TANLAC KEEPS HIM FIT, SAYS MCGRAW

Has Used It for Years With Splendid Results—Fine for Run Down Condition.
"For four years Tanlac has kept me in the pink of condition as I take a few doses of it every time I feel a little run down and it always builds me up again," said Wm. A. McGraw, 207 Beach Place, Tampa, Fla.

"I began taking Tanlac first about four years ago when I was in a very bad state of health and had been run down for several years. It was always taking laxatives, too, but I believe they did me more harm than good. Tanlac made me feel like a brand new man in a very short time and I have never had a return of any of my old troubles. The reason of this I am firmly convinced is that I always have Tanlac handy and take a few doses every time I feel a bit under the weather."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists. Thackeray: He faces posterity as a great figure of rich color and honest purpose, a purpose occasionally obscured by the force of imagination and the irresistible promptings of humor; weighing mankind in a gloomy balance, but not without hope; and bespeaking to us the rich and various treasures of literature, which may well survive, if anything survives—Lord Rosebery.

LEGION WOMAN, MOTHER OF 21

Mrs. Jacob Caranek, healthy and happy, holds record among producers of Americans.
Mrs. Jacob Caranek, who runs a neat little grocery store in New Orleans and therein sells butter and eggs, bread, corn and maybe the necessities for making those delectable southern pecan quidies, is also a mother of 21 children.

A child had come to Mrs. Caranek's house each year for 21 years when America entered the World War. Which of the 21 was dearest to her she herself could not tell, but when the two oldest boys, Joseph and Louis, went away to war the large Caranek family was cast into shadow. "What else should I do?" Mrs. Caranek questioned. "They are Americans and their country needs them. It is my duty to raise children. It is right to make them love their country."

Since the first time that America had a war, babies have come into the world named for a great or general. The namesakes of Gen. George Washington here are 11 numerous; those of Robert E. Lee and U. S. Grant are going strong into the second generation and there are not a few John J. Feringh, Stanislas and Josephes to wit with the less recent Deweys and Teddy Roosevelts.

NAMED FOR THE COMMANDER

Legion Member Pays Honor to New Son and the Leader of the American Organization.
Since the first time that America had a war, babies have come into the world named for a great or general. The namesakes of Gen. George Washington here are 11 numerous; those of Robert E. Lee and U. S. Grant are going strong into the second generation and there are not a few John J. Feringh, Stanislas and Josephes to wit with the less recent Deweys and Teddy Roosevelts.

One service man of the American Legion has, however, started the naming of babies after the national commander of the Legion of the year in which the child was born. The first on record is young Hanford Morris, Atlanta, Ga., born a few days after Hanford MacNider, Missou City, Ia., was elected national commander of the Legion. His father, Albert R. Morris, is a member of Atlanta post No. 1 of the Legion.

Recently an ex-soldier of Chicago went into court and asked to be allowed to drop his middle name, which was unpronounceable, he declares. The court gave permission and the service man, an enthusiastic Legionnaire, chose the name of Legion to accompany him through life.

Legion Post Stages "Movies."
To satisfy curiosity about the Hollywood (Cal.) post of the American Legion stages a "movie" every week. This saves wear and tear on the nerves of the people in Movieland, and at the same time gives a more realistic view of how movies are made. Real reel directors, cameras and stars are used in the model exhibitions—but the Legion does the work.

To Halt "Fake" Money-Raising.
In an effort to stop the sale of publications by ex-service men who allege that the money derived is going to be used for the benefit of sick and wounded ex-service men, the American Legion national office has warned its 11,000 posts not to sanction any sale of periodicals until the Chamber of Commerce or some like civic organization has first approved.

Grounds for Jealousy.
Hornblower: "Why don't you and Billings go into partnership?"
Snedeker: "He was engaged to my wife before I was. You'd better agree I would take a stunner man than I am for a partner, do you?"—American Legion Weekly.

Too Much Saluting.
Mayor Oles of Youngstown, Ohio, has revoked his order which called for all his policemen to salute the "Arm wouldn't stand it," his council said in way of explanation.

LEGION 'QUEEN' IS DIPLOMAT

Miss Ruth Metcalf, Burlington (Ia.) Girl, Names Her Brother "Carnival King."

Women began practicing the art of dress-up when they were about three days old, and the present generation of fair ones are not so backward. In the world known. Even the distinguished foreign diplomats who wear red stripes across their halloled skirts at formal dinners will give the palm to a sweet Iowa girl, however, and if they hesitate, a number of Iowa men might have a word to say that would prompt them.

It happened that the American Legion of Burlington, Ia., having a high carnival and desiring a queen, chose the most beautiful of attention. At Miss Ruth Metcalf, who later displayed tact. Miss Metcalf being duly and fittingly crowned queen, now would choose one of the ex-soldiers as king. It was announced, whereat some hundreds of assorted male beauties struck attitudes of attention. After looking closely over the assembled Legionnaires, Miss Metcalf calmly pointed out her own brother, and crowned him king of the first American Legion. She was settled with nice diplomacy and the big carnival parade got under way.

