Overland

The car and passengers ride smoothly as though floating, free from road shocks that the springs ward off.
But this new riding comfort, possible only with these Three-point Cantilever Springs, is but one of the advantages of Overland 4.
Its light weight makes possible great economy of gasoline and tires.
In every respect Overland 4 is a Quality Car. The body is all steel, all enamel—the brightest, hardest, most lasting finish.

Broad General Principle of Equality of Opportunity and a Fair Start

By STEPHEN LEACOCK, Editor of the Birmingham Post-Herald.

All the world is talking of social justice. As the echoes of the war conflict ring on the ears, the industry of the world is being reorganized. What does it all mean? Is the day, or is it the hour, when the broad principle of equality of opportunity is to be established? The main aim of the writer is to point out the beautiful dream and the noble ideal of a fair start for every man for himself. But he reproduces as a really important part of the writer's message the principle of equality of opportunity for every man with the same education, and opportunity.

The point of view is that the future lies in a fair start for every man. Let the money in your pocket be the principle of equality. Every man has the opportunity for social betterment, and the opportunity to give every human being the same education, and opportunity.

Distrust of the United States in South American Nations Based on Fear

By VINCENTE ELNOR BARRAZ, Spanish Novelist

As far as the war is concerned, the South American nations stand in sympathy with the policy of the United States. But the fear of the United States is not a healthy one. But the fear of the United States is not a healthy one. The distrust of the United States in the South American nations is based on fear. The distrust of the United States in the South American nations is based on fear. The distrust of the United States in the South American nations is based on fear.
