

LOS ANGELES MAN SAYS IT NEVER FAILS

"Tanax is my stand-by, and I wouldn't think of being without it. It has set me on my feet more than once when I had such bad spells of stomach trouble. I thought I couldn't get well." This emphatic statement was made recently by W. C. Wallace, 320 N. Normandie Place, Los Angeles, Calif.

"An acid stomach and indigestion caused me indescribable suffering for more than four years," he said. "Several pains would strike me soon after eating, and I would be almost doubled up in agony. Often I had to take to my bed, and I would lose much weight with every spell. I was told I had ulcers, enlarged stomach and other ailments, but all my efforts to get relief failed. I kept getting worse, and figured I would have to get something to help me or I couldn't keep going much longer.

"I read in the papers where Tanax was helping others with stomach troubles, so I began taking it. It never failed to straighten me out, and I gained back my lost weight, too. I am now grateful that I can say for the good this medicine has done me, and I do not hesitate to give it my fullest recommendation."

Tanax is sold by all good druggists. Over 35 million bottles sold—Advertisement.

The AMERICAN LEGION

TO HELP COMBAT ILLITERACY

American Legion Auxiliary Called Upon by National Chairman to Aid in Educational Work.

Under the leadership of Mrs. J. E. Baird of Lincoln, Neb., thousands of members of the American Legion Auxiliary assisted the Legion in its American Education work program. December 31, 1922, Mrs. Baird is chairman of the auxiliary's national American Education commission. Appealing to the auxiliary's 37,000 members, Mrs. Baird made the following statement:

"Mrs. J. E. Baird, 2700 W. 17th St., Lincoln, Neb., who gave our sons, brothers and husbands to battle for the enlightenment of the world, are deeply interested in the Legion's efforts to combat illiteracy and ignorance which have been revealed as one of our principal sources of national danger.

"The war draft tests, showing that our most promising men were six per cent illiterate and the subsequent discovery that the United States stands eleventh among the great nations in point of literacy have alarmed the good women of this country and they are eager to remedy this deplorable state of affairs."

Mrs. Baird also pointed out that 22.4 per cent of those examined for the draft were found to be physically unfit and urged that the relatives of veterans assist the Legion in its program to install playgrounds and to establish clubs for physical exercise among school children.

Among the principal activities of the auxiliary women during American Education week was a campaign urging the importance of regular visits to the school.

LEGIOM MAN TRAINS PIGEONS

Starts Coon of St. Paul, Minn., an Expert in Teaching the Feathered Messengers.

Training homing pigeons is the hobby of Stuart W. Cohen, a member of the American Legion in St. Paul, Minn.

A pigeon lover since childhood, Cohen has been training the birds since 1910. His pupils have flown successfully at all distances up to 1,400 miles. A number of pigeons trained by Cohen are now assisting forest fire prevention work at a post established at Tower, Minn.

"Cohen is a carrier pigeon to Virginia, Minn., recently, where a message was attached to it to return to St. Paul. Worn out, its tail drooping and its big feet aching, the pigeon came back to St. Paul. The message was gone. In a severe search and wound. The post-wear signs and ruffled, indicating it had encountered forest fire in the northern part of the state. Cohen estimated that the pigeon may have gone two or three hundred miles out of its course when the smoke of the forest fires confused its sense of direction."

Cohen spent most of his army service at Camp Forest, Ga.

MACNIDER AS BUICK PRIVATE

Former National Commander Promised to Tell Buddies How He Feels To Be Back in Rank.

Hanford MacNider, past national commander of the American Legion, has promised to write an article in the near future for his Iowa buddies telling how it feels to be a buck private in the Legion ranks again.

"Reports that MacNider might 'take' in the East after his serious illness and there over the past, from time to time is certain. He will be the same old Jack MacNider, for Iowa has his home and his heart is here with his buddies."

