Red Crown The High-Grade Gasoline Better Than Ever

There is an erroneous idea abroad. You hear it every day. "Gasoline is not as good as it used to be." The fact is that the Red Crown Gasoline you are getting today is an almost perfect fuel.

Perhaps there is no industry where progress has made such rapid strides as the refining of petroleum.

For example, we cite the Burton Process, developed and perfected in the laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). The Burton Process has enabled the refiner to bring gasoline to a point of efficiency hitherto un hoped for.

Red Crown Is Made by the Burton Process

Red Crown vaporizes to the last drop. There is no waste—it produces instant starting Winter or Summer—a quick get-away—a smooth running engine—tremendous sustained pulling power and racing speed if you want it.

"Tis Cheaper to Build Well at the Start Than to Make Repairs All Your Life"
Don't make the mistake of buying building material by price only. Under-size timbers that cannot stand the strain of weight are a poor investment at any price. A little careful attention to the requirements of your material will often save the expense of frequent repairs.

Theatres

Walter Hampden in Series of Good Plays at Garrick
One of the outstanding dramatic events of the season is the appearance of Walter Hampden at the Garrick Theatre beginning next Sunday night. During the week he will be seen in five plays. His repertoire includes the star's two latest productions, "The Ring of Truth," by Arthur Goodrich and "The Black Flag," a romantic comedy by A. E. Thomas. Both of these pieces are scheduled to be introduced to New York next autumn at Mr. Hampden's National Theatre. The actor will also be viewed here for the first time in "Othello." His embodiment of the Jemima Moor is said to be an achievement which easily takes rank with his famous interpretation of Hamlet, in which character he will appear Monday night only. In addition a single performance will be given of Philip Massinger's famous sardonic comedy, "A New Way to Pay Old Debts."

At the Baldwin, Royal Oak
When Irvin V. Willat signed a contract for four weeks at the high seas during the filming of "All the Brothers Were Valiant," his Metro picture, at the Baldwin Theatre, Royal Oak, next week, Thursday and Friday, he did not know that he was getting a picture which was so successful. Mr. Willat made certain only that the men were safe and that the sailing and windjamming experience and a willingness for the risky business of harpooning whales in the style of Tom and Jerry. It required for one of his assistants to discover something else. "See you and take a look at the crew, Mr. Willat," said his assistant. There they were, these twenty-seven men, in their quarters, awaiting Mr. Willat's inspection—each of them stripped to the waist and each covered with a scurf of every conceivable description. "Help!" cried Mr. Willat. "In addition to your art enter." Just the same, the sight of so many odd designs was fascinating, and the director, in his excitement, forgot to put in amazement before one burly sailor who had a map of the Americas tattooed upon his chest, and of Europe upon his back. "In this photograph is seen a notable crew. The players include Billie Perry, Malcolm McGregor, Lon Chaney, Robert McKim and William Monge.
