AUTO SUPPLANTS DOBBIN—"SMITHY" GIVES WAY, TOO

Where once Old Dobbin tread the dusty roads and, to be fleet-footed, required sharpened steel shoes, now does the automobile, with its pneumatic tires, skip along over the asphalt, gravel or concrete in Oakland county. And with the coming of the automobile there have been many transitions in business places, too.

For more than fifty years past the sound of the ringing anvil, as the blacksmith deftly shaped a shoe for Old Dobbin, sounded forth in the smithy conducted by J. Mel Clement, on East Maple avenue. But this is no more in the "old stand"—for, since Mr. Clement moved his shop next door, F. S. Cornell and son, H. B. Cornell, now send forth the sounds of sizzling steam and the buzzing of an electric transformer as they daily perform the work on repairing tires and batteries for the "horseless buggy" that has long since supplanted Dobbin.

"So fleet the works of men . . ." Cornell & Son invite the public to inspect their modern plant, where a full line of tires, tubes and other accessories are on display.

AN AGE OF PICTURES

The Eccentric Helps Readers To Visualize Current Events

Never in the history of the world have pictures played so important and universal a part in the dissemination of news of unusual events as at the present time. Newspapers which in the past presented an almost unbroken expanse of solid type are now among the most persistent users of pictures, and some of the metropolitan papers are using a whole page each day, and others are devoted almost wholly to the picture-news of the hour.

Pictures tell a story in small space that would require hundreds of words to relate. The reader gets a better idea of the subject if illustrated.

In keeping with the advance of the age, the Eccentric presents each week a department of visualized news, selections from the daily product of several of the most comprehensive picture-service organizations of the world, and takes pride in thus directing special attention to its especially good picture service.

GAFILL ADVISES THAT TANK INJUNCTION BE DISSOLVED

Unless the injunction, obtained by a number of local citizens restraining the village from paying any of the money due on the 300,000 gallon steel tank installed last summer, is voluntarily dissolved, Birmingham will face a lawsuit instituted by the Sharpesville Boiler Works, to the amount of about $6,700. This was made known Monday night by Village Attorney Gafill, who stated that the suit would probably be started in the United States District Court in Detroit in September. Mr. Gafill advised that the petitioners for the injunction be asked to withdraw same. Members of the Commission seemed agreed that this should be done.

Help You Choose Tires

500 miles at 94.48 miles an hour—a relentless grind over a rough-finished, sun-baked concrete and brick pavement at record-breaking speed—that is the gruelling test Oldfield Cord Tires underwent successfully at Indianapolis Speedway May 30th. They were on the winner's car for the third successive year and on eight of the ten finishing in the money, upholding the confidence successful race drivers have in the trustworthiness and ability of these tires to meet the greatest demands of speed, endurance and safety. Their records in every other important race have been equally as good.

Consider this achievement along with another test of Oldfield quality made at Wichita, Kansas, this past winter and early spring.

34,525 miles on rutted, icy Kansas roads, running day and night on a Studebaker stock car without a single tire change. This test was made by a group of Wichita automotive dealers in a tire, oil and gasoline economy run. Mayor Kemp of Wichita was official observer and made affidavit to the mileage and service given by Oldfield tires.

You may never subject your tires to the gruelling experience of Indianapolis nor the steady grind of bad winter roads, but it is good to know you can get such safety and mileage economy by buying Oldfield tires. Ask your nearest dealer.

165% Increased Business

The buying public is the surest barometer of the value of any article. Their approval of Oldfield value has been demonstrated by the increase of 165% in business for the first five months of 1922 over the corresponding period of 1921.

Agents Everywhere

Oldfield Tires are distributed through 72 branches and distributing warehouses in all parts of the United States. More dealers are constantly becoming Oldfield agencies and Oldfield Tires are now available in your community.
