle Hall.

Mrs. Clyde McClellan of Detroit has been the welcome guest of Mr. and Mrs. Anner McClellan of Maple avenue.

Rule McKinley of Southfield avenue broke his nose recently when he fell from his porch back on Woodward avenue.

Mrs. Frank Ely, wife and mother of West Grand boulevard, Detroit, has been in the city recently and a good visit was had by all.

Mrs. Emerson Beardlee and daughter Marie of Bedford, were visitors with her parents, Rev. McKinley and wife of Parly street last week.

The Ladies' Church Society of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. Peter, Perry street, Wednesday, April 16, at 2:30 p. m. Members and friends of the church and congregation are invited to attend and to bring a contribution.

Henry Ford has been in every village that has a newspaper looking for a location to build a new automobile plant. "Hans" hasn't been here yet but there is plenty of time yet.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hawthorn of St. Louis, Mo., are in the city on business. Their daughter, Mrs. Fred DeWitt and her daughter, Miss Jane, for a few weeks past. They are expected to return to their home next week and enjoyed every moment while here.

The old market stand of E. A. Smith & Smith, was recently painted, repaired and decorated. The finest and latest outfit of a modern market stand was purchased for the stand and soon Mr. J. E. Wooten will open a first class market stand. With three main departments, groceries, meats and produce, and a large stock of hardware.

Helps like this one which makes the world look better, that my check for $1 for a continuance of your ever welcome and cheery paper, which will please continue to be sent to the above address until further notified. With kindest regards to Mr. Mitchell, Best wishes yours, Clara E. Arthur, Redlands, Ore.

The Yanks are coming back. Last week Sgt. Arthur Kimmey and Corp. Fred E. Tom have come home again and dear old Oakland does look good to the boys, saying nothing of mother, home and home-landness.

Both young gentlemen have been honorably discharged from the service of Uncle Sam. Cedrick was among the very first boys to be discharged.

The very first meeting of the Franklin Auxiliary Cemetery association was held there last week Friday afternoon at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. E. Wooten.

An interesting and very entertaining program was presented by Mrs. J. Spino and pleased everybody. The supper preceding the program was generously patronized and pronounced satisfactory to all.

A D. B. VanZandt, the general publicity agent of the D. I. K. was in town Saturday for special call, advertising the new spring time sheet and the Rev. of the new year leaflet during the day. Having been a newspaper man of many years' experience, he is a perfect printer, printer's ink, waste baskets, lead pencils and copy books and all the things a printer needs.

Levi, Ralph C. Montross is now the new manager of the Michigan Steppens & Co. business. Mr. Montross was in charge of the business from service at Camp Carter where he was in charge of the Utilities and the Michigan Steppens & Co. business. He was married March 15 to Miss Bernice Ward of West Grand boulevard of Detroit and the young people expect to make their home in Birmingham.

Mr. Montross comes of a long line of Michigan's pioneer lumbermen and has had considerable experience in the lumber business.

The Pontiac Press Gazette gives an account of an accident March 25, at Grand Rapids, in which a Fred Arthur was seriously and perhaps fatally injured. Mr. Arthur, according to the paper, was driving a Ford automobile containing two young women, off a pier into the river. The young ladies were drowned but Mr. Arthur was not hurt and sustained a fractured skull. Mr. Arthur's home is at Waukegan, Ill., where he is president and general manager of the Wolverine Wire Fence Co. Mr. Arthur is a brother of Miss Clara Arthur, now at Portland, Oregon, who formerly was a resident of our village, living on Bates street.

The Child Welfare committee of Birmingham is beginning the work of securing all children who are dropped under school age, and the United Presbyterian church will start this movement by a radio roll party Friday afternoon, at which there will be a graduate nurse to weigh and measure the children of this church. The general information on the child welfare campaign will be given. The other churches will follow with similar meetings and, as far as possible, Mrs. E. A. King is chairman of the committee.

This item would apply to Pierce, Parly or Brown, Sr., in our village, but it really happened at Brighton, says the Argus. "One of our citizens so it is reported, was coming along the Grand River road a few miles west of Brighton early last week when the mud was at its height (not rather depth) and noticing a man's hat in the mud, he went and picked it all night's good use, as well as the members of the election board, business brought before the board for efficiency and business like administration. The wets lost out there and it was standing up in the judges raise of salaries for behind

Time to get that garden spaded. The hats are again beginning to rain.

