How Competition Helps You

The competition that exists among the hundreds of meat distributors, large and small, means

Rivalry in Prices
Rivalry in Service
Rivalry in Economy
Rivalry in Quality

Swift & Company sells meat at the lowest possible price, consistent with quality and service. Our profit of only a fraction of a cent a pound on all products is evidence of keen competition.

Swift & Company must provide the best service to your dealer or he will buy from our competitors. This means a supply of fine fresh meat always on hand for you at your dealer's.

Swift & Company must keep down manufacturing and selling costs, and use all by-products to avoid waste, or else lose money meeting the prices of competitors who do.

Swift & Company must make its products of the highest quality, or see you turn to others. This means better meat for you and a greater variety of appetizing, wholesome food.

We are as glad for this competition as you should be. It helps to keep us on our mettle.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF BIRMINGHAM MICHIGAN

NOTICE TO STOCKHOLDERS.—Notice is hereby given that the Annual Meeting of the stockholders of this corporation for the purpose of electing directors and officers for the year ending on the 31st day of December next, will be held at the office of the President, in the City of Birmingham, Michigan, on TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 1924, at 10:00 A. M. (local standard time). The polls for the election of directors will be open from 10:00 A. M. to 2:00 P. M.

A. W. HERRICK, President, Birmingham, Michigan, December 12, 1923.

TO REMOVE THE H. C. OF L.

A merchant must be economical in his business. He has to make a profit and at the same time maintain his credit. In doing this, he must be careful to have his show rooms, extravagant window displays and his other expenses kept within the limits of his credit. A large profit margin is not enough to cover all this useless expenditure and the expense that the merchant incurs in carrying the stock of goods.

Now many people know all the ways to get rid of the H. C. of L. but still prefer to pay for it. They do not want to pay for it because they are afraid of the pressure of telling about it.

If I appeal for patronage to any who are in quest for the very best value in expect to find them at such a dealer. I ask a person how he can expect to get the best value from a dealer who has to add say 25 per cent to his selling price to pay for expenses not really necessary?

Furniture, Rugs, Stoves Etc.

Economical Methods Count

If you will come to our store, you will find that we have the best value in our prices. We have the best value in our prices. We have the best value in our prices.

The New Edison

Even if you live in a distant part of the city, you can get the best value from a dealer who has to add say 25 per cent to his selling price to pay for expenses not really necessary?

Playing a New Edison Record on another make of phonograph will not give you more pleasure than playing the original. This result will only be obtained by playing it on the New Edison Phonograph. We don't think that by buying any machine that will play Edison Records you will get full enjoyment. No matter how cheaply it will play other makes of records more naturally. Enjoy terms of payment.

The High Cost of Living

The problems of peace, as did the problems of war, involve heavy expenditures by the Telephone Company.

There is much reconstruction and even more advance construction work to do before the former position of Readiness to Serve is regained.

Little or no construction work for two years, a vast increase in demand for service and a vast increase in the population to be served, presents a stunning problem to the telephone management.

A dollar will not buy as much service or as much material as heretofore, which further complicates the problem.

In the circumstances the Telephone Company must adopt the policy so uniform among merchants in every line of business and sell its service at higher prices.

The higher rates are a protection to a service that is in the interest and for the convenience of every subscriber.
