Y. M. C. A. NEWS

The board of directors met with the Y. M. C. A. at dinner last Tuesday evening at the Baldwin Cafeteria. A very interesting program was arranged by Joseph Bailey, president of the club.

Mr. Pursey, secretary of the Railroad Y. M. C. A. of Detroit gave a very interesting story of his experiences in Czechoslovakia, while doing Y. M. C. A. work during the time that that country was being reborn into a republic.

The next speaker was Mr. Suvada, introduced by Mr. Pursey. Mr. Suvada, who is a native of Czechoslovakia, came to this country before the war to secure an education. He spoke of the conditions in his native country when he first came, emphasizing particularly the difficulty of the common or poorer children in securing an education. He also brought in contrast the former conditions under the old form of government and the conditions under the present. Church dominance, which was then endured, has been done away with and religious freedom prevails in the new republic. Czechoslovakia is the only country in southeastern Europe that is making progress in recovering from the effects of the war.

Mr. Suvada spoke very highly of the work of the Y. M. C. A. in his country. He stated that there were about 37 centers organized and are directed by native secretaries, who were trained by American associates.

Later, he addressed the Hi-Y Club, promising to return here at a later date.

Miss Rhon Church, of Birmingham, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stoll Jr. of Lansing, and of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wheat, of the same place, recently.

POLICE NEWS

Two truck drivers appeared in local justice court here this week in answer to the charge of driving overloaded trucks. A representative of the Smith Truck Co. of Detroit, paid a fine of $10 and Albert Garrison, also of Detroit, paid a $10 fine.

Orders have been issued by the Oakland County Road Commission to the effect that all trucks driving on state roads, whether gravel or concrete, should be limited to one-half their regular load, because of the soft condition of highways at this time of the year. Judge Buck stated late this week that truck drivers should keep this in mind as they will be cited into court and fined if they carry more than one-half of the usual load.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Wilcox of Pinckney avenue, Detroit, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George R. Averill of Poppleton avenue.

Mrs. Gusta Damanteller, of the Quarton Road, is expected to return to her home today. She has spent the greater part of this winter in California.

THE COURT OF PUBLIC OPINION

By HARRY E. VEDDER, D. C., Ph. C., Professor and Author of Chiropractic Physiology

To the man who says, "It can't be done" the world owes little. The outstanding figures in the progress of all time are the men who conceived ideals and discovered principles which at first brought either bitter sarcasm or withering scorn.

Not many years ago we turned a deaf ear to the possibilities of the wireless. Then came the day when we admitted it as a fact for children in the home. Today millions of Americans are addicts of the tuning coil and listen to almost any kind of entertainment or instructive talk we want. We jump with startling rapidity from Los Angeles to New York, and from New Orleans to Winnipeg. The movement is still in its infancy, and its possibilities have not been dreamed.

Yet, in the face of all our experience, we still shun a change from the old accepted order of things. It isn't until it becomes the vogue that we suddenly awake to its value. In the year 1895 a man named D. D. Palmer person in the world. For years, against overwhelming odds, a tremendous struggle was waged. It was a struggle to break through the barriers of prejudice and gain a decent hearing in the court of public opinion.

And finally the end has been gained. No longer is the word Chiropractic a meaningless one. It is gaining in public favor by leaps and bounds. Already there are eighteen thousand men and women practicing Chiropractic and their followers reach into millions. This astounding growth has been made possible because the world has learned that no system is more effective in matters of health than this. It has learned that the Chiropractor takes nothing from, nor adds anything to, the perfect mechanism with which all men are endowed by God; that adjustments of the reasonable method of regaining health and that ninety-five per cent of disease responds unflinchingly to proper adjustments.

Plenty of Cottage Cheese For the Kids

Active, energetic children should have an abundance of nourishing, muscle-building food. Cottage Cheese fulfills all the requirements. It is relished by young and old. It possesses "vitamines"—that wonderful substance found only in dairy products— which promotes health and strength. Cottage Cheese is far more economical than meat.

Use more of cheese and less of meat. The health of your family will increase and the H. C. L. will drop.
