Be Sure the Player=Piano you buy is the genuine "PIANOLA"

Cheapness is no recommendation for a Piano-particularly for a Player-Piano, which is a desicate nece of mechanism and subject to much service. Quality should and must be the prime consideration it musical results are desired and lasting satisfaction expected.

There is as much difference, from a musical standpoint, between the genuine "Pranola" and the chemply-cons-tracted bargain-price Players, as tracted bargam-price Players, as there is between the paying of an amater, and the finished work of an artist. In the greame "Planola" Player Plano ye get a Plano of the most beautiful tere quality and very highest class of workmanship (etc. Stdinway if you wish), con-Tayer most beautiful to e quant, were highest class of workmanship (the Steinway if you wish), containing within its case the Iamous "Pianola," the only Player indorsed to the original process of the p
