NEW WELL TO BE DEVELOPED BY NEXT WEEK

Belief Expressed That New Water Supply Will Fulfill Expectations

WILL NOT AFFECT ECO

To Install Permanent Pump As Soon As Tests Of Volume Are Completed

Actual drilling operations on the new 18-inch well being sunk on Village property at Lincoln and South Woodward avneues has been completed, and testing and developing of the well will be started by the middle of next week, according to D. D. Goodwin, representative of the Layne & Bowler Co., which is doing the work.

"I fully expect that this well will deliver upwards of 350 gallons of water per minute when it is completed," declared Mr. Goodwin yesterday. "We have gone down a depth of 145 feet, 25 feet of which is in good water-bearing gravel. Everything so far leads me to believe that plenty of water is available. We will start today to install a test pump. By the end of next week we ought to know just how much water can be delivered. I will then notify the factory and they will at once manufacture a pump to deliver the amount of water shown available by our test. Within two weeks from the completion of the test we should have the permanent electrically driven pump installed and the entire equipment ready to turn over to the Village for acceptance."

When asked if he thought this new well would interfere with the water works system in Eco City, Mr. Goodwin replied, "I think not. Eco City's well is too far away to be bothered by Birmingham's new well, even though both of them were getting water from the same strata."

The installation of an elevated tank was recommended by Mr. Goodwin, who declared that this method of water storage was far superior to any other known, and especially economical when used in conjunction with an electrically driven pump.

GREAT LAUGH ON DANCE FANS AS 'LIVE BABY' IS GIVEN AWAY

Monday night of last week, ambitious dance fans of Oakland county rushed to the Majestic Academy at Pontiac to witness a spectacular event, which to them was hitherto unheard of.

The dancing master, Tom Gordon, who teaches at the academy, announced that a real baby was to be given away to the holder of a lucky coupon, these coupons to be distributed to the dancers in the course of the evening.

At half past ten o'clock there appeared on the scene a little, red-haired girl—whom Mr. Gordon called "the red-headed cross nurse" who was to give the baby away. Great was the astonishment when the winner, a local girl who wishes her name withheld, found that the baby was a little black and tan hound dressed up like a little girl.

LOCAL CITIZEN, DESCENDED FROM JOHN AND PRISCILLA ALDEN, DIES

After three days' confinement to his bed following an attack of heart failure, Avin G. Brooks of 216 North Woodward avenue, passed away last Friday at noon. He was 71 years old, and, besides his widow, leaves a son, B. F. Brooks, with whom he lived, and a sister and a brother, Mrs. Lucy Williams and Fred F. Brooks of Oshkosh, Wis. The body was taken to Oshkosh last Sunday. Funeral services were conducted Monday under the auspices of the Odd Fellows Lodge, of which order Mr. Brooks was a member. Burial took place in a cemetery there.

Mr. Brooks was born in Oshkosh Oct. 29, 1852. He came to Birmingham three years ago after having spent 15 years as a resident of Everett, Wash. A great part of his life had been spent in the hardware business.

He complained of his heart Sunday of last week, but was not compelled to go to bed until Wednesday following. No funeral service was held here.

Mr. Brooks claimed the distinction of being a direct descendant of John and Priscilla Alden, the couple made famous by Longfellow's poem, "The Courtship of Miles Standish." His mother was Julia Ann Alden, seventh descendent from Priscilla.

"My parents moved to Wisconsin in 1842," Mr. Brooks once related to the Eccentric. "My father was a surveyor in the employ of the government. We lived in a thirty-foot log house in the midst of the primitive wilds. Indians of the Chippewa tribe lived about us on all sides. We were three miles from any white men.

"There were no windows in the log house. We had to use partitions made of carpets. The women cooked the meals on a log fire out-of-doors. I remember one time—I was about five years old—when five Indian chiefs came to our place and lived for five days in a log barn near the house. Before they left they smoked a pipe of peace with my father, after which they gave him the pipe as a present.

"And say, do you know," he continued with a chuckle, "I tried for 30 years to steal that same pipe from my brother, who is in Wisconsin—but my brother won it from me!"

Mrs. Brooks will return this week to the home of her son on North Woodward avenue.

CLUB DISCUSSES HOME BUILDING

Tuesday Meeting Speaker Was Detroit News Architect Of "Straphanger" House

STATE MEET NEXT WEEK

The meeting of the Woman's Literary Club held last Tuesday at the Community House was well attended and a very interesting program was presented by the Home Economics Department.

