PROPER TIME TO SELL EWES

Animals Not Desirable for Another Year's Breeding Should Be Sold in Autumn

The summer or early fall, even after the lambing have been weaned or marketed, is the best time to dispose of ewes that are not considered desirable for another year's breeding. As sheep specialists of the United States department of agriculture, the ewes that are to raise the next crop of lambs can then be prepared for fall breeding. Ewes of the mutton breeds do not ordinarily breed well nor keep good condition after 5 years of age. Their usefulness, however, depends more upon the condition of their teeth than upon their actual age. Fine wool ewes usually remain useful for a later age. It is a good plan to sell

Sheep Are Useful in Pasturing Off Weeds in Standing Corn After Cattle-Steps

Good ones before they begin to run down to be suitable for the butcher. The ewes that give the most milk and raise the best lambs are likely to be quite thin at this time and should not be judged by their appearance.

Nutrition experts, too, indicate that breeders and mothers of inferior ewes should be induced to sell their ewes as soon as possible, and should be disposed of all this time. The ewes should be sold by the best available stock the coming year and from the best breeding stock.

ERADICATION OF SHEEP SCAB

Comparatively Easy to Reduce Infection to Point Where It Ceases to Cause Big Loss

With our present knowledge of and experience in sheep-scab eradication work, it is comparatively easy to reduce the infection to a point where it ceases to cause economic loss but the complete eradication of the parasite from such vast flocks is a problem requiring patience and discretion. Where the eradication work is supervised by a well-organized force of trained men, the percentage of infected flocks can be reduced very rapidly until it reaches a fraction of 1 per cent; but to reduce that fraction to zero requires very careful and systematic work with the full cooperation of the sheep owners. As soon as the disease is reduced to a point where the economic loss is little or nothing, many sheep owners lose sight of the importance of continuing systematic efforts for complete eradication. It is necessary, however, for the protection of the sheep industry that the efforts be continued until the pest is completely eradicated.

SUNFLOWER SILAGE IS GOOD

Splendid Results Obtained in Experiment With Steers at Oklahoma State Station

Silage made from a crop of tame Russian sunflowers at the Oklahoma experiment station gave as good a result as any other silage made from corn and alfalfa hay or burrhead silage. These two kinds of silage were compared in a feed recently made. Fourteen high grade Hereford calves were fed in two lots of seven each. The steers fed sunflower silage made an average daily gain of 224 pounds in the entire feed period of 130 days. They ate an average of 11 pounds of silage daily, 11 pounds of ground corn, 1 1/2 pounds of cottonseed meal and 2 pounds of alfalfa hay. The steers fed burrhead consumed the same amount of this silage and the other foods as the steers fed sunflower silage and gained 222 pounds each daily.

A Pittsburgher, Who Caused a Sensation, Tells of Results. ANCIENT TONIC HIS SECRET

Hundreds of Thousands of Families Found Health and Happiness by Following His Instructions.

Six years ago if H. Von Schlick could be seen any day visiting proud and busy Pittsburgh business men in their downtown offices. He carried a satchel, and his arrival was always greeted by a smile indicating welcome. These men were his customers. They drank at his "fountain of youth." They acceded to any of the symptoms of ailments which afflicted him before he began using a ton, the ingredients of which were conveyed to him by an old Bulgarian tonic. Von Schlick makes this statement:

"It was something from the grippe was run down, and a dizzy feeling in the head, and for the first time of the head-ache. The old Bulgarian knew my weakness and while in the office suggested I give you something to make you feel better. He returned next day with a package and told me to use one teaspoonful in a glass of hot water, and to repeat the dose once each night for a little while. He promised I would never be troubled from sickness again. I took the prescription for three days, and on the first day later I was so full of old man to secure from him the ingredients of that tonic."

"He explained to me that in Bulgaria the older families regarded this tonic as the great disease preventive and health restorer; that it was handed down from generation to generation. At the first symptom of any sickness, the mother or woman of the family made the tea for all members. It is a well-known fact that Bulgarians are the oldest and healthiest people in the world."

"In Bulgaria and the Balkan countries of Eastern Europe, in spite of poor sanitary conditions, among 100,000,000 there are 1,000,000 over 100 years old. In France there is only one person in 100,000 over 100 years old, and in Germany only one person in 150,000. It is a rare new item in the United States when a man dies after reaching the century mark."

"My Bulgarian friend informed me that his predecessors reached this time of life and that they all had a healthy and happy old age. As that for a re-son he pointed to his tonic. After using the tonic for 15 years I am ready to guarantee to the world that it is the best prescription for health restoring. Every member of my family takes one dose each week, my relatives all use it, my friends and neighbors have been keeping healthy by means of it, and hundreds of thousands of people in this city, all sensible and well-known, consider I have done them an everlasting favor by convincing them of its merits."

"During all the terrible influenza epidemic Bulgarian Blood Tea was used by countless thousands of sufferers with marvellous success and millions of people told it was the best to prevent and ward off the disease."

"After 15 years of experience I am positive that it will prevent sickness. It will restore your health by eliminating the poison. It will remove disorders of the digestive organs. It will increase poor circulation. It will restore vitality, energy or strength. It will make your hair respond splendidly to the strain of modern business. It will give you a healthy, youthful complexion. It will prolong your life and, with proper diet, you should live to a ripe old age."

Bulgarian Blood Tea today is used by millions of people in every state in the Union fighting off disease and old age weaknesses. They include happy girls budding into womanhood or women craving precious throes of life. All praise and commend it. Men regain strength and vitality, the blood becomes rich and the will make your hair respond health returns to those who were in despair.
