ENTIRE ABSENCE OF SCRUBS Ohio Breeder, Recently Enrolled for "Better Sires" Keeps Nothing But Purebreds.

With the gradually increasing enrollment in the "Better Sires" movement, the United States department of agriculture has issued...

Furthermore, his Illinois-bred Red poultry were all standard-bred. The result of using purebred sires is shown by the entire absence of scrubs in the flocks...

An Ohio Purebred Shorthorn Duroc.

owner in Athens county, Ohio, says that all his sires in a short time, being a Berkshire boar, and a Duroc ram—were registered stock of good quality. In addition he kept a registered collie dog. Furthermore, his Illinois-bred Red poultry were all standard-bred.

FORAGE SUPERIOR FOR HOGS Extremely High Prices Make It Profitable to Substitute Grass Crops for Grain.

With the present extremely high prices of grain it is profitable to substitute as far as possible forage crops for grain feeds. A saving of 25 to 28 per cent of the total amount of grain and supplements may be expected through the use of forage.

It may be possible, in some cases, with an abundance of good forage, to obtain fairly satisfactory gains for a time on such forage alone, but the greatest returns have been obtained when grain was fed in addition to the forage at the rate of two to three per cent of the weight of the hogs per day.

SILAGE LACKING IN PROTEIN When Fed Without Some Supplementary Feed Less Satisfactory Results Are Obtained.

Silage is lacking in protein and should be supplemented by some concentrate high in protein. When fed without this supplementary feed satisfactory results can be expected then when it is properly supplemented.

Market for Fat Steers In the ordinary year, steers are marketed at the highest of the year in October. The market for really fat steers generally continues good during the winter, but through the holidays, but rapidly declines in January.

The Boar Herd It has many times been said that the boar was half the herd, but whether he is or not is the governing influence in making successful breeders, and producing high class pure blooded pigs.

Seven Things To Be Sure Of

IN THE PURCHASE OF YOUR PIPELESS HEATING SYSTEM

1. That the quality of heating service assures a comfortable, clean, healthful home in any weather.
2. That the convenience of simple operation, regulation, and quick heating compares favorably with much more expensive types of heating systems.
3. That the low first cost is due to economy of material and labor instead of cheapness of construction.
4. That the fuel bill can be reduced from 1-4 to 1-3—enough to save handsome dividends on the amount invested.
5. That the " upkeep " or expense for repairs is positively less than any other types of heating systems.
6. That you are protected at this store, because of the manufacturer's refusal to authorize installation where their trained heating engineers cannot safely guarantee it to operate efficiently in your home, their decision being made after careful study of conditions in your home—no guess work—thus protecting all concerned.
7. That the purchase will increase the value of your property more than the amount invested.

ALL ARE TRUE OF THE ROUND OAK THAT'S WHY WE SELL AND RECOMMEND IT

Pronounced Friend. I was visiting a friend in her new farm home. Her nearest neighbor was a millionaire's son, trying practical farming on a well-improved farm. He had a large peach orchard, small fruits and beautiful roses. He brought up two roses one day and two peaches the next day. Neighbor, woman of getting the best of the bargain, he would be the fruit dry up on the vines—of change.

Worth Trying, Anyway If you want to insure yourself good luck, wear your new dress for the first time to church, on a youth old doctor's. Doctor Erik Lore, to be more exact. Maybe the old gentleman was laughing up his sleeve the way he would think believing in his heart that the good luck would follow attending church; but then it's just as well not to go to analyzing the why and the wherefores of these old superstitions because after all they are "just for fun."

Mankind's Wastefulness. Macquarie Island, sought by Sir Douglas Mawson as a sanctuary for the Antarctic fauna, is nearly 400 square miles in area, lying 300 miles from Tasmania, in latitude 55 degrees south. Fingering of various species of elephants and seals exist here in vast numbers, but are being ruthlessly slaughtered for their oil. A flightless parrot, living on the island when it was discovered in 1810, has been exterminated by rats turned loose and allowed to run wild.

Elephant's Sense of Humor. Men close to the minds of elephants who sway back and forth four after four while their restless trunks roam around the hay believe that they appreciate children, and the difference between children and their elders more than some other inmates of zoological houses. They seem to have a sense of humor behind their strange little eyes when they stretch for the peanut or go round and round in the inebriate bearing youngsters of their swaying backs.

Unglansant Bedfellows. In California and on the staked plains in Texas where the nights are cold. It is the rattlesnake's custom to crawl between a traveler's blankets and snuggle up close to him till morning. Numbers of them are killed in camp every year by soldiers campaigning in that section, but as the rattlesnakes seldom show hospitality by biting the sleeper, few accidents happen. Still, there are men who, when put on a hard march, prefer to sleep alone.

Put Romance Before Truth. Isaac Newton in history and science notes with no foundation of fact may be blamed on some of the older historians. The men who first wrote of "liberal and Revolutionary times" often tried to make their accounts romantic and picturesque by reviving history to suit themselves, because they did not see that the real facts were more romantic than their embellishments could make them. Our histories, paintings, poetry and traditions are still influenced by their work.
