ANOTHER KILLING

Five people were killed in an automobile crash on Woodward avenue Sunday. Five lives paid the penalty of crowded traffic conditions on America's "most dangerous highway."

Two hundred and forty-one residents of Cadillac have signed a petition to have the teaching of dancing included in the curriculum of the girl's physical training department.

Redford is having its entire system of house numbering to conform to the plans of the Detroit city plan commission.

The design of the special delivery stamp is being prepared by the Detroit city plan commission.

COMING PAIRS
Cass City—Aug. 11 to 18.
Red Axe—Aug. 30 to Sept. 2.

MITCHELL GOES BACK A HUNDRED YEARS OR SO IN HISTORY
Postmaster George Henry Mitchell, just completing his annual vacation...

FROM THE ECCENTRIC COLUMNS
Forty-Four Years Ago
Mattie Baldwin is home again.

Mr. Woodward, the chief engineer of the proposed new railroad, says that our route is a full mile shorter than by way of Pontiac.

The worst looking postal we ever received was from Dick, a young lad of your city who says that one of the Nicotian Shes has this Sun.

The young stallion, Gazetter, owned by C. M. Raynolds, had a trotting race at Recreation Park in Detroit last Saturday.

Three years ago last spring, J. V. Stevens had a small pear tree which was killed by blight, all except a small twig near the ground.

Twenty-Five Years Ago
Royal Oak received a genuine surprise last week when a wild dressed stranger came quietly into town.

When the Barnum & Bailey circus exhibits at Detroit, Aug. 16, it will doubtless be attended by the largest crowd that ever went to a circus performance in this vicinity.
