IN THE NEW EDISON

You get the Diamond Amberol Records—the Edison Diamond Disc Phonograph—and you hear as much of the artist's voice as you choose. Then compare the artist's voice with the voice from the record—the New Edison is the only instrument that will make this comparison. Do not fail to make this test—for it is the final test of realism.

No talking machine maker dares even make the claim for his product that the New Edison does. Why? Because they know that the artist's voice and the New Edison's reproduction of it are indistinguishable
