Beautiful Girl Tires of Rural Life and Finds Smart Chicago Hotels—Now Eats Porridge Instead of Artichokes.

Chicago—Two thousand dollars in two weeks would not buy a fancy good living even in these times. The 18-year-old Margaret Lamb is a beautiful girl from South Dakota who in that two months lived at six of the smart hotels in Chicago and intended to visit them all, securing meantime nice green checks on her father's bank account.

Margaret also bought a dress and paid $100 for it, and she bought 500 stockings for $12.50, and yellow silk ones for $8 and corsets for $20 and French hats, and in Minneapolis on her father's checking account she bought another gown for $150, ordering by mail.

And violet ray habits? Margaret had two a day and a hat dress and made every time she stepped out into the broad light.

"I wish," says for Assistant State Attorney Logan to decide what to do with Margaret, because she is a very upright person, with nothing against her but the floating of father's fat checks.

Margaret's mother died when she was four. Her father, who is wealthy, has had a homekeeper on his farm in South Dakota for the past many years and she cared for the younger sister and the little brother.

Margaret suddenly got ambitious and came to Chicago to study music, promising to live with her mother's brother and his wife in Oak Park.

Oak Park loved Margaret. She left the trail for the boys. She decided her father would suit her. She went shopping and bought $1000 worth of clothes. Then she hit the Cooper Carlton, the La Salle, the Surf, the Hyde Park and so on. She signed checks liberally and tipped the a long hotel.

The joint and music method the father in South Dakota that Margaret had disappeared. Detectives found her, comfortably located at the Edgewater Beach. She told every one she was twenty-one. She is barely seventeen.

Like Her Chickens Fried. Mrs. Anna D. Duxen of the juvenile court was said to talk to Margaret and for dress she and Mr. Hogan have tried to get her to get out of the city and chickens were so bad when you had a fine and laboring father, Margaret frowned on the children.

Officer Fred Becker and Mrs. Duxen told Margaret in a suit to the Chicago Hope for Girls with the consent of both her uncle and her father, and there she will be looked up till she awakens.

BOY HIS OWN DETECTIVE

Pennsylvania Lad Shows That He Needs No Help From the City Police Force.

Chicago, Pa.—Rhosdes Heald, 15, of 1102 Pine Place, has the distinction of being the best juvenile detective in the state. A few days ago he lost his frame in front of a barber shop while he was getting his hair cut.

When he came out his wheel had disappeared and he notified the police. He also started to do some detective work himself. He learned that two boys of 10 were apart a wheel and had thrown the frame into an old quarry hole where the wheel was taken. He hid behind a tree and found it was the frame of a wheel in the meantime the boys had taken the good parts of Heald's wheel and attached them to an old frame. Young Heald learned this and he was promised to pay him $100 rather than be arrested.

The police called off misters owing to the 25 and responsibility of the boys under promise that in the future they will not tamper with other people's property.