Mr. Ditchie, Detroit News Straphanger architect, who was introduced by Mrs. T. B. Smith, spoke on "The Little House." Mr. Ditchie's pipe presented the historical background and then the problem of building a small house. Much help and stimulus were received by those interested in trying to achieve the home beautiful." Mrs. Parmenter received the floor plans submitted by the members. These will be judged by a committee and a prize is to be awarded at the next meeting for the best laid plans.

Ruth Maynard sang "I Have a Little Cottage," very effectively, her accompaniment being played by Mrs. Singerman.

Next week there will be no meeting because of the convention of the State Federation of Woman's Clubs at Detroit. The state convention will meet Oct. 16-19 in the Baptist church, corner of Woodward avenue and Winder street. General subjects will be taken up in the sessions and specific subjects will be discussed at various luncheons. It is announced that Tuesday evening will be the most impressive, it being President's Night. Dr. Leroy Burton of University of Michigan, and another well known speaker on international affairs will speak that evening. Wednesday evening is the only session which will be closed to the public. Mrs. J. H. Rosso will give further information, particularly to those who desire to join a group going to a session.

A Sermon From A Local Pulpit

Delivered last Sunday by Rev. T. J. Edwards, Baptist Church

"A look backward and a look forward will help us to get a proper estimate of ourselves. The fall and the rise of nations has been a tragic drama in the development of our present civilization. Our foundations are in blood and our glory has been bathed in tears.

"What we know of the past is for the most part confined to the records of the Bible, except what has been turned up by the spade—most of which only confirms the word of God. The span between Adam and Noah is mostly hidden from our sight, though we are assured that a civilization of a high order then prevailed.

"The peoples after the days of Noah and the flood enter upon the building of cities and the subjection of the earth, so that when we reach the days of Babylon, we realize that great forces have been in operation for centuries which produced such an empire with its world king and its universal dominion. The petty tribes and nations by conquest had been brought under subjection to King Nebuchadnezzar whom the Bible, in the Book of Daniel, sees as the first world emperor in relation to the history of the Jewish people.

"It was of Nebuchadnezzar that Daniel says, 'Thou, O king, art a king of kings; for the God of Heaven hath given thee a kingdom, power and strength and glory. And wheresoever the children of men dwell, the beasts of the field and the fowl of the heaven hath he given into thy hand, and hath made thee ruler over them all.' It was this king who was allowed to take into captivity the Jewish people, after they had greatly sinned and turned from the living God. Here the fall of the Jews took place and here their captivity began which has lasted through the centuries and will continue till, as Jesus said 'the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.' Thus the record tells us that the 'Lord gave Jehoiakim, King of Judah, into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar, with part of the vessels of the house of God: which he carried into the house of his god, into the land of Shinar.' From this time onward, the Jews were a subject people, till after the crucifixion of Christ, they were gradually scattered to the ends of the earth. Broken as a nation but preserved as a people.

"History has never yet produced the spectacle of this man image standing erect upon its feet of iron and clay with ten kingdoms at one and the same time carrying the weight of mighty man, breathing the spirit and exerting the power of the past. The Bible is very explicit. These ten toes answer to the ten horns on the head of the fourth beast, namely the Roman Empire and we are told that they must reign at one and the same time. What are we to expect then but the revival of the near East. For as the mighty genius of the West in discovery, invention, industry and commerce plays into that dead world, it will be revived and come back with power. If its moral power is not equal to its material and selfish power then we shall see the most gigantic monstrosity of over the interpretation of God's all the world—a Beast filled with the spirit and energy of the Devil which none can destroy except omnipotence in the out-pouring of His wrath.

"The divine view of the mystery of the progress and crisis of the world must be found in God's dealing with His earthly chosen people which are the Jews. The Bible abounds with prophecies already literally fulfilled through the stretch of centuries regarding this people and abounds in prophecies yet to be literally fulfilled with regard to them and the final purposes of the Almighty. They are the miracle people of the world, originating with Abram in Ur of the Chaldees, in spite of failure and judgment and wanderings and persecutions, they remain a people scattered over the whole world who have a national consciousness which stirs them to long for their own land. And though they have been held in bondage or scattered and persecuted, still as in the days of the first world monarch, Daniel the Prophet gave the interpretations of the dreams of is gone. But the feet of iron and