ENDED SITTING BULL'S REIGN

Chief Red Tomahawk, Sioux Warrior and Commander MacNider Smoke Pipe of Peace.

Since the passing of the time loved by the red-skins who used to frequent it have become lost to the world, the old Sitting Bull may well be remembered, even if the name of the old Sitting Bull is not known. The name of the old Sitting Bull is not known. The name of the old Sitting Bull is not known.

Physical Deterioration.
Physical examinations of regular army officers show the most characteristic of physical deterioration which is due to strain incident to the World War; the army medical department reports. This investigation is being taken to light a serious explanation of some part of the restlessness among former soldiers which can be laid to their having undergone a severe nervous strain.

Alaska Has the Wealth.
Alaska, could not only pay a richly adjusted composition, if it were richly developed, but the whole war field besides, according to Albert B. Fall, secretary of the interior. What is believed to be the greatest oil field in the world is in the Arctic near the Alaskan coast. A tremendous coal belt in Alaska is undeveloped and the greatest copper mine in the world as well.

Legion Asks for New Law.
"What say you to this?" The band-organ man ground out the national anthem and the music danced and quivered his sharp eyes. Then the band-organ man passed the hat. But in New York state he will have to change his tune. If the American Legion gets its bill through the legislature prohibiting the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner" for the purpose of collecting money.

Carrying On With the American Legion

The official American Legion grave markers may be had from national headquarters for $1.00 each, now.

The Legion post of Decatur, Ark., has bought the city's telephone system, and after an overhauling, will operate it.

The famous French general, Gouraud, has been invited to attend the reunion this year of the Rainbow Division, in Minneapolis, Minn.

Polson gas which A. M. Thompson, Cheyenne (Wyo.) policeman inhaled in France during the World War has just caused him to lose 20 teeth. He recovered from it and long illness after the teeth had been removed.

CREPE FOR MATRON'S GOWN; LINGERIE IS LESS TRIMMED

MELBLY to think of a dress, for dress-up times, gives one a crepe, which it appears. For crepes, in their various weaves, remain unrivaled and so far, even unchanged. Everywhere in dressmaking and evening gatherings they predominate, making a pleasant color harmony in shades of blue, beige, gray, green, rust and brown, with black interposed rather plentifully among them. No fabric is better adapted to the demands of the matron new ones, introducing color contrasts, and she has lingerie that is less trimmed and more tailored in style, but nevertheless pretty and practical. Color will never usurp the place of the hand made and hand decorated undergarments on which much expert needlework has been lavished; it is without peer in refinement and beauty. The choicest trend of this line, while lingerie in sheer cottons, is flesh colored, and made of crepe de chine.

who looks for long and graceful lines and is desirous of clear and original ideas in designing. For crepe, in every one of these requirements appears in the handsome model pictured. It is made of French gray crepe with a slight sheen, and is trimmed with a simple and elegant design. The material is presented into itself in interpreting the present mode superbly. Narrow folds of the crepe, dotted with beads, are simple as can be, but they contrive an original and beautiful adornment. Set in between two wider folds they form the glorie. This gown may be worn over a sheer, lace-trimmed slip (shorter in length) in flesh color, or in white, or over a light pink underslip. Beaded trimmings, used with the restraint, fringes and trimmings made of the material, characterize these crepe gowns. They are, the diverts of fashion, graceful, with skirts ankle length and low waist lines. But the neck line and silk transparent crepe is shown in many colors, as pink, orchid, yellow, blue, light green, lavender, and is especially liked for night dresses and pajamas. Hemstitching and lace are done in a variety of colors, making the simplest decorations for garments of colored tulle. Several colors are combined in this line, as in a lavender chemise striped at the neck line with three rows of shirtings, using rose, blue, and pale green threads.

CHANGE OF LIFE WOMAN'S TRIAL

Proof That Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is of Great Help at This Period

Metropolis, Illinois—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has done me all it claims to be and has benefited me wonderfully. I had been sick for eight months with a trouble which confined me to my bed and was only able to be up part of the time when I was advised by a friend, Mrs. Smith, to try Lydia E. Pinkham's vegetable Compound and Liver Pills. I was so much benefited by the use of these medicines that I was able to be up and about in two weeks. I was at the Change of Life when I began taking the medicine and I passed over that time without any trouble. Now I am able and hearty, do all my housework, washing, ironing, scrubbing, and cooking, all the time as usual about a house, and can walk two or three miles without getting too tired. I know of several of my neighbors who have been helped by your medicines."—Mrs. Emma Colvins, 705 E. 7th St., Metropolis, Ill.
