PEOPLE'S COLUMN

This column will be devoted to the residents of Birmingham who wish to make use of the same for the discussion of all matters pertaining to the welfare of the community.

Editor Eccentric:—

A bond is an obligation to be paid at a future date. Unless it is necessary to buy an improvement which will be a benefit to the public for a long time, a bond should not be issued. A bond issue must be for a real necessity and not a mere convenience. There are good reasons for issues of all the bonds a town ought to be burdened with but, when an improvement is local, that locality should pay for it. A sewer may increase the value of a lot $5.00 when its total cost per lot may not be more than $75.00. Should the owner have financial aid from the general fund by a bond issue?

A pavement usually increases values as much as 100 per cent. Should the public be asked to bond itself for more than the intersectioned etc, cost?

An acre of farm land unplatted, but properly located worth $1,000, becomes 5 lots worth $800 each by giving it sewers, water, police and fire protection. Should the public bond itself to give this real estate dealer 300 per cent profit?

The Treasury of the Village is to me just like my bank account. It should not be open to speculators or careless thinking. Money is not hard to get but it seems difficult to keep. We must use money and, in public affairs, lots of it; but why not get a dollar's worth for the public for every dollar? Same as we do for ourselves.

No, not penurious—just careful! Stop improvements? no, more of them! Give the people all they want of what they want and are willing to pay their proportions of. Taxes will not increase but improvements will.

Quebec, Canada,
August 16, 1920.

My Dear Grandson:—

We reached Quebec at about 5 o'clock last evening, about twelve hours late on account of fog. Had a short walk about the city near the boat landing, ending at the Chateau Frontenac, which is one of the finest hotels in Canada. There is a board walk called "The Dufferin Terrace" in front of the hotel and extending a long ways beyond, reminding one of the Board Walk at Atlantic City. This hotel is on the highest point in the city and commands a fine view in every direction.

After having dinner on the boat, we went for a ride in a victoria with one horse and I was sorry for the horse when we finished, for while there were only two of us and the driver in the load it was most of the most of the time up very step hills. These carriages are named for Queen Victoria and were built at about the time she was born, I should think. The horse, no doubt, came over with the first French We saw nearly all of the places of interest, but none of the old, or lower part of the city. The rates for carriages here are very reasonable, if you understand the game. We paid $1.00 an hour each, and were out two hours. Quebec has only about 115,000 inhabitants, but is one of the best kept and cleanest cities I have ever visited.

The flowers here are wonderful and would make Jim Wooster green with envy. Don't you dare tell him of this. We visited a very beautiful church and were permitted to go all through it. This morning we took trolley cars for Montmorency Falls, and St. Anne de Beaupre where so many wonderful cures have been effected by the power of St. Anne, mother of Mary, the mother of Christ. The falls have a clear drop of 247 feet, 100 feet more than Niagara, and while small compared to the latter, are very beautiful. The old and new churches at St. Anne are very interesting and beautiful. 250,000 people come here each year for cure, and the hundreds of crutches and other appliances for cripples give silent testimony to the faith of these people that they were cured. People remain here in quite large numbers for a cure, and their faith is very touching, for many that we saw were still in a very bad way. There are many other touching things here, and our small change did not last long. The sale of souvenirs is very large for everything here is blessed by some Saint or other. We stopped on our return at the Hotel Kent where the Duke of Kent, father of Queen Victoria, lived in 1791. It is now used as a hotel, and one of the most interesting things about the place was that they are still using the same dishes that he used, I should think. The meal was not good—the chicken was of a very early vintage and ought to have been respected on account of age.

The country all the way was very interesting the farms are for the most part, about 100 feet by from 200 feet to 500 feet. Now and then a ranch of twice that size, I should say. The people live in little fresh clean looking houses all along the way and these farms extend either up the hill in the rear of the house, or in front on the river bottom. Everything is prosperous looking and if all the farm land in the U. S. A. was as carefully worked there would be an abundance fairly reasonable.

We came back to the city and all took autos for a sight seeing trip about town. The best shops are here and some of them would be a credit to any city or country. We saw the Plains of Abraham, where Montcalm and Wolfe both fell in battle when the English won this beautiful country from the French. There are many fine public buildings here as everywhere in Canada. The churches are fine, costly and rich. Hard times are not in evidence and all seem happy, prosperous and contented. There is no appearance of poverty such as is found in our cities—the children ask for pennies and are satisfied and grateful if they get one, and not sullen if you pass them by. It is very pleasant to meet and talk with these people, for if they abuse you it is the same for you don't understand. They are gentle and kind to each other and willing to serve the tourists in any way, for a very small fee in most cases. We have heard of some cases where the Pilgrims were imposed upon, but I think it was mostly by the English or Irish—of the population, there are 75,000 French and 40,000 English and Irish combined.

We had some trouble in getting our dinner on the boat as many of the waiters had gone on a "bender" in town after stealing a lot of the boat silver and "sich." They are not a bad lot but were not able to resist the temptations of a wet city. We have had a fine opportunity to judge of the difference between wet and dry territory on this tour, and I am happy to testify that everything is in favor of the dry places.

We closed the day with a "Masquerade Ball" after dinner, and I want to say to you that it was a scream. There were six prizes—three for ladies and a like number for the "gents." I won't tell you the name of one of the "gent's" who got a prize, but will exhibit the same when I get home at a nickel a head.

