Having to Do With a Real Revival Of Religion In Christian Homes By GENERATION AND REGENERATION

The Birth of Holy Children (By Cor. 7:14) and Their Nurture By Christian Parents, in Detached and Supported (By The Christian Church)

Editor's Note: This is one of a series of articles that appeared in the Detroit Tribune between the years 1901 and 1904...

Religion in our day tend more and more away from the individual, the family and the church...

In connection with the above, I want to direct attention to a leading editorial which appears in the current number of the Ram's Horn...

FOR PARENTS TO PONDER.

"A recent number of the Woman's Journal discusses in an earnest editorial the 'depraved children'...

A society is being formed for the purpose of setting up a "family altar" and establishing family worship...

Only married men are eligible for membership, and all such who sign the obligation thereby become full members...

A child of 6 may well begin the life of a saint at the age of 16... The child of 6 may well begin the life of a saint at the age of 16...

Yes, that—whether in the approach upon himself or whether in the burdensome presence of non-supporting old age...

The Sabbath day—ah, how has its goodly green been cut in upon! Street cars, splendid dinners, splendid toils...

We would take courteous issue with the statement quoted above... "young lives of our grandparents..."

All this summer we have been watching the life of a little girl of 6—a very typical, American child...

These articles were written mainly because of suggestions to those Christians, and laymen, who are continually talking about, and praying for, "a revival of religion..."

Why should children run loose all day long because they are not going to school?

Regarding the Farmer

The interests of Birmingham and farmers in the surrounding country are closely connected.

We depend upon the farmer for our produce. He in turn looks to us for what we can offer.

There is electricity, telephone service; civic facilities at large; our stores where his needs are met.

With the spirit of full co-operation the merchants of Birmingham offer to the farmer, reliable goods at fair prices.

His patronage enables them to grow and to further extend their field of commercial usefulness to him.

For these reasons, our neighbors from the farms about, show a wise economy when they—
