HONOR ROLL
During the year of 1922, the Honor Roll was introduced into the High School. The students eligible must have a grade of B or above in all subjects. The grade is equal to 90. The result has been increased, better grades, better attendance and scholarship.
Out of three hundred eighty students the following twenty-three are on the Roll this month: Harry Bradley, Monzelle Hoffman, Robert Comie, Charles Latham, Charles Taylor, Katherine Furman, Helen Clarke, Alice Clement, Clarence Wheat, Douglas Atchison, Edwin Weaver, Margaret Rainey, Helen Giesel, Edward Ryder, Faye Headorf, Olive Maxwell, Robert Herrick, Helen Van Every, Margaret Berg, Royce Drake, Katherine Ferguson, Alice Vinet, Eleanor Rainey.
Work has begun for a larger Roll next month.

Birmingham's first home game of the season was played against Fenton and won by the local boys last Friday night. The game was rather one-sided, the Fenton team being very light and unable to do much against the heavier Birmingham eleven. They put up a good fight just the same and their aerial attack in the last half was rather troublesome.
Coach Drake started the regulars all the boys got a chance. Burk-made a touchdown in the few minutes he was in the game, showed that he deserved place on the first squad. Vinet was rushed into the game to try for a point after Burkman's touchdown although he missed by a couple of inches, he made a good try. Schultz also played a good game, breaking through the Fenton line time after time.
The next game is with Ypsilanti here and though it will not be as easy as the Fenton game we hope for a victory even though we have lost our two star backfield men, "Boots" and "Husky."

BALDWIN BRIEFS
Report cards showed some startling facts.
The Sophomores lead on the honor roll. The other classes should make a better showing.

nesday by making a tour of the city.

any 8th Grader.
The lockers are closed nowadays.
Watch for the first Latin paper.
First lecture course number Nov. 2.
Good attendance has been reported the first five weeks. Keep it up.
Some teachers are holding after school classes. You can guess the rest.

THE LATIN PAPER
A Latin paper has been started this year in the high school. It is to be issued twice a semester and will be sold at five cents a copy. John Gore has been elected editor-in-chief, and Robert Schorr as associate editor.
These two offices will change with every issue. A business manager has also been elected, Edward Ryder. He sees his office through two issues.
Also a reporter from the four upper classes has been appointed who will look after the contribution matter.
The paper will consist of Latin stories and reading matter, contributions in part Latin and part English, and also articles concerning the classes and the language, entirely in English.
The Birmingham Eccentric will print the paper and under such a competent adviser as Miss Bassett, our Latin teacher, we feel that the publication will be a success and will be out more often in the future.

The first issue appears about the last of October.
A joint assembly was held in the auditorium Friday afternoon and a very unique affair it was.
The Boys' Glee Club, in rustic attire, sang several popular songs and a very unique affair it was.

FRANK S. CORNELL
HAROLD P. CORNELL
Frank S. Cornell, one of Birmingham's leading business men, was born in Kalamazoo county. Mr. Cornell is English and Dutch ancestry, and it does not take long to learn that he inherits the sturdiness of both races.
Four years ago Mr. Cornell came to Birmingham from Grand Rapids, Mich. During the World's war he did his bit by making shells for Uncle Sam. After the war he went to Pontiac and became connected with the General Motors Co., where he remained for three years in various capacities. In 1922 he bought out Mr. Raymond, one of our local business men, and in a short time built up an excellent business in his chosen line.
Mr. Cornell's specialties are Battery Service and Automobile Accessories, including Goodrich and Firestone Tires. He also specializes on McClellan House Batteries, and handles Sinclair Gas and Oils.
Associated with him is his son, Harold P. Cornell, who is a Battery Expert. Harold P. Cornell is also a native of Grand Rapids, and was, not long ago, studying for the ministry.
He spent three years in Methodist Seminary work in Chicago, and two years in Pittsburgh in a United Presbyterian institution.
Both of the Messrs. Cornell are deeply interested in the growth and uplifting of Birmingham and in this connection stated that the building that they occupy for business purposes was once a blacksmith shop, and instead of now serving "Dobbin" as Mr. Cornell expressed it, the place is now serving the modern automobile.
