CHURCHES

Troy United Presbyterian
 Star, avenue and Crocker avenue. Bible school, 2 p.m.; preaching by pastor, 3 p.m. The rural church with the royal welcome to all.

Reformed Presbyterian
 11:30 a.m., church service and Sunday school; Wednesday evening, 7:30, at the home of Mrs. McKinney, young people's meeting. Everybody welcome.

Christian Science Society
 Services at Church Building, Woodward avenue, south of the D. U. R. W. Room. Sunday, 11 a.m. Sunday school same hour. Wednesday evenings, 8 o'clock. All are invited. Free Reading room, open Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. and Wed. from 7 to 8 p.m.

First Baptist
 Rev. Glen M. Mackay, pastor. 10:30, morning worship; 8:00, Wednesday evening service. This is our Rally Day and we are hoping to have every member of our church present. Remember the date, Sept. 25th. 11:45, Sunday school, 4:30, young people's meeting. 7:30, church service, subject, "Seeing Things or The Vision." Sing with us and forget your cares.

St. James Episcopal
 Sunday, Sept. 25—18th Sunday after Trinity. 10:30, morning service. Holy Communion, 8:00; morning prayer and service, 10:30; church school at 11:00. Wednesday, Sept. 29—21st. Michael and All Angels' day—Holy Communion at 10:30.

Starr Ave. United Presbyterian
 10:30, morning worship; 8:00, Wednesday evening service. This is our Rally Day and we are hoping to have every member of our church present. Remember the date, Sept. 25th. 11:45, Sunday school, 4:30, young people's meeting. 7:30, church service, subject, "Seeing Things or The Vision." Sing with us and forget your cares.

United Presbyterian
 Bible school, 9:45; preaching by pastor, Rev. D. H. Curry, 10:30; young people's meeting, 8:00; Wednesday evening prayer meeting at 7:30; church rehearsal, 8:30. The attendance at all the services has been very encouraging since pastor's return. Bible school attendance and singing has been inspiring to those who attend. We cordially invite strangers to worship with us. We feel sure when you come upon us will become a friend and enjoy fellowship with those who are striving to do the Will of our God. Come, hear the choir at morning and evening service, and you will be sure to come again. A welcome.

Methodist Episcopal
 The pastor has returned from the annual conference, and will preach morning and evening. The sermon subject in the morning will be: "The Man to Be." Sunday evening, the pastor will make a brief, graphic review of the whole proceedings of annual conference. Conference is in session nearly a whole week, yet this most vital of all the weeks in the year, as it then draws to its close, is being made to the work of the local church, is far from familiar to the general rank and file of church members. Let us, therefore, invite all children of 7:30 Wednesday. Every Methodist should put in an appearance next Sunday, and share in the joy of a happy year and a big program.

First Presbyterian Church
 Next Sunday, Sept. 25th, will be observed as Rally Day in this church. The evening service, 8:00, will be an effort to get back into the harness for the Fall and Winter church work. At the morning service, 10:30, and every one who stays away in going to back that much a record attendance, the pastor will speak on the subject, "Ant Hills and the Continent." The Sunday School which begins at 12 noon is making an effort to have every enrolled member present at this session. Parents are asked to see that their children are ready for the opening hour of the full gathering of the members of church and congregation, every one of them, for praise, music and prayer, illustrated with beautiful lantern slides. Those who have been coming lately know what that means. The pastor will speak briefly on the subject, "Himself He Could Not Save." Help make this one of the biggest days the church has ever had. Strangers and visitors always welcome.

Church of the Holy Name

Let the People Know

THAT—
 a public utility is a public necessity.

Did you ever stop to consider how necessary to the life of the modern community are fire protection and schools? Let us write them down and opposite them—two public utilities:

- Fire Protection
- Schools
- Gas Service
- Electric Service

Fire protection is vitally necessary to every modern community. No community could afford even to attempt to get along without fire protection, yet it is probable that in almost any city the fire department might lack vacation for hours, or possibly for days, without loss or damage to the community. The nature of the fire department is such that it occurs at intervals, between which the fire departments are inactive.

But cut off the gas supply of the average American city and within a few hours it faces a disastrous condition. While the fire department is necessary, the gas service is indispensable every hour of the day.

Schools lie at the very foundation of American civilization. Of course we must not abate our school facilities. Yet we have three months school vacation, three months during which school machinery stands idle.

What would happen to any American community if it closed down its electric dynamo for three days, to say nothing of three months? Homes, hotels, hospitals, stores, factories in workshops, elevators, street cars, presses, machines, tens of thousands of lathes and spindles standing idle. Just stop for a moment and picture to yourself the condition which would result. It is simply not thinkable in our modern system of life.

Do not these simple comparisons help us the more to appreciate the absolute and constant necessity of the public utility, gas and electric? If we appreciate this, can't we also see how important it is for all of us who are constantly dependent upon these services, to co-operate for their protection and for their successful and proper operation, to be as considerate of them as we are to our fire protection and schools?

Not for a moment can any of us afford to have such indispensable service jeopardized to any selfish use or advantage on the part of any individual or group of individuals in the community.
