OUR CORRESPONDENT'S LETTER

Honolulu, April 5th, 1921. The Birmingham Eccentric:

I do not remember the time that I was on the Board or read anything about these islands, that I was not interested in the Leper, and I have thought that your readers might also want to know something about the island and the story. So I will try and relate the story as I found it. As you all know the leper island is called Kalahele. Those of you who attended the Newman Travel Talks will remember the wonderfully interesting pictures that showed these unfortunate people. It is not easy to visit the island, and the distance is too great, and that there are ordinary standards of hygiene which they wish to spare the feelings of the victims of this terrible disease. I had, however, the privilege of visiting the Leper Hospital at Kalahele on this island, at the time that sixty lepers were separated from the other inmates by a fence. Those who were not to be separated were in the leper colonies at Kalahele. I had to go to the island, and I had to go to the leper colonies at Kalahele. Those who were to be separated were in the leper colonies at Kalahele. I had to go to the island, and I had to go to the leper colonies at Kalahele.
