Reverend Jamison, of Detroit, who is well known here, spent Monday at the place and attended the Masonic tea-hold at 6 o'clock in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Montgomery of Hamilton avenue, entertained Mrs. Anna Hartwig, of Detroit, and Mr. William W. Winder, of Detroit, and guests.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hartwig, of Troy, have moved to Birmingham and are residing on Forest avenue. Stanley Aksh, who has been confined to his home on Hamilton avenue for the past two weeks, as a result of an auto accident, in which he was badly hurt about the head and shoulders, is able to be out of bed again, and his wounds are healing nicely. Mrs. Nell Ross and Mrs. C. E. Ross were honored at the members of the Eastern Star order in Birmingham at the home of the former on Highland street Tuesday afternoon. The afternoon was spent in song.

Beneath an arbor of dashing, colorful streamers, lanterns and garlands, eachy guests enjoyed one of the prettiest informal dancing parties of the season Friday evening in the Johnson Show hall. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Montgomery and Mrs. and Mrs. Gordon Taylor, ladies of the orchestra played between the hours of 8 and 12 o'clock on the floor of the hall with a bow of brightly lighted lanterns above, giving an atmospherically set and delightful hour during a lady once-step the hall floor of gliding couples and at the close of that one-step, the dancers were treated with unique favors in the form of rattles, horns and bells. Many out of town guests were present and all enjoyed the affair to a degree of enjoyment and success.

Thursday afternoon in the Pythian hall the Pythian Sisters entertained with a 500 party. At the close of the same Mrs. J. T. Todd was awarded first prize, Mrs. C. P. Mudge second and Mrs. Manning, the cotillion queen for the night. The prizes are given every two weeks by the members. An event of interest to take place next week is the annual ball under the auspices of the Birmingham Alumnae Association, Friday evening, May 7. A committee, composed of Miss Margaret Ross, Miss Martha S. Robertson Cook and Kenneth Bincham, has been set up for several weeks ago, and this function will be proposed to surpass any previous of the sort in the history of the association. Along social lines this season, Enzy's orchestra from Detroit will be in attendance.

It has been rumored about town that a great number of local youths are "very very sorry" and "much" because the girls didn't invite them to the dance. Monday night in the Baldwin auditorium, it is thought that the girls wanted a real good time, and the offer of it by the boys at the affair. Altho local youths are still "povod" about the dance it is not stated whether or not they will request the return of any rings or other hardware from their respective objects of amorous inclinations. The girls, however, seem to be undaunted at the boys' attitude and say they will stage another "big" dance in the coming months.

Mr. Klein said that he had tried this before so that the animals won't eat the shrubs.

2ND MISSION COMES FROM PHILIPPINES

Body Headed by Senate President Quezon Roterates Demand for Independence.

That the Filipino people are in earnest in their demand for immediate independence is indicated by the coming to the United States of a second Philippine mission to work for independence. Commissioned with this mission under the War Department cover of the Philippine Mission, the second Philippine mission is headed by Senate President Manuel L. Quezon, president of the Philippine Islands, and includes a number of prominent Filipino leaders. The second mission, like the first, is composed of the leading men of the islands and will work in the United States not only for immediate independence, but also for bringing about "better" conditions, greater confidence and closer amicable relations between the United States and the Philippines. The mission is a group of 100 men, headed by Quezon, president of the Philippine Islands, who is well known in America, having been for 20 years resident commissioner to the United States.

While Quezon's mission is not so well known in the United States as Quezon, he is considered one of the ablest men in the islands. Senate President Quezon recently referred to Quezon as "the greatest Filipino since Rizal." The personal relations between the two men and Quezon are probably getting a parallel in modern politics. They have been the leading political figures in the islands for 15 years, and there has never been the slightest indication of rivalry between them. Throughout their entire life as well as their long political service each has been a candidate for any position that the other desired to fill.

Long before the years Quezon was the Philippine delegate to the American Congress he won the esteem and approval of both the Republican and Democratic sections of the chamber. Whenever he spoke he was assured of a good attendance. One of the official short hand reporters, now deceased, upon used the finest English of any member of the House. Quezon, as president of the Swabian clubs party, is the best of the national movement for independence. "Quezon is the premier of the nation of the Philippines," said a leading Filipino leader.

Both Quezon and Quezon have long been constant advocates of Philippine independence and when the occasion demanded it they have never hesitated to champion the cause of American's good intentions toward the Filipino people.

All of the Methodist preachers in Oakland county will exchange preachers next Sunday, just for the day. No congregation knows who is coming, even Rev. Dutton in Birmingham does not know who will preach in his pulpit. But that difference in preachers will not stop the pulpit moving and evening. He knows, of course, where he will go, but the congregation will not know who will preach does not know who is coming. The element of surprise will be in the ministerial life as everywhere else.

Speaker Sergio Osmena. Mr. Quezon and the Hon. Sergio Osmena, Speaker of the Philippine House of Representatives, and Vice President of the council of State, are the leaders of the Nacionalista party, which has been in power since 1907.
