

HENRY W. BOOTH TELLS OF THE EVILS OF DRINK

the olden time. And I remember the terrible treading that rum and whisky received...

NOVEMBER 24, 1901.

Drinking Customs on Board of Large Ocean Steamers, also in Hotels and Restaurants Throughout the United States and Scotland Compared with the Same Customs as They Obtain in the United States and Some of Laic's Own Experiences.

I was appalled at the drinking which I saw among the poor women and young girls in the streets of England. The results seemed to be worse in Scotland—doubtless because they drink more whisky...

JULY 27, 1902.

Having Written an Article on "The Old Game of Whisky and Rum, as Closed with Some Reference to Base Ball and Beer, he Responds to this last named Feature here.

I do not now drink beer, neither have I ever drunk whisky or rum of base ball. That fact, however, shall not prevent my telling the experience of a base ball player...

NOVEMBER 24, 1901.

As in the United States, so in Great Britain there has been no diminution of the traffic in rum and whisky...

have been evils connected with horse racing. And when these evils appear and are not met by a law, it is not to discriminate and keep away...

NOVEMBER 24, 1901.

Drinking Customs on Board of Large Ocean Steamers, also in Hotels and Restaurants Throughout the United States and Scotland Compared with the Same Customs as They Obtain in the United States and Some of Laic's Own Experiences.

It is true that a little change has come over the drinking customs of America since 1851, when the first world's fair was opened in London...

JULY 27, 1902.

Having Written an Article on "The Old Game of Whisky and Rum, as Closed with Some Reference to Base Ball and Beer, he Responds to this last named Feature here.

I do not now drink beer, neither have I ever drunk whisky or rum of base ball. That fact, however, shall not prevent my telling the experience of a base ball player...

NOVEMBER 24, 1901.

As in the United States, so in Great Britain there has been no diminution of the traffic in rum and whisky...

shows up as follows: The first coffee house in Europe was opened at Constantinople in 1551; the first in America in 1652; the first in this country in 1872...

AUGUST 21, 1904.

No. 20.—Taking Bishop Potter's Lecture Subj. Taverns for a Test, and How to Deal with Them. Historically and Practically, and Presents His Own Scheme of Prohibition for England or Ireland.

The present discussion throughout the country of the evils of drinking is opening a social "moderate" service, affords another opportunity for me to again air my views of the subject...

NOVEMBER 24, 1901.

Drinking Customs on Board of Large Ocean Steamers, also in Hotels and Restaurants Throughout the United States and Scotland Compared with the Same Customs as They Obtain in the United States and Some of Laic's Own Experiences.

It is true that a little change has come over the drinking customs of America since 1851, when the first world's fair was opened in London...

JULY 27, 1902.

Having Written an Article on "The Old Game of Whisky and Rum, as Closed with Some Reference to Base Ball and Beer, he Responds to this last named Feature here.

I do not now drink beer, neither have I ever drunk whisky or rum of base ball. That fact, however, shall not prevent my telling the experience of a base ball player...

NOVEMBER 24, 1901.

As in the United States, so in Great Britain there has been no diminution of the traffic in rum and whisky...

With the drinking of ardent spirits and of coffee and tea in Great Britain the first coffee house in Europe was opened at Constantinople in 1551...

AUGUST 21, 1904.

No. 20.—Taking Bishop Potter's Lecture Subj. Taverns for a Test, and How to Deal with Them. Historically and Practically, and Presents His Own Scheme of Prohibition for England or Ireland.

The present discussion throughout the country of the evils of drinking is opening a social "moderate" service, affords another opportunity for me to again air my views of the subject...

NOVEMBER 24, 1901.

Drinking Customs on Board of Large Ocean Steamers, also in Hotels and Restaurants Throughout the United States and Scotland Compared with the Same Customs as They Obtain in the United States and Some of Laic's Own Experiences.

It is true that a little change has come over the drinking customs of America since 1851, when the first world's fair was opened in London...

JULY 27, 1902.

Having Written an Article on "The Old Game of Whisky and Rum, as Closed with Some Reference to Base Ball and Beer, he Responds to this last named Feature here.

