GORDON L. BAILEY

Mr. Bailey is one of the younger business men of Birmingham, and like many successful ones, he was born on a farm. About four years after his birth his family moved to Oxford taking young Mr. Bailey along. Of course there is nothing unusual about this. Gordon attended the Oxford public school until he reached the age of nine years after which he came to Birmingham and continued his schooling, including attendance at the Birmingham high school. He was with the D. & C. Navigation Co. for five years as freight clerk and also as partner. In 1917 he answered the call of his country and went to Camp Custer, being attached to the 85th Division. He was made sergeant, and became a part of the quartermaster's department.

After the armistice he came back to Birmingham and worked in a number of different employments. He conducted a local movie theatre for seven months, and was a salesman for Bougner Bros. In 1922 he took over the D. U. R. confectionery from George Blackmer. This establishment carries a fine line of Cigars and Candies, Ice Cream, Periodicals and Newspapers.

Mr. Tuggey is interested in the development of the public school system and in teachers' welfare, having done much here for the benefit of the local teaching fraternity, and while in Adrian he also helped the teachers of that city in obtaining valuable concessions from the taxpayers. Mr. Tuggey has two sons, Arthur, who is with the First State Bank, and one attending the local school.
