

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lamb of Park street, are the proud and happy parents of a baby boy, born last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elias Dennison, who have been in San Diego, Cal., for the past year, have recently returned to their home just east of Birmingham.

Mrs. Mary J. Downing, who has been visiting her niece, Mrs. Wm. S. Toothacker of Merrill street, for the past month, left this week for her home in Detroit.

Mrs. Jay Hunt entertained in her home on Merrill street, Friday afternoon, in honor of Mrs. Benson Eldred, who is visiting in Birmingham, her former home town.

H. P. Doying of Merrill street, suffered a dislocation of the wrist Monday afternoon while cranking his machine. The result is not permanent, however, and Mr. Doying is rapidly recovering.

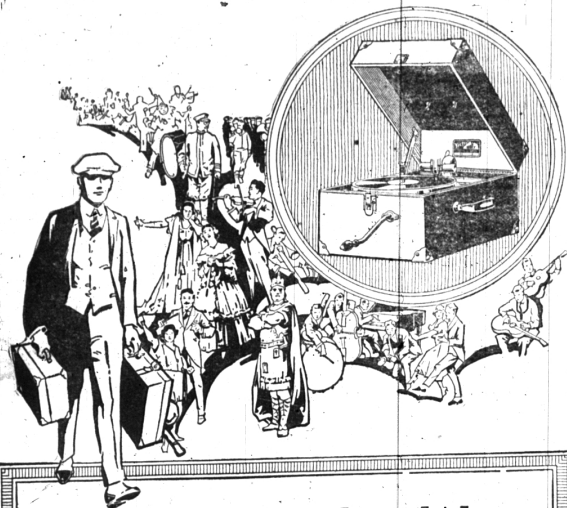

Mrs. Alice Brooks, wife of the late Eugene Brooks, who has lived in Birmingham for so many years, has sold her home on North Woodward avenue, and is going to Washington, D. C., to live. Her daughter, Mrs. Albert Hitchcock of Washington, is here with her mother.

The proceeds from "The Silent Call", in which Jane Marlin, a Detroit woman, presents her wonderful police dog "Strongheart" as the leading character, will start the Alumni fund of the local organization. The picture was given at the Birmingham high school Monday night. A reception for the June graduating class of the high school will be held the sixteenth of this month, will be given by the Alumni Association. The association, which was organized this spring, has contemplated the reception for the Senior class for some time, but was slightly handicapped on account of the lack of organization. The Association meets Wednesday evenings at 7:45 o'clock.

About seventy-five members from three adult men's classes of the Methodist church were present at a very successful banquet, Tuesday evening in the church parlors. The banquet was followed by a delightful program, which W. D. Clark opened with a speech. Miss Elsie Doying sang some piano solos, and Charles A. Gunn of Detroit, secured every body with his impersonations. The water situation was briefly and ably explained by J. H. McCreole, Village President. Guy V. Hoard of Detroit, gave the main address of the evening.

Friday of last week, a group of students from the Detroit Teachers College included Birmingham high school in a student publicity campaign. The group, consisting of the Wessie Street, Fiske and Mildred Toothacker of Birmingham; Miss Nettie Rhodes of Detroit, and Miss Howe, head of the Board of Management, visited Ferndale in the morning, and then came to Birmingham, where Mr. Toothacker entertained them for lunch, and where they appeared in the Senior Session room of Baldwin high school. The campaign spread the afternoon in Pontiac, and the girls reported a successful day.

OBITUARY

Malcolm Hunt
Malcolm Hunt, for 12 years employed by the Village in connection with the water system here, and father of Mack Hunt, former deputy sheriff of Oakland county, died Friday afternoon at his son's home, 112 Brown street, after an illness of three weeks. Death was caused from brain trouble.

Mr. Hunt was apparently in good health when he returned to Birmingham this Spring after a winter visit to his former home, Midland, Mich. He grew steadily worse after the first symptoms three weeks ago, until no hope for his recovery was entertained. He has lived in Birmingham since 1908.

Rev. H. Culry of the United Presbyterian church, conducted the services at the residence and at Greenwood Cemetery, where Mr. Hunt was buried. Surviving are two sons, Albert, of Lansing, and Mack, of Birmingham; two daughters, Mrs. Cylke, of Birmingham, and Mrs. Henry Ratsoff, of Detroit, besides eight grandchildren.

William Casey
William Casey, former well-known Birmingham resident and brother of Mrs. David Roy of Brown street, died Friday night in the University Hospital at Ann Arbor, after an illness from heart disease and complications. The body was removed to Port Sanilac, where Mr. and Mrs. Casey have been making their home, and funeral services and burial took place Monday.

Besides the wife, Mrs. Margaret Casey, there are five children, and six brothers and sisters: Mrs. David Roy, of Birmingham; Mrs. Robert McDonald, of Lexington; James, of Rochester; Robert, of Pontiac; Thomas, of Crookston, Minn.; Joseph, of Lexington, and Mrs. Elmer Monroe of Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Mary A. Daniels
The death of Mary A. Daniels occurred at her late residence in Southfield Thursday morning, June 7, at 4:30 o'clock. She had been confined to her bed since the early part of February. Death was caused from old age.

Mrs. Daniels was one of the oldest settlers in Southfield. She was born in that village Nov. 25, 1836, and spent her entire life there. In 1858 she was married to Samuel H. Daniels of Southfield, and the couple bought property there and made their home where both Mr. and Mrs. Daniels died. Mrs. Daniels was an ardent church worker in the Methodist Episcopal church for years and retired a few years ago, owing to poor health.

Surviving are four children: Mrs. Ida Rander; Mrs. Carrie Nixon and Mrs. Helen Bingham, of Southfield, and Edward Daniels, of Bloomfield. Funeral services will be held from the old home Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. Dunlavy officiating. Burial will be in the Franklin Cemetery.

Miss Esther Hitchcock, who has been the librarian in the Birmingham Public Library, during the year, has left for her home in Washington, D. C.

Rev. Joseph Dutton left Monday for Cleveland, Ohio, where he will stay for about four days, assisting in a campaign for funds for the Methodist College there.
