Theatres

At the Garrick, Detroit
 "Lawful Larceny," an absorbing melodrama from the pen of Samuel Shipman, and originally produced by A. H. Woods with a cast including Lowell Sherman, Alan Dinehart and Margaret Lawrence, will be the offering of the Bonstelle Company at the Garrick theatre, Detroit, next week, beginning on Monday night. Mr. Shipman has given a peculiar twist to his absorbing story and gives us a moral and legal problem to solve. A wife goes away on a trip and during her absence the husband falls into the clutches of a woman who makes a business and living by prying into his unsuspecting men. She cleverly entices the husband in her meshes and by the time the wife returns the husband is nearing bankruptcy and has even given a note for a considerable sum to the vampire, who under the guise of entertaining conducts a gambling house. "Lawful Larceny" offers many unique twists, and while melodramatic as to theme and story, provides a varied interest and an unusual comedy vein. It is a play in which many elements of human interest—love, passion, gambling, thrills and comedy, happily combined by the master hand of author Shipman, has given us several big stage successes.

At the Baldwin Theatre, Royal Oak
 "The Toll of the Sea," the first motion picture produced in all the beautiful colors, will be shown at the Baldwin Theatre, Royal Oak, tomorrow matinee and evening. Sunday and Monday, "Till We Meet Again," a dramatic crook play with an all-star cast, will be the feature for the performance. "The Cold Homestead," a special two-reel comedy, will be an added attraction. Pola Negri in the role of a fascinating, seductive flirt, will be seen in "Mad Love" Tuesday and Wednesday. "Just Like a Woman," a screen drama featuring Marguerite de La Motte, George Fawcett and Ralph Graves, will be shown Thursday and Friday. Saturday, July 21, "The U. P. Trail," Zane Grey's stupendous and thrilling tale shows the story of the master hand of author Shipman, has given us several big stage successes.

QUITS D. U. R. TO OPEN OIL FILLING STATION

Construction will soon be commenced on a new oil filling station, which will be situated on the lot next to Wilmot H. Wood's residence, 304 Southfield avenue. Mr. Wood has received permission from the Village Commission to build the station, and the contractor has promised its completion within the next three weeks. Mr. Wood has been with the D. U. R. as motorman for the past 15 years. Previous to this he spent six years as printer of the Christian Herald, a Baptist paper, and eight years as a mail carrier in Birmingham. As a boy Mr. Wood started with the D. U. R., watering the horses on the old Fort street line. He is leaving the D. U. R. because of ill-health, and his resignation, which has been tendered to take place July 15, will be deeply regretted by the officials of the company to which he has given such excellent service for so many years.
