J. HARRY McBride Hardware Dealer

J. Harry McBride is of Scotch ancestry and takes great pride in being a descendent of the Clan McBride of Caledonia. Mr. McBride was born at Beaver Dam, Ohio, in 1881, and January 24th is his natal day. As a boy Mr. McBride attended the public school at Beaver Dam and is a graduate of Beaver Dam high school. For five years he was a school teacher, after which he entered the hardware business at Lima, Ohio, as a clerk. This store was kept by J. J. Ewing, who was the leading hardware merchant of the city. In this store Mr. McBride obtained a thorough training in all branches of the business and then came to Michigan. This was in 1910. He in this year opened a hardware store for F. J. Poole at Pontiac, Mich., and was manager of the place for five years. In 1913 Mr. McBride came to Birmingham and with Mr. Slusser, bought out Philip Schlaack. For three years Mr. McBride and Mr. E. J. Slusser were in partnership, and then Mr. Slusser bought out Mr. McBride's interest. Mr. McBride then opened in his present location, Mr. McBride is Village President, being elected last March. He was also five years on the School Board. He is a Mason, an Odd Fellow and a Booster for his Home Town.

CHARLES PECK Merchant Tailor

Charles Peck is one of Birmingham's substantial citizens. He is a native Detroitian and four years ago came to the conclusion that Birmingham is the best place on earth in which to live, flourish and bring up a family in the way it should go. In order to maintain this family Mr. Peck opened a Merchant Tailoring business in the old Ford Building, and about six years ago moved into his present location at 121 Maple avenue. Mr. Peck carries a fine line of imported and Domestic Woolsens, and makes gentlemen's clothes to order, and is well known citizen expressed in "He makes Good Clothes". The establishment also does cleaning, pressing and repairing men's, women's and children's wear, also rugs, drapes, pillow tops, hats, caps and Another branch of the business is a complete line of haberdashery and this department could easily be called the Men's Store Complete.

Raymond H. Peck is associated with his father, and is an ex-service man and a member of the local post of the American Legion. Raymond will be 18 months in service.

PHILLIP J. WILLIAMS Shoe Store Shain Block

Mr. Phillip Williams is a recent excellent acquisition amongst the business men of our village, and has a large and well appointed shoe store in the new Shain Block at 121 Maple avenue West. For men, Mr. Williams carries the well and favorably known RALSTON, also other well known makes. In Ladies Shoes he carries the J. and K. and the Wiles & Cooper Brand. These lines are very well known and give the highest degree of value for style, quality and cost. For the children he has the P. Cognan and Son, and the R. T. Woods. Mr. Williams is of proven worth. Mr. Williams states that he stands squarely behind every bit of merchandise that he markets.

As to Mr. Williams, he is a native of Mt. Clemens and attended school at Richmond. After a good schooling, including high school, he worked for his father until he was 19 years of age. In 1902 he came to Detroit and entered the P. J. Schmidt Retail Shoe Store at 124 Michigan avenue. Detroit, and remained there until 1922. He then came to Birmingham. Mr. Williams is an active Odd Fellow, belonging to Western 370, Detroit.

Mr. Williams located in Birmingham because, as he said, he believes thoroughly in the future growth of the community, and another reason being that the people are of a high type in every way and are good Americans.

GLENN M. BEGOLE (Palmer, Begole Co.)

Glenn M. Begole is a native Detroit, and is a graduate of Jefferson public and Central High schools. After graduation he went into the wholesale dry goods establishment of Burham Stoepe in Detroit and in George E. Daines. Mr. O'Neal lives at 300 E. Madison avenue, having occupied the same house for 31 years. Mr. O'Neal must be a good boss, because F. D. Hoffman has been in his employ for 31 years as assistant. Mr. Hoffman is, as Mr. O'Neal says, better known as "Dandy" and "Cap" by the home folks. Mr. Hoffman showed the writer an old mahogany clock with wooden works and stated that the chronometer is easily over a hundred years old, and said that at some future date he would tell the story of the clock to the readers of this paper.

Mr. O'Neal has been practically in the same location for thirty-eight years. He manufactures and repairs Harness and Leather Goods and carries a fine line of Robes, Blankets, Trunks and Bags, Gloves, Mittens and Fur-lined Overcoats. He is a Village Trustee for about eight years, serving with such pioneers of the community as Frank Hagerman and

Leather Goods Dealer

Mr. O'Neal said that he didn't want to talk so much about himself, as about Birmingham—the community in which he has lived for thirty-eight years. "When I came to Birmingham from Canada and started in the business of manufacturing Harness and leather things for another day and night, the population of this town was 1,070. There were no sidewalks, excepting in a few spots, no parks at all, and no banks. It was just a primitive country cross-roads. Detroit, and remained there until 1922. He then came to Birmingham.