I do not now drink beer, neither have I ever drunk whisky or rum of base ball. That fact, however, shall not prevent my telling the experience of a base ball player...

NOVEMBER 24, 1901.

As in the United States, so in Great Britain there has been no diminution of the traffic in rum and whisky...

With the drinking of ardent spirits and of coffee and tea in Great Britain the first coffee house in Europe was opened at Constantinople in 1551...

AUGUST 21, 1904.

No. 20.—Taking Bishop Potter's Lecture Subj. Taverns for a Test, and How to Deal with Them. Historically and Practically, and Presents His Own Scheme of Prohibition for England or Ireland.

The present discussion throughout the country of the evils of drinking is opening a social "moderate" service, affords another opportunity for me to again air my views of the subject...

NOVEMBER 24, 1901.

Drinking Customs on Board of Large Ocean Steamers, also in Hotels and Restaurants Throughout the United States and Scotland Compared with the Same Customs as They Obtain in the United States and Some of Laic's Own Experiences.

It is true that a little change has come over the drinking customs of America since 1851, when the first world's fair was opened in London...

JULY 27, 1902.

Having Written an Article on "The Old Game of Whisky and Rum, as Closed with Some Reference to Base Ball and Beer, he Responds to this last named Feature here.

I do not now drink beer, neither have I ever drunk whisky or rum of base ball. That fact, however, shall not prevent my telling the experience of a base ball player...

NOVEMBER 24, 1901.

As in the United States, so in Great Britain there has been no diminution of the traffic in rum and whisky...

With the drinking of ardent spirits and of coffee and tea in Great Britain the first coffee house in Europe was opened at Constantinople in 1551...

AUGUST 21, 1904.

No. 20.—Taking Bishop Potter's Lecture Subj. Taverns for a Test, and How to Deal with Them. Historically and Practically, and Presents His Own Scheme of Prohibition for England or Ireland.

The present discussion throughout the country of the evils of drinking is opening a social "moderate" service, affords another opportunity for me to again air my views of the subject...

NOVEMBER 24, 1901.

Drinking Customs on Board of Large Ocean Steamers, also in Hotels and Restaurants Throughout the United States and Scotland Compared with the Same Customs as They Obtain in the United States and Some of Laic's Own Experiences.

It is true that a little change has come over the drinking customs of America since 1851, when the first world's fair was opened in London...

JULY 27, 1902.

Having Written an Article on "The Old Game of Whisky and Rum, as Closed with Some Reference to Base Ball and Beer, he Responds to this last named Feature here.

I do not now drink beer, neither have I ever drunk whisky or rum of base ball. That fact, however, shall not prevent my telling the experience of a base ball player...

NOVEMBER 24, 1901.

As in the United States, so in Great Britain there has been no diminution of the traffic in rum and whisky...

With the drinking of ardent spirits and of coffee and tea in Great Britain the first coffee house in Europe was opened at Constantinople in 1551...

AUGUST 21, 1904.

No. 20.—Taking Bishop Potter's Lecture Subj. Taverns for a Test, and How to Deal with Them. Historically and Practically, and Presents His Own Scheme of Prohibition for England or Ireland.

The present discussion throughout the country of the evils of drinking is opening a social "moderate" service, affords another opportunity for me to again air my views of the subject...

NOVEMBER 24, 1901.

Drinking Customs on Board of Large Ocean Steamers, also in Hotels and Restaurants Throughout the United States and Scotland Compared with the Same Customs as They Obtain in the United States and Some of Laic's Own Experiences.

It is true that a little change has come over the drinking customs of America since 1851, when the first world's fair was opened in London...

JULY 27, 1902.

Having Written an Article on "The Old Game of Whisky and Rum, as Closed with Some Reference to Base Ball and Beer, he Responds to this last named Feature here.

I do not now drink beer, neither have I ever drunk whisky or rum of base ball. That fact, however, shall not prevent my telling the experience of a base ball player...

NOVEMBER 24, 1901.

As in the United States, so in Great Britain there has been no diminution of the traffic in rum and whisky...