The Smaller the Cottage the Larger the Love

So goes the old saying. And it is more easily accomplished today than in olden times, because the small modern cottage of today can have all the conveniences and comforts of an elaborate mansion and still be constructed at a moderate cost.

The above design is one of the coziest little cottages our Architectural Bureau has ever produced. Small though it is, there is no waste space and a surprising amount of room is enclosed in its four walls, with modern facilities to enjoy every inch of it.

comedy. On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday August 4th, 5th, and 6th glittering Gloria Swanson will be the attraction in her latest Paramount feature, "A Society Scandal" which is said to be even better than "The Humming Bird" which was Swanson's outstanding success last season. A Pathe Comedy and the regular Pathe News will also be shown on these days.

For the last three days of the week the management of the theatre will present "The Code of the Sea." A comedy, the Pathe News and Aesop's Fables will round out the bill. Announcement is also being made at the theatre that owing to redecorating, repairs and installation of the new stage equipment, the theatre will close for two weeks starting Monday, August 12th. Sunday August 13th for this season. The theatre will again re-open on Sunday, August 31st, with the regular program for the season of five standard vaudeville acts and the very best in feature photo-plays and sound musicals. It is stated that what was required and not close for at least two weeks so that the many patrons of this popular theatre could have the comforts and conveniences that only a theatre such as the Baldwin can give.

Among the many new attractions already booked for the coming season are "The Covered Wagon," "Wanderers of the Wasteland," "The Arab," "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," "Jackie Robinson," "The Italian Circus," "Screamdown," "Rudolph Valentino in 'Monte Beaucaire,'" and others. The theatre will only the very biggest and best theatres in Detroit and in other big cities.

Ann Harding in "Mary The 3rd" at Garrick Theatre. Miss Ann Harding, who returns to the Bonstelle company next Monday night to take the place of Katherine Alexander, will be provided with an unusual role in "Mary, the 3rd," the Rachel Crothers' human document, which will be the attraction that week. She will be seen as Mary, the role in which Marjorie Byron elicited the praise of critics in Detroit last season.

Miss Crothers is well known to the audience as a writer of plays that strike straight to the heart—honestly, sincerely and honestly. Her plays are relieved with natural comedy. In "Mary the 3rd" she gives us unusual characters, Granny Mother, Mary the 3rd, Father, Bobby Lynn, Hal, Letitia, Max and Nora, all connected with family life.

In expounding her views Miss Crothers employs three generations, a rather prosaic idea, but it introduces lovers of 1870 and 1897, and the present. Youth cannot understand the consciousness of love as represented in their parents—it has its own idea, of particular interest to the daughter of the 1920s, who is introduced into womanhood, obsessed by radical theories regarding the relation of the sexes. Then, too, there is granny, always chiding the youngsters and not forgetting to scold her daughter for her laxness with the children. It is the grand-mother who tells the children that married life is not all "beer and skittles," that a quarrel sometimes clears understanding and accentuates love.

Miss Crothers gives us many pleasing and some pertinent facts on "Mary the 3rd" and after, she expounds the theory that American home life is inherently sound—today may have its ills, but every generation has its ills.
