

BEFORE AND AFTER CHILD BIRTH

Mrs. Williams Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her in Health

Overpeck, O.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me both before and after my baby was born. I suffered with backache, was generally run down and sick."

For more than forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been restoring health to women who suffered from irregularities, displacements, backaches, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness, etc.

Now, everybody in town knows that Mrs. Paula Platt was talking of making a visit to her married daughter in Ohio.

When purchasing linoleum for the floor it is a good idea to order a lining of felt. This precaution will probably prolong the use of the linoleum.

Humor Frailty.—An argument between a man and his wife had been going on for some time, and at last the woman exclaimed:

"I suppose you think I am a perfect fool."

"None of us, my dear, is perfect," came the soft answer.

"We arrived just in time."

"What do you mean by the way they acted when they let us into their house that they were just in the midst of a fine little quarrel."

"If a man tests a coin with his teeth he bites the dust."

CHAPTER XIV. A Will is Changed.

The two years that had passed since Tony Devon had adopted the Penultimate name, the greater part of which she had spent in school, had brought about many changes.

Mrs. Curtis was no longer giving Cousin John to Katherine as a father, but she was still a father to him.

There, little Devon, "his so-called" with another bit, "went on," "they were very lovely very pretties."

"Oh, she's a lady now," answered Reggie sarcastically. "The Penultimate has had her school over her."

"Well, he won't get it," asserted Utah sharply. "I've told you the right way. Her father's got money to burn."

"I do not intend to do you, Reggie," she said. "I won't look at the things of you and Utah. You are in love with her."

"And my new money!" laughed Devon, gravely. "I'm thinking of doing it. I'll show you what class she is."

"You'll have to help her before you'll get her," said Reggie. "She's got to be worth something."

"You'll have to help her before you'll get her," said Reggie. "She's got to be worth something."

"You'll have to help her before you'll get her," said Reggie. "She's got to be worth something."

"You'll have to help her before you'll get her," said Reggie. "She's got to be worth something."

"You'll have to help her before you'll get her," said Reggie. "She's got to be worth something."

"You'll have to help her before you'll get her," said Reggie. "She's got to be worth something."

"You'll have to help her before you'll get her," said Reggie. "She's got to be worth something."

"You'll have to help her before you'll get her," said Reggie. "She's got to be worth something."

"You'll have to help her before you'll get her," said Reggie. "She's got to be worth something."

"You'll have to help her before you'll get her," said Reggie. "She's got to be worth something."

With much ceremony he opened it and took out an exquisite pearl necklace.

"I do not intend to do you, Reggie," she said. "I won't look at the things of you and Utah. You are in love with her."

"You'll have to help her before you'll get her," said Reggie. "She's got to be worth something."

ILLINOIS

KASKASKIA, the oldest town in Illinois, is on a narrow peninsula at the mouth of an Indian village and it was here that Father Marquette, on his first discovery of the Illinois river, established a Jesuit mission in 1674.

"Well, he won't get it," asserted Utah sharply. "I've told you the right way. Her father's got money to burn."

"I do not intend to do you, Reggie," she said. "I won't look at the things of you and Utah. You are in love with her."

FEEL LIKE AN IRON RABBIT AROUND HEAD

Mrs. Osborne Says She Shudders When She Thinks How She Suffered.

"For years," said Mrs. V. Osborne, of 718 Lancaster Ave., Lexington, Ky., "I have been in a run-down condition, nervous, weak and dizzy. I was actually so nervous that any sudden noise or excitement would produce a palpitation of my heart that frightened me. I absolutely could not climb stairs, for to attempt such would thoroughly exhaust me.

"I had nervous headaches and when they came on it seemed that an iron band was drawn tight around my head. I now shudder when I think of those headaches. My stomach was weak and I could not digest the lightest liquid food. Any food of a solid nature caused nausea and the sickening sensation continued for hours."

"My misery was almost unbearable. My sleep was never sound and I was worn out all the time. My condition was such that I was unable to get to my feet. I finally sought treatment in Cincinnati, but nothing helped me one particle. I was on the verge of giving up in despair when a neighbor pleaded with me to try Tanlac. I obtained a bottle of the medicine and began its use.

"I began improving at once and soon felt better. My stomach was weak and I finally sought treatment in Cincinnati, but nothing helped me one particle. I was on the verge of giving up in despair when a neighbor pleaded with me to try Tanlac. I obtained a bottle of the medicine and began its use.
