LITERARY CLUB MEETS

An omission appeared in the Literary Club's notice of last week's issue and the following article is a correction of the same.
 The County Federation of Clubs was entertained by the Birmingham Women's Literary Society, May 3rd, at the First Presbyterian church.
 Following the luncheon Mrs. M. Alpine spoke words of welcome to which Mrs. L. J. Loring of Orion responded. "Neighbors," a one-act play by Zona Gale, which had been given at a previous meeting, under the direction of Mrs. Potter, was repeated. Mrs. Hawley, Mrs. Lockrow and Mrs. Potter delighted the audience with several vocal solos and Mrs. Singers and her partner added much to the program with several well rendered piano forte duets.

Mrs. Claude Stafford was united in marriage last Tuesday evening at the Methodist parsonage, by Rev. Dutton, to John A. Bowen. Both are residents of this village.

The Birmingham Golf Club has the honor of second position in the career of last Monday in the opening round of the Detroit Free Press Amateur Professional Golf tournament. But for the splendid playing reported from the Red Run Club, Birmingham's Kenny-Lee team would have taken the day's honors. A. V. Lee, Sr., who is president of the local club, is 63 years of age, but despite his years, his playing was brilliant. His shots were consistent, and he turned in a gross medal score of 94, with a handicap of 10 strokes, gave him the net medal of 84. His partner, Kenney, had played erratic golf until Monday's round when, shooting a birdie holes with time at par figures, he won the professional prize. Lee is in good condition and the membership for the new organization is fast increasing.

Miss Elsie Cobb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Cobb, of Oakland avenue, will spend this week-end at her home and will bring Miss Irma Shousmith as her guest for that time. Miss Cobb attends school at Lansing, Mich.