Fifty New Books Added To Library

During the last two months more than 50 books have been given to the Baldwin Public Library, some of which are: "William DeMorgan and His Wife" by Stirling; "Sea and the Jungle," by Tomlinson; "American-ization of Edward Bok," an autobiography; "Old Wives' Tales," by Bennett; "Alice for Short," by De-Morgan; "Poems," by Rupert Brooks; "Redpath's History of the World"; "Greeley's American Conflict"; "Lucrelia Borgia," by Gregorovius; "Robespierre," by Bellow; "Path to Rome," by Belloc; "Land of Poco Tiempo," by Lummis; "My Harvest," by Whiting; "Bahaism, the Modern Social Religion," by Halley; "Cape Cod Stories," by Lincoln; "Hoosier School Master," Eggleston; "Resurrection," Tolstoi; "Forsaken Inn," Anna Katherine Green Rohlfs; "Nutrition and the Growth in Children," Emerson; "Meeting Your Child's Problems," by Scott; "Spending the Family's Income," by Donham; "Home-making Simplified," Streeter; "Fires of Ambition," Gibbs.

The Library Board and the librarian especially appreciate such books as these and extend their thanks for the people of Birmingham to Mrs. Frank Carter, Mrs. L. A. White, Mr. L. Barnes and Mr. MacPherson, the donators.

Several books recently purchased, now in circulation at the Baldwin Public Library, are: "White Flag," by Porter; "Tomorrow at This Time," Grace Livingston Hill Lutz; "Dr. Nye," by Lincoln; "Fortune's Fool," Sabatini; "In the Wake of the Buccaneers," Verrill; "Lengthened Shadows," Locke; "Tetherstones" Dell; "Middle of the Road," Gibbs; "Lost Lady," Cather; "Money, Love and Kate," Porter.

the Gentile King, so the Jew must get over the interpretation of God's hidden plan for all the kings and peoples of the earth.

"When Daniel, the young Jewish captive, held the key of the world's history in his mind and gave it to us through Nebuchadnezzar, on the threshold of the mystical wanderings of his own people and the strange life of the nations, he simply interpreted the dream of the King which the King could not recall and thus outlined the history of 'Man on a Man.' The Man image with the golden head, the arms of silver, the thighs of brass and the legs of iron with the feet of iron and clay mixed, was the broad outline of the history of the times of the kings of earth, into whose hands God had put sovereignity, while the Jews are under Judgment. Babylon, represented by the golden head, is gone. Media Persia, represented by the arms of silver is gone. The abdomen and thighs of brass, representing the Grecian Empire, is gone. The iron legs representing the Roman Empire in its Eastern and Western sections, is gone. But the feet of iron and clay—a mixture of Monarchy and Democracy—are still to be found in Europe and the ten toes have not appeared. The spirit of those definitions still lives. The Bible is explicit that the 'stone cut out of the mountains without hands will strike the man image on the feet.'"

PUBLIC WEDDING HELD LAST NIGHT

Big Crowd Sees Couple Married At I. O. O. F. Carnival

VOTE CONTEST RESULTS

Before an immense crowd that packed the grounds on Pierce street last night, Miss Beatrice Dobson of Detroit, and James Snowden of Redford, were united in marriage, and thus closed the fourth of six festive days of the Odd Fellows' Carnival in Birmingham. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. H. Curry. The newlyweds were given a present of $100 and a gold wedding ring, donated by Leon Mix, local jeweler.

Gaily decorated with flags draped from stores and various other buildings in Birmingham, the carnival started last Monday evening and proved a great drawing card for hundreds who have nightly made their appearance at the grounds. Twenty booths of all kinds, moving pictures, dancing, prize drawings and band concerts are some of the popular features of the occasion. According to T. C. Hotelling, chairman of the carnival committee, the present success of the attraction may warrant the putting on of another affair next year.

The popular voting contest for the Queen of the Carnival, the Prettiest Girl and the Most Popular Girl came to a close Monday noon. The contest waxed hot and campaigners for the various candidates turned in many unexpected votes at the last moment, which caused some upsets in the previous reports. Miss Lucile Campbell won out over all other contestants for the position of Queen, receiving 26,780 votes against the next highest contestant's 20,090. Miss Campbell was formally crowned Monday evening, and was presented at the time with a gold watch. She holds court in one of the booths, and makes all the prize presentations. Miss Zella Andrews was elected the Prettiest Girl with 23,310 votes cast in her favor. She also received a gold watch, and acts as one of the Queen's assistants during the Carnival. Miss Wilma Dawson was proclaimed the Most Popular Girl by a vote of 25,100 against her closest opponent's 15,385. Miss Dawson was given a gold wrist watch, and also acts as an attendant of the Queen.