"MacNider may think he will continue to be a buck, but the service he has given the Legion is far too distinguished and he has impressed too many people with his caliber to long remain as a buck or private citizen. There are too many big jobs he can do better than any other man for him to long remain down here with us ordinary mortals."

Favors Postal Organizers

A paid organizer for each post of the American Legion, dispersing less than half of its budget to its members, is a poster is strongly advocated by the Hoosier Legionnaire, official organ of the Indiana department of the American Legion. The Indiana publication believes that a man who won't take "No" for an answer, armed with blank checks, alone membership cards, and an unlimited supply of literature, facts and figures of the Legion, who would work about 16 hours a day, would be an excellent investment for any post.

TO CARE FOR MENTAL CASES

Government is Seeking Young Physicians Undergoing Training for Veterans' Bureau Service.

Dr. Frank F. Hutchins, clinical director of the United States Veterans' bureau, in Washington, D. C., recently visited national headquarters of the American Legion upon request to explain the new step taken by the Veterans' bureau to provide better trained doctors and nurses in the care of neuro-psychiatric World War veterans.

The government is looking for 50 young doctors of medicine to compose an initial class for special training in the treatment of mental cases. Doctor Hutchins said:

"Neuro-psychiatry is perhaps the most difficult of all the veterans' ailments," he said, "and it is a disease by a definite form. Almost everyone knows what kind of treatment and care should be given to a tubercular patient. This mental disease, however, may be the combination of many other physical ailments. Hardly two of them are exactly alike. It is a new ailment, and doctors handling these cases need special training. They must have all the patience in the world."

Doctor Hutchins said it is impossible to obtain the required number of specialists in nervous and mental diseases, and that it has become necessary for the government to instruct a staff of its own for this line of work.

"The policy of the bureau is to provide medical attention for the disabled veterans so that everything possible may be done to restore them to health and proper status in civilian life," he said.

A systematic and comprehensive course in neuro-psychiatry has been outlined. It consists of 126 lectures and demonstrations and some 40 hours of clinical and laboratory work.

Three classes are to be given. The first, which will last four months, is for the academic. The next is a post-graduate course of six weeks and the third consists of one or two conferences a year lasting three or four days, where ideas and experiences are exchanged.

The accepted candidates will receive $100 a month during the school work, and after graduation will be passed assistant surgeons in the reserve corps of the United States public health service, or eligible for employment as "class-B" physicians under the United States civil service commission and assigned to duty with United States Veterans' bureau. These salaries range from $3,000 a year upward.

The first class started work January 4, and at the same time schools for graduate nurses, social service, occupational-therapist and physio-therapeutic work began.

BONDY GETS RED CROSS CALL

Member of Peers-Williams Post of St. Louis Appointed Director of War Service.

Robert E. Bondy, a member of Peers-Williams Post of the American Legion at St. Louis, has recently been appointed to the important office of director of war service of the American Red Cross.

Mr. Bondy has had a wide range of experience with the Red Cross since April, 1918, when he came to the organization from the social service bureau of the chamber of commerce of Columbus, O., where he was director of the first large war chests of the early war days, raising $3,250,000 in that city in six days.

He served as secretary-treasurer of the public welfare section of the city conference of public welfare in 1917 and during the war was an enlisted man.

Mr. Bondy is a native of Minnesota, and received his education at Chicago university. For a time he was a reporter on the Chicago Tribune. His many duties have thrown him in contact with the work for his service men. This, combined with his camp experience and his training as a social service executive, peculiarly fits him for his new duties.

Representing the Red Cross, Mr. Bondy took part in the annual national gathering of Legion state adjutants held in Indianapolis.

Chance to Profit

Rafferty of the Old Sod, and MacPherson, a Scot, were miners together. One day Rafferty accidentally emptied his pipe on the face of MacPherson, who he came down from in the installment plan. Mac's grief was genuine. He said he had tried to hang and went out to notify Mrs. MacPherson. "Is this the Widow Rafferty?" she asked when the woman appeared at the door.

"Yes Mrs. Rafferty I am, but no Widow Rafferty," she snipped.

