MY LAST FAREWELL

By DR. JOSE RIZAL

Parents! dear fatherland! when I shall be
No more, I leave you this my last farewell
And now I bid you adieu, my dear
Still would I give it if I could, my dear
On the field of battle, when I shall be
Others have given their lives for you
The blood of my mother, my father, my
Suffice it for me, my dear fatherland
The eye that looks to see you, my dear
I die just when I see you, my dear
Through the arms of my dear fatherland
And if I die, my dear fatherland
To die with you, my dear fatherland
My dream when I die, my dear fatherland
Were I to see the loved face of my
From gloom and grief, my dear fatherland
No bliss on this earth, my dear fatherland
Dream of my life, my dear fatherland
All I have is the soul that you, my dear
All I have is the soul that you, my dear
To die for the sake of my dear fatherland
And sleep in the bosom of my dear fatherland
If over my grave you should see
In the night and a light, my dear fatherland
When I die, my dear fatherland
The light of my fatherland, my dear fatherland
Let the moon beam over the soft and
Let the stars shed over me, my dear fatherland
Let the wind with soft and sweet
And if on my cross you should see
Let it then be a sign, my dear fatherland

FILIPINO LEGISLATORS DEBATE IN ENGLISH

The English language is being used for the first time in the debate of the Philippine House of Representatives. The fact was noted by the United States Insular Affairs Division. The principal speakers were Messrs. Bonifacio, De Guzman and Villalobos. These members are graduates from the University of the Philippines. English is taught exclusively in the public schools of the Philippines and it is announced, will continue to be if independence is granted. According to an estimate based on the census just completed, seventy percent of the inhabitants of the Philippines over 10 years of age are literate. This is a higher percentage of literacy than that of any South American country.

SAVE ALL FILIPINOS WANT INDEPENDENCE

The Filipino people are united in their demand for independence. They want to be free and to govern themselves. They want to be free and to govern themselves. They want to be free and to govern themselves. They want to be free and to govern themselves. They want to be free and to govern themselves. They want to be free and to govern themselves.

Markets in China

China is a land of markets. They are held in every city and town and even in the small villages. There is no regular market place and the buying and selling is done out of doors. But there is hardly a village that hasn't its regular market place in the larger towns and cities there are several.

All of the Birmingham schools will close for this school year, Friday, June 22.