We are due to reach Montreal at one o'clock, where we stop overnight, leaving there at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday for the good old U. S. A. So far the trip has been a howling success, with just enough of the bitter to make us all appreciate the sweet. I will write again from Montreal.

Love to everybody,
Granddad.

OAKLAND COUNTY TURNS OUT STRONG IN PRIMARY ELECTION

The Primary Election held August 31, at which time the various political parties made their choice for nominees for State and County offices, brought out a greater number of voters in Bloomfield Township than ever before, according to reports.

Oakland County, conceded to be almost entirely Republican, offered a variety of offices to be filled. Chief of these was the race for sheriff, a total of ten men bidding for the people's choice.

James E. Butler, formerly of Oxford, now a resident of Pontiac, occupied the center of attraction in local balloting, receiving a majority of over 400 votes over his nearest opponent, John A. McDonald, of Pontiac.

Mack Hunt, Birmingham's candidate for sheriff, easily carried all honors in Bloomfield Township, receiving 327 votes of a total of 806 cast. Hunt, however, proved weak in the remainder of the county and finished in sixth place.

Following is a list of the officers nominated on the Republican ticket: James E. Butler, Sheriff; W. Harry Cryerman, County Clerk; Floyd H. Losee, County Treasurer; Cassius J. Crawford, Drain Commissioner; Ross Stockwell, Judge of Probate; Stanley C. Rogers, Register of Deeds; A. Floyd Blakeslee, Prosecuting Attorney; George B. Hartrick and Ralph T. Keeling, Circuit Court Commissioners; O. C. Farmer and Dr. R. G. Tuck, Coroners; Franklin A. Slater, Surveyor and Judge Frank L. Covert, Circuit Judge to fill vacancy.

Democrats thruout the county were evidently away on a vacation considering the number of votes cast at the primaries. With several county precincts missing, the Democrat vote for county offices was: Elmer R. Webster, Judge of Probate; Dr. Ellesworth Orton, Sheriff; Frank H. Carroll, County Clerk; Arthur Newberry, County Treasurer; Belle Anderson, Register of Deeds; Henry W. Harpster, Prosecuting Attorney; D. E. V. Howlett, Coroner; Will Anderson, Road Commissioner; and Homer H. Calvin, Circuit Court, to fill a vacancy.

According to James W. Cobb, Township Clerk, of the 806 votes cast in Bloomfield Township, but 55 were Democratic. Women to the number of 200 attended the local polls. Members of the Board of Election remained at work until 4 o'clock Wednesday morning counting the ballots.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP NOW HAS 4 VOTING PRECINCTS

The State law requiring that no more than 600 votes be cast in any one precinct makes it necessary that Bloomfield Township will be cut into 4 precincts, according to Luther D. Allen and James W. Cobb, members of the Town Board.

"The recent advent of the women into the field of voting has given Bloomfield Township a total of approximately 2500 voters," stated Mr. Allen Wednesday. "The idea of cutting up a township into precincts is to make it easier for the various voters to reach a booth where the vote is to be cast. Work of cutting up the Township into the 4 precincts will be started at once. This will enable us to better care for the general election in November."

The first precinct will take in all territory bounded by the Township line a half mile south of Lincoln avenue, west of Woodward avenue to the Lone Pine road, with the booth in the present Town Hall; the second precinct lies north of the town line below Lincoln avenue, east of Woodward avenue and to the Lone Pine road, with the place of voting probably located in the Firemen's Hall on East Maple avenue; the third precinct will include north of Lone Pine road, on both sides of Woodward avenue, to the Square Lake road, with a booth to be erected in Bloomfield Center; the fourth precinct will include from Square Lake road north to South Boulevard, the exact place of the booth to be erected not yet chosen.

COMMISSION ALLOWS GAS INCREASE HERE.

At an adjourned meeting of the Village Commission Wednesday night Phil Schlaack and Fred Quarton, Commissioners, voted an increase in the gas rates effective here at the September reading of the meters.

The new gas rate will be $1.55 per thousand cubic feet, an increase of 5 cents over that allowed in Pontiac by a recent ruling of the Michigan Public Utilities Commission. The old rate was $1.20 per thousand cubic feet.

Some time ago the Commission received a letter from the Gas Company at Pontiac, relative to the increase in rates. At that time it was suggested that Birmingham and Royal Oak pay 10 cents more for each thousand cubic feet of gas than would be assessed in Pontiac.

The 5 cent increase was granted by the local Commission because that was the rate fixed by Royal Oak officials. This 5 cent increase is said to be the cost of pumping the gas from Pontiac here.

COMMISSION STILL UNSETTLED ABOUT INSTALLING NEW PUMP

Fred Quarton and Phil Schlaack, Commissioners, took no action on the installation of a pump in the present water works station at their meeting Wednesday night, inasmuch as the figures furnished by Clarence W. Hubbell, engineer retained by the Village in seeking water relief, were approximately $2500 in advance of the cost of tentative plans considered several weeks ago.

Figures given several weeks ago by Hubbell showed that about $7,000 would be enough to the pump. The Commission thot that, in the absence of the Village Attorney at the meeting, the expenditure of so much money would possibly require the sanction of the voters of Birmingtheir next meeting, Tuesday night. the matter would be taken up at ham. They decided, however, that
