The 1909 International Live Stock show at Chicago is probably the best that has ever been held, and it is pointed out by a Canadian correspondent writing the number and quality of the exhibits, that are at once interesting to the friend of progress. The fact that Canada holds many of the prize winning animals is a matter of pride to that country's people.

Six members of Canada's contingent in a previous show, and then the breed came second in the prize that was carried off by Mr. [illegible] neighbors. A young [illegible] ress to Xenia, Ohio, [illegible] tion, is connected. There is reason to hope that in the night of class prizes there will again be a record for International [illegible] will be for both countries.
