

BIRMINGHAM ECCENTRIC.

FORTY-THIRD YEAR—NO. 33.

BIRMINGHAM, OAKLAND COUNTY, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1920.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

Defeated But Not Settled

To the Editor:—It is agreed even by those responsible for the anonymous full-page advertisement in the Centric that a new school is needed. The vote on Nov. 20th was not against a new school. In fact, the vote was in support of a new school. The school on the East Side stands ample evidence of a need for a new school in that locality. The vote was a decision of the voters of the East Side, it was not a decision of the Board of Education. Had the voters of the East Side been consulted, they would have had their say on the matter. The voters of the East Side, however, are not consulted on the matter of building a new school. The Board of Education has the right to build a school, but it has no right to build a school without consulting the voters of the East Side. It is very evident that the voters were not only not consulted, they were not even asked for their opinion. It is a pity that the voters of the East Side were not consulted on the matter of building a new school. They have the right to be consulted on the matter of building a new school. It is a pity that the voters of the East Side were not consulted on the matter of building a new school. They have the right to be consulted on the matter of building a new school.
