Mr. and Mrs. Birmingham—"Water, water, where art thou?" Lawrence Wendell: "My idea of a good book, a large umbrella, some cars and a comfortable chair, then find a nice cool lake and after placing the chair firmly on the bottom of the lake, light a cigar, raise the umbrella and soak myself and my chair with water just touching my umbrella. I really believe that one could keep cool for at least 48 hours."

Dewey Halpin: "I learned one thing about the Western people on a recent trip to California—they don't have much use for our paper money, one store I remember a twenty dollar bill in payment for a purchase and the shopkeeper handed the bank nineteen silver dollars. I predicted the change but felt like a structural iron worker afterwards—the weight listed was to start with."

Y. H. Vasey: "I want to extend an invitation to the entire world to come out to 'The Woods' at Walnut Lake at any time this summer. I have a very nice cottage where people may come to spend the day on the cool shore of the lake. A place where a picnic lunch can be spread beneath the shade trees, or also waiting—bathing and the best of fishing are among the delights for every one who may wish to come. Everybody is welcome—and there is not any charge for the privilege."

Gillett C. Welles: "I had a rather hard time one day several weeks ago to obtain four five dollar gold pieces in any of the Detroit banks. I wanted to get the coins to give, in the contest of the Birmingham Civic Association, to the winners in the 'Health' Contest at the local school. After much searching I finally found a banker who gave me the four five dollar gold pieces. It seems that all the gold has been converted by the government and is held at Washington."

Mrs. A. E. Peters: "I believe that the new kindergarten and day nursery that is to open soon is among the most helpful things for the Birmingham mothers that has been thought of in some time. It seems that more children would want to go there than there would be accommodations for, as every mother that I have mentioned it seems to be so much in favor of the idea. In my own case it will mean a great deal to be able to leave my youngest child and know that he will get good care without having to impose on my good neighbors."

Stephen G. Walker: "About the most effective way to depreciate the value of Birmingham property and to drive it to a place where life is NOT worth living is to keep on a year or two longer with our present water supply situation."

Leslie W. B. Dunn: "The people of Birmingham should feel proud to have had in Warren Collins and L. R. Carter in their village for so long a period and have their children leaving their splendid big messages they have to deliver. It is very sad that either of them was a fine lawyer, and it was only after much urging that they decided to come to Birmingham."

Clarence C. Brown: "I have no particular complaint to make regarding the new twice-daily mail delivery, but as you have asked me I can say that before the change was inaugurated to get two deliveries a day would present me an getting-lunch problem."

Paul Neal Averill of Cleveland, O., arrived in Birmingham late Thursday afternoon to remain several weeks with his brother, George R. Averill, and family.

OUR CORRESPONDENT'S LETTER (Continued from page 1) the next morning for the north. One thing I forgot, and that was the lunch that they furnished us at the hotel on our departure. They told us that we would not be able to get anything to eat until we reached Detroit, and that it would be necessary for us to take something along, and that the hotel would prepare it for us. We all felt for it, not understanding that I did not eat any lunch ordinarily. They took one fifty from each of us, and that is the "mild" of the story. I left Merced at 7:50 a.m. making it necessary for me to get up quite a little earlier than I am accustomed to. We proceeded on our way to Lathrop, through a very pretty country. We changed cars at Lathrop for Sacramento, where there was a wait of 40 minutes, and left at 2:20 for Albany, reaching the latter place at 6:50 next night, on time. At Sacramento I found that I was short of cigarettes, so had to buy enough to last me till I got to Albany, where I had ordered some sent from San Francisco. The cigars I bought were as punk as all railroad cigar stand cigars are, but I had to smoke them or go without. If the staff they put before a man to eat was no better than most snakes he gets, he would eat it. Sacramento looked quite natural. It is a city of 60,000, is only 35 feet above sea level, and is one of the warmest places in California in the summer. It is 602 miles from Sacramento to Albany, and through a fine country all the way. The highest point is at Siskiyou, 1,125 feet above sea level. Slope of the grade is quite steep and they use as many as three engines at times. None of the towns are very large, but all have a clean and prosperous appearance. Mount Shasta and Lassen Peak may be seen from the car at many points. There are no very large towns on the way, most of them being nothing more than villages with 5,000 to 10,000 population. I presume that they call some of them cities. A few of the country is always interesting, and was particularly so to me, as I saw things different way than when I went through here before. Much of it reminded me of the hills and valleys around Birmingham. There are no such fine sunsets here, as at home, although the twilights that I missed in Honolulu are all that could be desired, and the evenings are long and lovely.

With kindest regards to all I am, very sincerely, Yours truly, W. F. ADAMS.

A Problem In Shoes

If a new pair of shoes costs $9.00 and wears 90 days, and can be repaired for $3.00 (which means a complete job of healing and soles) so as to wear 90 days more—how much does the wearer save by having the shoes repaired?

THE ANSWER $9.00 divided by 90 equals cost of new shoe per day = $.10 $3.00 divided by 90 equals cost of repaired shoe per day = .03 1/3

Difference = $0.23

In other words, you can save 62 2/3 cents per day by wearing repaired shoes—plus the comfort. Allowing 90 days as the life of a pair of heels or soles, you would save $6.00 by having your shoes repaired.

Some Paint Figures That Don't Lie.

Why Pontiac Ready Mixed Paints are Both Better and Cheaper

Pontiac Paint contains 20% zinc, which adds to the covering capacity and makes a harder and whiter surface.

The covering capacity is gauged by the fineness of grind, making hand-mixed paints inferior and more wasteful than Pontiac machine-mixed paint.

We present these facts to correct the impression of a few who may think it is cheaper to mix lead and oil themselves.

"Oh Boy! Ain't this the life!!"

I LIKE my job BUT DAYS do come. WHEN SKIES are blue ABOVE the city smoke AND BREEZES stir. THE PAPERS on my desk. JUST SIT. AND THEN I think. IN A while I'd light. IF I were boss I'D OPEN shop. AT TWELVE o'clock. AND CLOSE at one. WITH ONE hour off. FOR LUNCH, and I WOULD GET old Sam. TO RUN me out. IN HIS big size. AND DROP me off. UNDER A greenwood tree BESIDE A lullaby brook. AND THERE I'd lie.

AND EVERY one. IN A while. ROLL OVER. OR MAYBE it and think. BUT MOST likely. JUST SIT. AND EVERY one. IN A while I'd light. ONE OF my Chesterfields. AND ON my I'D OPEN shop. I GUESS that wouldn't SATISFY.

COMPANIONSHIP? Say, there never was such a cigarette as Chesterfield for steady company! Just as mild and smooth as tobacco can be—but with a mellow "body" that satisfies even cigar smokers! On lazy days or busy ones—all the time—you want this "satisfy-smoke."
