Theatres

At The Baldwin Theatre

The Goldwyn-Cosmopolitan super-feature, photo-play "Enemies of Women," will be the feature film attraction at the Baldwin Theatre for three days starting next week Monday, October 15th.

The usual two performances each day. The first at 6:45 and the second at 9 p. m.

Patrons of the theatre are asked to come as early as possible so as to avoid the crowd later in the evening.

Special attention is called to the fact that Vaudeville will again be given with the usual photo-play program on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

At The Garrick

Jane Cowl brings to the role of "Juliet," youth, beauty and power to charm in the recent-breaking Selwyn-Adolph Klausem production coming to the Garrick Theatre for a week's engagement commencing Monday evening, October 15th.

The short Western tour limited to eight weeks, now being undertaken for this remarkable contribution follows close upon the unparalleled New York engagement, the longest consecutive Shakespeare run in the history of the theatre throughout the world.

At High School Monday

The realistic and vivid storm and flood scene ever presented upon the screen will be seen at the Baldwin Theatre next Monday evening when William Fox will present for the first time here the new Harry Hilliard picture, "The Town That Forgot God."

The spectacular climax of "The Town That Forgot God" is the crowning achievement of a blending of both storm and flood and several houses in flames in the background.

To produce this tremendous climax, fifty-two buildings were erected in a valley in a remote section of New Jersey.

Twenty-one thousand cubic feet of concrete, 140,000 feet of lumber, and 210,000 shingles were used.

concrete dam, 21 feet in height, was erected in this valley, accumulating 6,200,000 gallons of water, which were let loose for the flood scene.

JARVIS STANTON ATTRACTED TO FARMER BECAUSE OF HIS OWN EARLY STRUGGLES TO MAKE A LIVING—HAS HAD WIDE EXPERIENCE

Born nearly fifty years ago in Nashville, Michigan, Mr. Stanton's career emphasizes the saying that "you cannot keep a good man down."

At sixteen, Stanton was attracted to the farm following, and once more he was sent back to the plow.

Of spare, active build, overflowing with enthusiasm and vitality, Mr. Stanton has been aptly named the "human dynamo" by his conferees.

When the world war broke out, the National Guard units of Illinois, as in other states, were taken into the U. S. Army.

Home Guards were organized throughout the state and he at once enlisted as a private in the U. S. Army.

Real estate transactions claimed the major portion of his time in the past few years, and he has accumulated considerable property.

Since that time success has rewarded his ceaseless energy and unswerving honesty, and he has been advanced to high executive positions in national organizations.

Yet-it is perfectly, practicable for every mistress of a home to possess the same privilege and enjoy the comfort and leisure that goes with it.

Your washing, your ironing, your sweeping, your cooking, and many another domestic task, can be done by electrical servants that occupy little space, that do their work efficiently, that never tire or complain, and that claim but a trifling share of your household expense.
