Under the Holly Bough

"Ye who have scorned each other,
Or injured friend or brother,
In this fast fleeting year,
Ye who by word or deed
Have made a kind heart bleed,
Come gather here.

"Let sorrow vanish all forgiving
Forget thy pride and anger striving,
And join in friendship now,
Be links in Love's fair chain,
Be wreaths of peace entwined
Under the holly bough.

"Ye who have lived estranged,
Sister and brother, mother,
In this fast fading year,
Mother and child, husband and wife,
Young man and maiden fair,
Come gather here.

"Let love, long lost, come under
As childhood's shades fall
Let love and kindness, good will and peace
And sweet charity reigning
All meet in their trysting
Under the holly bough.