"Nobody knows how dry I am."

Even the Spira house did not move it is being used as a night school. Two real landlords at night school Maple and Woodward ask the reckless motorist to slow down.

Mrs. Flora C. King will sell on the premises north and east of Big Beaver, at administrator's sale, an unusually fine lot of stock and tools. Mr. H. Blank is the auctioneer.

Birmingham people are different from those of other towns in that there will be no general moving in the village on May 1. There isn't a single change here unless someone leaves town.

We are pleased to tell you that Miss Ethel Bessell, back again in her old position of chief clerk at a pharmacy school, has taken the state examination and it is a safe bet she will pass with a good percentage on her credit.

George L. Scott, in the real estate office here "before the war," is now some time engaged in government work at Norfolk, Virginia, and has formed a partnership with James Campbell, under the firm name of Campbell & Scott. They have offices in the Levenson building.

Mr. W. T. Bradford and family have returned from a most delightful winter pleasure trip to Florida. They are well and happy and Mr. Bradford is also honored as a Mexican consul general, enough to make the lesson of more than a year more agreeable to him than he could expect. The winter was some back in the south of Florida as well as back home and in the city.

All the township people of the county are invited to meet at the county office on Monday, April 22, at 10 a. m. in the city hall, to discuss the proposed changes in the township boundaries.

White Rivermen are being organized on Eastern time, the steam roads and postoffice have been operating on Central standard time. The new year returned to Eastern time, on an hour earlier. Considerable confusion has been caused since the change was made on the Eastern time. Some have only one day.

One day last week we received a most interesting letter from Mrs. W. A. Ricketts, whose home is in Milwaukee. She is writing to us in the name of the "Birmingham Postoffice." She is on her way to see Miss Lucy Ward Hendrick at Chicago, but was kept here at last night's meeting. She is expected to be here for a few days, but will break away for a few days to see her mother and sister. She is a very interesting and well-informed woman.

The annual meeting of the Michigan State Nurses' association will be held at Barton Hotel, Grand Rapids, on Monday, April 22, at 10 a. m. The organization is being organized for the year. Many interesting plans for the year are being considered.

An interesting meeting was held on Tuesday evening, April 22, at the Baldwin auditorium. Mr. Fredrick, Republican as usual, was the speaker and there will be an appropriate entertainment by the audience. Mr. Fredrick is a business man of Detroit, who has been in the city for some time.

Well, our town election is along with the past. It was a most delightful day and up to the point where it ended, it was a most delightful day. It was a most delightful day, warm and the sun shone in to 3. The day was a most delightful day. Democrats, enough to come down to meet W. M. Story, Democratic speaker, the first and since the speaker, land only shook when we approach our 50's we can remember the Democratic speaker since Mr. Story when Bloomington has been Republican way down deep. Of course, two or three times there has been a Democratic speaker, but for a single term only. But the Republicans held all the offices, until now. W. M. Story in the large, well-attended meeting, which reached the number of 1,408, secured a majority over H. J. Brantley, Republican, who was elected. After running for town clerk, he had back only 214 votes of being elected. Mr. Story is a very well-known man in the town and he is a most interesting man. The day was a most delightful day. The day was a most delightful day. The day was a most delightful day.

Time to get that garden spaded. The hats are again beginning to rain. A sign up in the postoffice reads: "For sale cheap. Black cat family." Just think, gasoline down to 11 cents per gallon! Down in Mountain Tennessee.

The finest display of spring flowers it has been our good fortune to see was shown this week by H. P. Doyne. Watch for the report of the Baldwin Library next week. The printer could not get it in type this week.

Five hydrants in Birmingham in 1919 are to repeat the color scheme of last year, a cross between red and yellow.

A large and varied program has been arranged for the older Boy Scouts at Royal Oak today afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Bedford have just returned from a five month stay in Florida resorts, and look as though the change had agreed with them.

We heard a conservative and estate man on Monday say that if he had 100 acres of a good farm, he would be willing to sell it for $100,000. He was talking about a farm in the Levenson building.

At the annual meeting of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce, Monday evening, April 14, the order of H. P. Doyne, the chairman of the Chamber, was to present a paper on "The Future of the Chamber." The paper was presented by Mr. Doyne, and was a most interesting and well-informed one.
