All Candidates Strong For Good Roads

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 15.—The new year has opened with a new emphasis on the subject of highway building. The candidates for the presidency and for the United States Senate are all strong for good roads.

Without a single exception all of the presidential candidates whose opinions are published in the press are in favor of the future economic welfare of the country. Gov. Frank O. Lowden declares that good roads are the one thing which...

To Cut Soldiers' War Insurance Red Taps

WAR veterans holding government insurance will be able to pay their premiums at the local post offices if Congress passes a bill which has just been approved by the House committee on interstate and foreign commerce. The measure revises the war risk insurance law to allow a reduction in the rate of premium for the insured.

The plan is outlined in the bill as the approval of the treasury department, of which the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce is a part. It provides for the establishment of 14 regional offices in the United States. The bureau of post, foreign and consular affairs and the federal board of investment education have a large part to play in the work to be done.

Increase of Wages From 15 to 25 Per Cent Fails to Relieve Situation—Total Acreage Undoubtedly Will Be Reduced.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—A shortage of hired farm labor, as acute as in 1918, according to a report by the United States secretary of agriculture, has issued an appeal to city men, college students and others to spend their vacations working on farms, particularly as follows in harvest fields.

Reports received by the federal department from its representatives in practically every state in the Union show that the supply of hired farm labor in the normal spring, 1922, period with approximately 50 per cent of a normal supply. This is a shortage of almost exactly the same as that of two years ago when three millions of men were in military service.

FLAGSHIP TO BE USED AS TARGET

The U. S. S. Albatross, fleet oiler, is today the pride of the American navy and flagship used as a moving target for modern destroyers. Its movements directed by wireless apparatus invented by John Hays Hammond. The Albatross is about thirty years old and is the last of her kind as a fleet oiler.

It is the opinion of the other supply because the farmers with the families are exerting themselves to the utmost to overcome their handicap. The situation, unimproved, can not fail to have an unfavorable effect on production, according to the United States department of agriculture, and will tend to prevent any reduction in the price of farm products.

Plan to Help Farmers

The United States department of agriculture was represented by Arthur H. Hays Hammond, Jr., secretary of the National Farm Labor Union, who held in Kansas City recently a number of farm laborers. The plan is to help farmers by providing them with better methods of raising their crops.