The Carnival will continue tropay until midnight Saturday, and on the last day there will be a prize drawing, the winner to receive an Overland Sedan.

FANATIC WHO STOLE 4 CHILDREN SOUGHT

ONE GIRL ESCAPES FROM ATTACKER IN SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP

Detroit police are still seeking the man who is alleged to have enticed four children into his motor car last Monday night and taken them out Grand River avenue. The children were Murray Ross, 8 years old; Marvin Ross, 11; Pearl Ross, 12, and Mary Roberts, 10, all of Detroit. The Ross children, according to their story, escaped from the automobile near Farmington and their cries attracted the attention of farmers who, on hearing their story, notified the deputies at Farmington.

May Roberts, who was held by the driver of the auto, later escaped uninjured, and found help at the D. Bailey farm, a mile west of Franklin in Southfield township.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Doying, of Merrill street, spent the week end with Mr. Doying's mother, Mrs. Mary Doying at Caro.

Yum! Yum! Yum! Read This, Gents

In accordance with the usual policy of the Senior Class of Baldwin high school, a "new idea" is to be engendered to add to the swelling of the Washington Group Fund. On Saturday, Oct. 20, from 6:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m., a delightful old-fashioned pancake breakfast is to be served to the public at the Baldwin high cafeteria. The best chefs, namely, W. S. Teotheker and Miss Eloise Carnahan, have offered their services and it is said their reputations should prove as an inducement, barring the promised super-qualities of the breakfast itself.

The menu is to be as follows: Old-fashioned pancakes with maple syrup, fruit, hot muffins, fried cakes and coffee.

"All Men Are Created Equal"—

By Edgar Sells, Senior

Are we out of the shadow? Are we at the dawning of a new day in our gridiron history? The scores of our first two games say no! "Figures don't lie," the saying goes, yet any interested observer must have noticed the difference between this year's team and last. For it is as marked as sunlight and shadow.

For the past two years Birmingham teams have been handicapped by so-called stars of various magnitudes. The rest of the team seemed only an excuse for this favored few to don moleskins and bask in the glowing rays of public admiration. People tatended games to see these spectacular performers "do their stuff" but, worse yet, the rest of the team knew it and their play showed it. Though their assistance was of less value that that of some other members of the squad, the absence of one of them seemed to hurt the morale of the whole team. The indifference in regard to training rules was usually due to the example set by this constellation.

As we said before, those days seem gone. Under the instruction of Coach Van Winkle the boys are rapidly becoming a well-balanced team, a team that does everything well. But, better yet, they have come to realize that there are eleven men on the team and that the failure of any one of them is weakening the whole team. Instead of having a titled class, the common and the serfs as of yore there is one big family fighting for the places they want. Mr. Lincoln's speech has at last come home to the helmeted aggregation of B. H. S. and in their play is seen the spirit those great words reflect—"All men are created equal."

ST. JAMES' FAIR ATTRACTS MANY

Second Annual Fete Of Local Church Run Off Without a Hitch

WEATHER FAVORABLE

The second annual St. James' Fair, held last Saturday afternoon and evening on West Maple avenue, surpassed the previous one by a very great margin, and was a decided success. The weather this year was favorable and the pretty booths, which could not be built outside last year on account of the rain, helped to make a greater success than was expected. No actual figures as to the profit have as yet been given out, but at the meeting which will be held at the church next Wednesday, the figures will be made known.

The luncheon at noon was the opening of the fair and was attended by a large number. During the afternoon the booths were popular. Mrs. Irwin Neff presided over the "white elephant booth," and Miss Betty Harris, old records; Mrs. N. T. Shaw, baked goods; Mrs. Louis Hupp, linens; Miss Marion Peters, balloons; Mrs. A. W. McClintock, candy; Mrs. John Williams, pop corn balls; Mrs. E. G. Menahan, ice cream cones, and Mrs. Nelson Whittemore, afternoon refreshments. A particularly pretty booth was that of St. Margaret's Guild, with their display of baby clothes. Another interesting feature was the postoffice, with Mrs. H. A. O'Dell and Mrs. Frank Briscoe in charge. The men helped the women by clerking and taking charge of the country store.

In the evening, a dinner was served under the supervision of Mrs. W. W. Giles, assisted by Mrs. Walter Morley. After dinner, dancing commenced with a host of dancers attending. Music was furnished by one of Frizel's orchestras. Mrs. Loren Stauch was chairman of the dance committee.

