First Presbyterian Church
We want Sunday next, December 14th, to be a memorable day. Drawing near the Christmas time and the end of another year, we are to come to that greatest of all celebrations—

"The Holy Sacrament of the Lord's Supper." It is very desirable that every member of the church be present. Service will begin as usual at 10:30 a. m. If there are those who intend to unite with the church, will they present themselves at the meeting of the Church Session, in the Ladies' Parlor of the church, at 9:45 a. m. This is necessary if they desire to be publicly welcomed at the 10:30 service. The evening service begins at 7:30 and a full attendance is desired. The attendance last Sunday evening was very prompt. The pastor will speak on, "How Christ can satisfy all your needs."
Benaville Congregational Church

into which the country was divided for the purpose.
Distributors and dealers over the whole southeast section of the country gathered at Atlanta, Georgia. Other meetings have been held at Cincinnati and Philadelphia and still others are scheduled for Minneapolis, San Francisco and Dallas. Altogether incidental to the purposes of the meetings, each session thus far held has brought out a universal conviction among those in attendance that general business is on a very decided upgrade and prospects in all lines of business are very bright for next year.
When Packard had only a limited production of cars with a corresponding limited market, the sales organization was much smaller and distributors and dealers with their salesmen visited the factory often. With the tremendously broadened market created by the Packard six and the Packard eight the distributing organization now has so big that old time meetings in Detroit are no longer practical.
