HOME PAPER BOOSTING PLAN

"Subscribe to Your Home Town Paper."

That is the slogan of a new national movement backed by the National Editorial Association and other agencies.

The movement has back of it far more than a selfish desire on the part of newspapers to acquire increased circulation, for it is in effect, a step toward the perfect unification of America by the strengthening of ties that bind everyone to his native soil.

The campaign is moreover, an excellent opportunity to help the home town. The men and women who were born and reared here have, some of them, been away for many years and many important changes have taken place—changes in which they would be greatly interested. It is more often the case than that not only private correspondence overlooks these changes however careful one might attempt to write "the news" in a letter.

The newspaper, on the other hand, prints all the news of interest, large and small, and it is through it that the people who have left the old home town.

In order to stimulate this movement we will next week offer an extra copy of the Eccentric to every subscriber who calls or writes for it. This extra copy will be sent to the nearest of the family who is away from home. Or, if preferred, we will mail a copy free to any one you designate. Do it now.

Library Hall has taken a good turn. It now faces the south and a new gable face the east.

A new set of cell boxes have been put in the postoffice in place of the dingy old ones that have been in use since the year '70. The sides of the new boxes are of cherry and the panels are finished in oiled walnut.

Twenty Five Years Ago
Birmingham has two Literary Clubs and all women in the village are invited to attend either.

The fire department opposite the postoffice, has received a new coat of paint.

Mr. Leet has been given the contract to put the heating plant in the power house.

Mrs. S. J. Harris has sold her Saginaw street property to U. P. church for a book church building. The property sold for $1,500, this amounting to $22.50 per foot which shows that Birmingham real estate is up streams.

Messrs. Hendrie and Whitehead look a trip to Pontiac on their bicycles last week. They went over the proposed route of the Oakland Railway which is to extend to that city. Let us hope that the work will be rushed. It is very much needed.

The prospect for a great boom in Birmingham by the time the rolls hold in the spring is a good one. It is expected that there will be two new business blocks and that the Electric Railway will be extended to Pontiac within the near future. At present it is almost impossible to get a house to rent.

There is a project to establish a legion in this village and we hope that every citizen will join us in striving to have it carried out.

Wanted at once, hickory at the handle factory for turning handles.

"PRESS PICKINGS"

At Wednesday's special election the Village of Orion voted in favor of borrowing the necessary $30,000 to lay 10 1/2 feet on each side of the street in addition to the 20 feet allowed by the state, between the south limits and Denison and Stanton streets and between Oxford street and the north limits, and to pave an additional 23 feet on each side of the proposed trunk line between Denison and Stanton streets and Oxford street.

Mrs. Daniel Ryan a resident of Holly for many years, passed away at her home on South Broad street, Sunday evening, after an illness of several weeks. The funeral services were held from the late home on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. S. Benson, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiated. Burial was in Lakeside.

Charles A. Chambers, a resident of Holly for the last ten years and manager of the Detroit office of the Consolidation Coal Co. since 1893, died at his home on East First street Saturday, Oct. 22, from heart disease. Willard E. Cawker, first reader of the Christian Science Society of Royal Oak, conducted the funeral services at the Chambers residence Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, after which interment was made in Oakview cemetery.

Wayne county supervisors had week turned down the proposal of the Medical society to donate 100 acres at Woodward avenue and Ten-mile road as a tri-county park. Wayne would pay a large part of the upkeep and have only three members on the park board. Oakland and Macomb would have been entitled. The fact that the park is outside of Detroit also will be considered.

Joseph Warren Waterman, who has been a resident of the village for half a century, passed away at his home just east of the village on Monday night, Oct. 24, after an illness of but a little over 24 hours. He was taken sick Sunday, but his condition was not thought to be serious until the following day when he was taken to the hospital. He was 78 years of age. He was born in the village of Waterman, N. Y. He was a member of the M. E. church, officiated. Interment was made in the Olive Hill cemetery.

LOCAL BOYS ATTEND BIG Y. M. C. A. GATHERING

The Oakland County Older Boys Conference promoted by the County Y. M. C. A. which was held in Pontiac, October 20-22, was attended with a big banquet in the Congregational church, Pontiac.

This conference was considered one of the most successful in the history of the organization. In recent years both in the number of boys present and the interest shown in the program. One of the most interesting features of the program was the trip through the Wilson Foundry.

The conference was held at the Wilson Foundry. The program was held around the theme "The Fundamental Relationship." The program in school life was particularly interesting to the boys. The importance of business, of industry, of the home and of the church were emphasized.

The opening banquet on Thursday night, which was attended by approximately one hundred, was presided over by the merchants of Pontiac. A number of local boys attended with their parents. The program was held at the Wilson Foundry.

DONALD HANNA PERSUADES HIS DAD FOOTBALL IS O. K.

It is quite evident that the football-playing days of John Hanna, Jr., are almost faded memories. Last Saturday, while Mr. Hanna was visiting in the city of Ann Arbor, he was invited to comment on the scratches and slight bruises on the face and shirt of his 14-year-old son, Donald.

"Scraps," began the vigilant father, "you'll have to cut out football if you can't avoid using your face as a plow to create furrows on the surface of the earth. The face is so scratched and bruised that I hardly recognize you."

Nothing daunted by this parental admonition, the younger Hanna spread before his father the pages of the Ann Arbor Daily News. On the "sport" page was an account of a recent football game between the high school teams of which he is a member, and another band of gridiron warriors. It mentioned the juvenile Hanna as "the hero of the game."

After a perusal of the account, the keeper of our village funds recalled, setting his enthusiastic son on the back—and, for the benefit of local boys, it might be mentioned that the parental objections were soon overruled.

And still might be well to record that Mr. Hanna is now counting the days when, in future combat, his son will play on the team of the Maroon and Blue, which few scratches are reckoned as marks of valor for the Wolverine State.

According to Charles Vint, superintendent of schools in Birmingham, there are now students continuing to enroll in the three local schools. The average is about three a week. It is considered that the village does not have children of school age; it is evident what the present increase in the number of Birmingham families will mean within a year.

Many of these people are coming out from Detroit, Mr. Vint states.