A businesslike gleam came into MacPherson's eye.

"Ah! how much will ye bet?" he demanded.—American Legion Weekly.

Offered to Sell Body

A jobless and ill Minnesota veteran approached the director of the American Legion employment agency in Minneapolis and offered to sell his body for dissection purposes that he might have some comfort until death came. He is now being cared for by the Legion.

Doesn't Always Work

"Married couples should yield to one another's opinion to get along," said the sober-faced man.

"I dunno," responded the other. "I didn't work in my case. I told my wife I wasn't worthy of her and she declared I was. For the sake of her many I yielded my opinion and she yielded her opinion and I suppose she and so parted. No I guess what you said isn't so, stranger."

Blue Favorite Color

Blue is the favorite color of both men and women, according to Dr. Theodorus E. Bolton, professor of psychology at Temple university, who has made a research study of colors. Blue and yellow and black and yellow are the most popular combinations of both sexes, with violet as favorite from the point of the commercial as the royal color, Doctor Bolton says.

Some wise men know too many things that are not true.

He Had Enough

Political activity in a small Italian town won for one of the village figures the postmaster's job. Quite properly politically speaking, he ran both thumbs in the plum pudding and thought he was a great boy. But he was no bookkeeper. His accounts soon got in what might be called a mess. Finally he got word to prepare for checking out. He fussed over the accounts for hours and late into the evening.

"Come on out to supper," pleaded a friend.

"Supper!" exclaimed the troubled one. "I don't want no supper. I'm full of figures!"

According to a popular idea, a philanthropist is any man.

WESTERN CANADA

Big Wheat Crops

Canada is the world's greatest producer of wheat—second only to the United States—yet only about 12% of the tillable area has been worked. Yields of 40 bushels of wheat per acre are being made. Crops have grown as high as 100 bushels per acre, while 40 to 50 bushels per acre are ordinary yields. The soil is rich and the climate is perfect. The conditions are ideal for the raising of the finest wheat. Cattle and horses thrive on the native grasses which grow abundantly and corn yields 50 to 75 bushels per acre.

Chicago Daily Tribune

THE WORLD'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER.

Announces

A BIG REDUCTION IN SUBSCRIPTION RATES

For the Benefit of Readers Receiving The Tribune By Mail

Therefore, without waiting further for Congress to act, the Tribune announces a reduction in subscription rates ranging from 1/3 to 1/2. This cut in rates will cost The Tribune approximately $200,000 each year, but The Tribune will pay the bill in the interest of its many country readers.

New subscriptions to The Chicago Daily Tribune, starting on and after January 15th, 1923, will be accepted at the following rates:

THE CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE
(By Mail, Six Days a Week)

These Rates Apply Only to Subscriptions in States of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin. (Cities, Towns and Rural Routes Included.)

Period	Old Rate	New Rate
1 Month	$1.00	$.50
3 Months	2.50	1.25
6 Months	3.75	2.50
12 Months	7.50	5.00

In 1917, as a war measure, Congress passed a bill providing for four annual raises in Postal Rates for newspaper subscriptions. As The Tribune had, for many years before, sold its paper to out-of-town readers at less than cost, it felt compelled to add a portion of these postage increases to its subscription rates.

For the past three years The Chicago Tribune has been leading the fight to obtain a reduction in second-class postage rates so that it could reduce to pre-war prices its subscription rates to residents of farms and small cities.

Although every one of the other ten taxes established by the war revenue act of 1917 has been reduced, Congress has not seen fit as yet to reduce the tax on second-class postage.

At the present Postal Rates it costs The Tribune from $3.20 to $6.79 a year for postage alone to send the paper to each subscriber in the States of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin. In many instances this is more than The Tribune's entire subscription price—without considering the cost of the product.

Many of our former friends have stated that it required from 10 to 12 bushels of corn to pay for a year's subscription to The Chicago Daily Tribune. The Tribune is anxious to remedy that fact.