Grid Boys To Play Northville Today

LOCAL BOYS ASK BIG TURNOUT AT BARNUM FIELD GAME THIS AFTERNOON

Birmingham boys have lost three games this fall but are not discouraged. Rather, they are fighting all the harder and are firmly resolved to soon put a game on the right side of the ledger. Northville comes here Friday with a fast eleven and the struggle promises to be one worth watching. Let us duplicate the crowd and the "pep" shown at the Highland Park game and our boys will emerge with their first victory. Game called at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. George W. Corns, graduate of the Detroit Conservatory of Music, has resumed her classes in Piano Instruction. Telephone 232-M or call at 224 Lincoln Ave. adv25

FORM A BOARD OF COMMERCE HERE, IS PLAN

Open Meeting Of Business and Professional Men Called For Tuesday

DISCUSS ADVERTISING

All Citizens Asked To Be At Johnston-Shaw Hall To Express Opinions

Plans for an open meeting of Birmingham business and professional men, at which time discussions will be held relative to the advertising of Birmingham in Detroit newspapers, and the outlining of a method to form a local Board of Commerce, were made this week. The meeting will take place next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Johnston-Shaw hall. Every citizen who is interested in Birmingham is invited to attend.

"Our committee, which has been engaged for several weeks in canvassing local businessmen for funds to advertise Birmingham in Detroit newspapers, has come to the conclusion that an open meeting should be held to allow those who contribute to speak their minds regarding where and how the money shall be spent," declared J. H. Sheridan, chairman, this week. "Some are of the opinion the advertising stunt should be delayed until next spring, while others believe that part of the funds raised should be used now and the rest in the spring. In order to satisfy all we have called this meeting."

Mr. Sheridan also stated that now would be a good time to form a Board of Commerce, inasmuch as many local merchants have been expressing a desire for such an institution for many months past. This matter will be brought up for discussion next Tuesday evening, and a committee may be appointed to go into the matter in detail.

Due to the absence of Mr. Sheridan, who will be away on a hunting trip, Glenn Begole, of Palmer-Begole Co., will act as chairman of the meeting. A full attendance is desired, which will show the citizens of the town, whether they are in business or not, it was said.

FIVE DRAW FINES IN LOCAL COURT

WAYNE COUNTY RESIDENTS ARRESTED FOR VIOLATION OF TRAFFIC LAWS

Speeding and driving without taillights caused the appearance of five drivers in the local police court this week. George Yakelmas, 174 Hewitt street, Hamtramck, and Anthony Klyalowicz, Hamtramck, paid fines and costs of $5 for speeding on Southfield avenue. Charles R. Hamlett made the arrests.

The Independent Cartage Co., of Detroit, paid fines and costs amounting to $27.60 on two charges of driving trucks without tail-lights. Officer Stokes made the arrests. He also arrested Glenn Flater, 334 Bennaville avenue, Wyandotte, for speeding on Southfield avenue. Flater paid $15 in fines and costs.

Eco City Church Near Completion

The Bennaville Avenue Congregational church is nearing completion and is being used to good advantage. Last Friday evening the congregation gave a social at, and aside from the fact that everyone had a very enjoyable time, a large sum was realized for the building fund. The church is being started in a very economical way. Volunteer labor is being erected, and it is to be used during the week by the community for lectures, social events and public gatherings, of all kinds. There will be a large dining room in the basement.

A social is to be held tonight to which the entire community is invited.

The plan is to have a social or some kind of entertainment every Friday evening unless it is utterly impossible. A harvest supper is planned for Oct. 27th, with special music and entertainment.

There has been a very fine response from the people, and the attendance at church and school services has increased every Sunday. The ladies have held some very enthusiastic meetings so far and are planning and working very earnestly. They meet every Thursday afternoon in the church at 1:00 o'clock and make garments, crochet or knit. The heartiest of welcomes is extended to everyone to attend all of these meetings and social affairs.

Last Thursday evening a very unusual dinner was given at the Presbyterian church. The Ladies Church Society, Division No. 2, sent to Detroit and secured the services of the well-known Associated Manufacturers' dinner. The manufacturers provided a complete and healthful dinner and between courses, health talks concerning proper foods were given to the one hundred and seventy-five guests who were present. The manufacturers receive nothing but the advertisement and the proceeds of the dinner are clear profit.
